LEAVES BRIDE'S ARMS TO SAIL FOR EUROPE WITH HOSPITAL CORPS

Impulsive Philadelphia Heiress Quits Church Fair Booth to Wed Student Fiance Just Before Ship Sails.

MISS MARIE RYON. New wife of Dr. Ralph H. Luskart, who sails tomorrow for Serbia to help fight typhus fever.

A few hours before the scheduled sailing of the ship that will take him to Serbia to fight typhus fever, Dr. Ralph H. Luskart, of this city, was married in New York today to Miss Marie Ryon, daughter of W. M. W. Ryon, an attorney of Shamokin, Pa.

Dr. Luskart was graduated last Wednesday from the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania. He and Miss Ryon had been engaged about two years.

A few weeks ago Doctor Luskart volunteered to become a member of a hospital unit being sent to Serbia, and at first it was decided that the wedding would be postponed until his return.

Some of the physicians that risk their lives in the service of humanity in war-torn Europe never return, however, and yesterday Miss Ryon and Doctor Luskart made up their minds to be married at once.

Doctor Luskart has no near relatives. His home is in Omaha, Nebraska. While studying at the university he lived at the Nu Eta Nu fraternity house, at 360 Locust street. His bride was graduated from St. Joseph's Convent last year. She is a granddaughter of Isaac and Sue May. Her grandfather made a fortune as a coal operator in Pennsylvania, and she inherited much of his wealth.

The young couple met two years ago and soon became engaged. They had planned to marry as soon as Dr. Luskart was graduated. When they suddenly decided on the wedding today, Mrs. Luskart was participating in a fair, being given for the benefit of the Octavia Presbyrian church, of which she is a member. She left her fiance in the care of others. Mrs. Luskart was a worker at the tubercule while Billy Sunday was in this city.

Dr. Luskart attended both funerals, the service over his fiance's body being delayed an hour to allow the Director to pay his last tribute to both dead heroes.

Chief Murphy, former Chiefs Baxter and Johnson and 100 other captains, bearing the scars of many battles with flames, were at the James home, and outside more than 100 persons waited for a glimpse of the coffin. After services were conducted by the Rev. Samuel B. Booth, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, the body, draped in an American flag, was borne out by Captain Stevenson and Lindsey, Assistant Captains Hoffman and Taylor, Hoekman, William Feeney, and Charles Keekler, driver of Engine Company No. 25, the chief of company. Burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

A great mass of flowers was sent to the house. Flowers were sent by Mt. Moriah Lodge, No. 135, F. and A. M.; Germanant Chapter, No. 58, R. O. M. S.; J. G. Bristle Council, No. 366, D. of L. A.; Leni Lenape Tribe, No. 3, Improved Order of Red Men; the Fire Department, the Firemen's Relief Association and the Fire Insurance Patrol. Relief Council No. 2, Jr. O. U. A. M. and other organizations bringing many floral offerings. The body was placed in the vault of St. John's church and the burial will take place tomorrow.

Chief James, who was unmarried, is survived by a brother and two sisters. He was 27 years old. Hillman, who was 20 years old, is survived by a wife and son. His name appeared on a list issued today by the Civil Service Commission as qualifying for promotion from ladder-men, at $500 a year, in fireman, at a salary of $1200.

THE Rev. William H. Smith, pastor of the Fort Richmond Episcopal Church, and the Rev. Amos D. Gelat, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, conducted the services at the Hillman home. The funeral was attended by members of Truck No. 7, Hillman's company, and delegations from the Philadelphia Fire Department, Relief Association, the Insurance Patrol, Relief Council No. 2, Jr. O. U. FIRST FIGHT IN LEGISLATURE IN ARIZONA RUM BATTLE

Speaker Criticizes Girl Stenographer and Receives Punch in Jaw.

PHOENIX, April 25.—As the culmination of the Legislature's five-months' bitter discussion of a prohibition amendment, Representative J. Goodwin and Governor Mahoney engaged in a flat fight on the floor of the Assembly today. Goodwin's assertion that the stenographer was not recording his remarks was an insult to the young woman, according to Mahoney, and he followed up his chivalrous defense with a smash to Goodwin's jaw. Goodwin peeled off his coat. Then two members interfered. Hardly two members speak to each other, so bitter has been the discussion of the prohibition law.

"MOVIES" DEPICTING THAW IN JAIL WILL BE SHOWN BY OPPONENTS

Deputy Attorney General Cook Says He Will Prove Irrational Acts—Prosecutor Seeks to Clear Stanford White's Memory.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Moving pictures of Harry K. Thaw's actions in Canada and New Hampshire, following his escape from Matteawan, will be shown in open court as part of the State's effort to prove that the slayer of Stanford White is a victim of incurable paranoia and as such should be returned to the hospital for the criminal insane. Deputy Attorney General Cook was making the necessary arrangements today to have them shown in Justice Hendrick's court. He said he believed they would help the State's case materially.

Mr. Cook declared that he intends by evidence to clear the name of Stanford White, who was shot and killed nine years ago today by the man who seeks in the Supreme Court to be declared sane. The record of Evelyn Nesbit from the time she was 12 years old until her mother brought her to New York will be introduced by the State in an effort to show that her accusations against White were untrue. Cook said he had obtained from Howard Nesbit, the woman's brother, evidence describing her career.

"Never before in all this nauseating case," Cook said, "has one word been said in behalf of Stanford White. I intend to say a word in his trial."

"I am prepared to prove that White never was sane," Cook said. "I am prepared to prove that she played Thaw against White for financial gain."

All the evidence we have heard about the alleged character of Thaw's victim came from the lips of Evelyn Nesbit. It has not been corroborated."

Dr. Noel E. Gullitt, of Manchester, N. H., was the first witness of the day. Doctor Gullitt said he was introduced to Thaw while he was in the work in New Hampshire State Reformatory with Thaw and that the slayer of White was a good conversationalist.

CAMDEN GIRL'S VALOR ON FIELD OF BATTLE WINS HER DECORATION

Miss Winifred de Mercier, Heroine of Politics Here, Received Royal Red Cross for Distinguished Service.

WINIFRED DE MERCIER

Less than three months after she left her home in Camden, and after less than 30 days' actual service on the battlefield of Flanders, Miss Winifred de Mercier has received the coveted Royal Red Cross for distinguished services. News of this comes in the official gazette published at the orders of King George, which carries the news of numerous decorations of officers from the Canadian regiments.

Miss de Mercier lived at 45 Cooper street, Camden. She was secretary to the State Dental Board for several years and lost her position about the 1st of February, when there was a reorganization of the board, following a row with State Comptroller Edwards. Previously she had aroused the enmity of several members of the board by "switching" the examination number of Dr. Donald Wye Rupert, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, after he had asserted that personal prejudice and not lack of ability had prevented him being "passed" for a license to practice at Trenton, N. J. Upon his arrival abroad, she was appointed a nurse number, Doctor Rupert secured perfect marks. When the deception was discovered at a meeting of the board, there was a row that divided it and when the chief supporter of Miss de Mercier's action failed of a reappointment on the board her salary was held up until, reading of it in the EVENING LEDGER, Governor Fielder took a hand in the matter and she was paid.

Immediately after securing her salary warrant Miss de Mercier sailed on the Orduna, which carried four 16-inch guns from the Bethlehem Steel Company for use by Great Britain in France. Upon her arrival abroad, she was appointed a nurse number, Doctor Rupert secured perfect marks. When the deception was discovered at a meeting of the board, there was a row that divided it and when the chief supporter of Miss de Mercier's action failed of a reappointment on the board her salary was held up until, reading of it in the EVENING LEDGER, Governor Fielder took a hand in the matter and she was paid.
