

ALLIES START GREAT OFFENSIVE ON FORTS ALONG DARDANELLES

Anglo-French Troops Assault Trenches as Fleet Hurls Tons of Shells Upon Turk Defenses From Straits.

Constantinople Prepares for Siege—Christians Ordered to Quit City—Ottoman Losses Reported as 20,000 Since June 28.

ATHENS, July 6.—A Mytilene dispatch says a general land and sea attack against the Dardanelles Straits was opened on Sunday by the allied forces.

Preparations are being made in Constantinople for a siege of the city, which is expected soon. "Useless" persons—those unable to participate in the military defense of the city—have been ordered to quit the capital. All Christians also have been ordered to leave.

Scutari, a city on the Asiatic coast of the Bosphorus, also has been evacuated by the civil population. The Turks have mounted guns at such positions as to be able to destroy the great Mosque of sainte Sophia as soon as the Allies enter Constantinople.

LONDON, July 6.—The British Official Press Bureau issued a statement last night giving the total Turkish casualties in the Dardanelles operations between June 28 and July 2 at 150,000 killed and 15,000 wounded.

A report from Constantinople via Berlin asserts the British have lost 10,000 men in the last 12 days' fighting around Suddul Bahr.

The Official Press Bureau tonight also made public a report from General Sir Ian Hamilton, commanding the British land forces against the Dardanelles. The report gives details of an attack by the Turks on the night of June 29 and 30. It says:

"The Turks made several heavy bomb attacks during the night, our troops twice being driven back a short distance. Early in the morning we regained these trenches by a bayonet attack. "About 5:30 a. m. two thousand Turks, moving from Kithria into a ravine, were scattered by our machine-gun fire. The Turkish losses in the Nulhak ravine are estimated at 1500 to 2000 dead.

"The Turkish attack was strongest on the right. The Turks were completely taken aback by a concealed sap constructed well ahead of our main line. The dead are lying thickly in front of this line. Some got into the sap and several across it, but they were wiped out by fire from our main parapet.

"Prisoners state three fresh battalions were employed in the main attack, which was made by the personal order of Enver Pasha, who, they assert, was in the trenches on June 29. This is confirmed by the statement of an Armenian prisoner captured on that date.

"The ground in front of our trenches in every direction was seen to be covered with Turkish dead. Patrols sent out at night report that the valleys and the ravines are full of them. There is no possible doubt that the enemy's losses have been very heavy. After checking and counter-checking reports from all sources, I put their total casualties between June 28 and July 2 at 150,000 killed and 15,000 wounded.

"Since June 28 the total amount of Turkish arms and ammunition collected is 818 rifles, 61 bayonets, 200 sets of equipment, 135,400 rounds of ammunition and 100 bombs."

UNARMED SHIPS TORPEDOED BY BRITISH, BERLIN CHARGES

Vessels Attacked by Submarines in Turkish Waters.

BERLIN, July 6.—Charges that British submarines and torpedo-boats have sunk unarmed passenger ships in Turkish waters without warning were contained in an official statement from the Admiralty today. Among the ships torpedoed, it was stated, was a hospital ship with 700 wounded aboard.

"While England condemns submarine warfare within a specified war zone as barbaric, cruel and a murderous practice, violating international law, she uses the same methods in other parts of the globe not specified as war zones," the Admiralty declared.

GREEK CABINET CLINGS TO OFFICE; RUMANIANS EXPECT SLAV VICTORY

Gounaris Ready to Defy Will of Hellenic Nation, Refusing to Yield Power to Venizelos Despite Defeat at Polls.

LONDON, July 6.—The Greek Cabinet, under Premier Gounaris, is apparently ready to defy popular opinion as expressed in the recent election, the returns of which made it evident that a vast majority of the nation is in favor of intervention on the side of the Allies.

The Athens correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends a dispatch that the Cabinet has announced that it has no intention of resigning, although the Venizelos party won the election with a clear majority of 150 in the Chamber of Deputies. Instead the Government is making every endeavor to win over the Venizelos Deputies.

The Gounaris Ministry, which is avowedly against any participation by Greece in the war, has the backing of King Constantine and the Queen, sister of the Kaiser. Against the Ministry is Eleutherios Venizelos, the Cretan lawyer, the most popular man in Greece, who resigned the Premiership because of a clash with King Constantine. He is openly for intervention in order that Greece may co-operate in the settlement of the Turkish situation when the war is ended.

Venizelos has not only the backing of the Greeks at home, but the Greeks all over the world, particularly in the United States. The election of the Chamber was postponed from June to the first week of July and later to July 21 many Greeks sent telegrams to the King and to Venizelos. Some of those to the King were very radical.

BERLIN, July 6.—Rudolf Rothelt, editor of the Vossische Zeitung, who is touring the Balkans, telegraphs from Bucharest, Rumania, that, although the Rumanian war party admits that calculations regarding the defeat of the Central Powers by the entente Allies have been inaccurate, the Rumanians are not yet convinced that the Russian bolt is shot and still expect Russia's reserve men finally to turn the scale.

Herr Rothelt says that the Rumanian Government is endeavoring to avoid committing itself on either side and to keep the door open for a later arrangement with the most opportune party. He adds that it is highly improbable that the Rumanian General Staff will permit, in the meantime, the army to march against Transylvania.

U. S. FLAG INSULTED IN BERLIN, SAYS BRITISH CORRESPONDENT

Draped With Crepe and Carried in Parade.

LONDON, July 6.—The Evening News today printed a dispatch from its Hagen correspondent, who declared Americans in Berlin are indignant because the police did not prevent an insult to the American flag on July 4. The correspondent reported that a number of German sailors, falsely representing themselves to be Americans, formed an organization styled the World Society of Friends of Truth. They paraded with the American flag draped in crepe, the correspondent said, later depositing the flag at the foot of the statue of Frederick the Great in Unter den Linden. The society held a banquet in the evening, the correspondent reported, and passed resolutions denouncing President Wilson and protesting against the exportation of American manufacturers of munitions to the Allies.

ITALIANS MOURN DR. MAZZA

Philanthropist's Life of Service Among Compatriots Ends.

Gloom pervades "Little Italy" today and hundreds of residents of the Italian colony are mournfully crowding into the little home at 794 Catherine street for the last view of the body of Dr. Menotti Mazza, probably the most widely known Italian in the city, who died Sunday, after a life of service which has endeared him in the hearts of his fellow countrymen.

The funeral tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock promises to be attended more largely than any previous funeral in "Little Italy." Mass will be said at the Catholic Church of St. Mary Magdalene, de Pazzi, 5th and Montrose streets, by Father A. Isidori. Addresses at the grave in Holy Cross Cemetery will be made by Dr. Ignazio Cortese, Dr. D. F. Cubicciotti, Dr. Vincenzo de Vergillia, Dr. Ottavio Monticelli, Dr. Thomas Pignati and others. The pallbearers will be fellow members of the Circolo Italiano and representatives of most of the prominent Italian societies will attend.

Doctor Mazza was president of the Italian General Committee, for the relief of families of Italian soldiers at the front, and was a member of the Congress of Italians which met here in 1912. He was born 46 years ago, in Calabria, Italy, and came to Philadelphia 13 years ago.

Newfoundland Troops in London

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 6.—The arrival at Liverpool Sunday of the steamship Calgarland, with the 4th Newfoundland Military contingent on board, is announced by Governor Davidson. In addition to 300 men in the military contingent, the steamer carried 30 naval reservists, bringing the number of that force recruited here up to 1130.

Cholera Sweeps Prison Camp

LONDON, July 6.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Budapest says: "It is learned on good authority that in the prisoners' camp of Debrecen, on the northeastern extremity of the Hungarian plains, 1414 cholera cases, with 311 deaths, developed between June 7 and 13. There are 17,000 prisoners in this camp, all Russians."

RUSSIANS DRIVEN BACK BY GERMANS ON 38-MILE LINE

General Mackensen Wins Victory in First Stage of Great Battle South of Lublin—Defenders Retire to Wieprz River.

PETROGRAD, July 6.—By a terrific bombardment of the Slav trenches, General Mackensen has won a temporary victory in the first stages of the great battle south of Lublin, the War Office admitted today.

From Krasnik, eastward to the Wieprz River, the Russians have been forced to retire on a 38-mile front. All day Sunday the Austro-Germans shelled the Slav trenches, hurling hundreds of thousands of projectiles and blowing out whole sections of earthworks. When these positions were no longer tenable the Russians retired upon new defensive positions less than 30 miles from Lublin.

Mackensen's right wing, however, was checked and thrown back by the Russians. Between the Wieprz River and the Bug all Austro-German attacks were beaten back with heavy losses. In one narrow sector, between Krylow and Sokal, 55 miles north of Lublin, the Russians took several hundred prisoners.

Austrian reports that the Russian army had been pierced were officially denied by the War Office.

The Russian military authorities assert that Grand Duke Nicholas' forces still hold an unbroken front and that their retreat under the continual attacks of the Teutonic troops has been successfully conducted.

It is believed here that the decisive battle in Poland will soon be fought for Warsaw. The evacuation of Lemberg as a strategic necessity is considered possible in the near future.

The following official report on recent operations was issued by the War Office at midnight:

"In the Jedwabno region (northeast of Lomza) the Germans on Saturday unsuccessfully exploded two mine chambers and then opened a violent fire at the scene of the explosion.

"On Sunday our sappers blew up a German mine gallery with success, producing a fresh outburst of fire on the part of the enemy.

"In the direction of Lublin the enemy, after stubborn fighting, on Sunday advanced in the front between Krasnik and the River Vistula.

"All the German attacks between the Wieprz and the western bank of the Bug, as well as on the latter river between the villages of Krylow and the town of Sokal, on Saturday and Sunday morning, were repulsed. We took hundreds of prisoners.

"The situation on the Bug above Sokal, on the Zlota Lipa and Dniester is unchanged.

The following report on the Caucasian operations was issued here today:

"On Saturday there was heavy firing along the Black Sea coast. In the region of Karaberd, west of the village of Akhshir, our cavalry patrols attacked two squadrons of Turkish cavalry that fled in panic pursued by our infantry."

RUSSIANS MAKE FIERCE STAND BETWEEN RIVERS

Fighting Is Desperate From Pruth to Dniester.

LONDON, July 6.—The Russians are making a desperate stand between the Rivers Pruth and Dniester. Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, reports that the fighting in southern Poland is of the most desperate character, while in the Caucasus the Russians are attacking in strong force. Austro-German sources, however, declare this effort to be a forlorn hope.

General von Linsingen's Teutonic army, after a fortnight of terrific struggles, is reported by both Vienna and Berlin to have reached the whole front of the Zlota Lipa River, in eastern Galicia.

Following is the Austrian official war statement that was given out last night: "In eastern Galicia the Teutonic allied troops under General von Linsingen, the Russian right flank are continuing."

"Near Krylow (on the Bug River), in southern Russian Poland, near the Galician border, the enemy has evacuated the western bank of the Bug and buried the village of Krylow."

Fighting is proceeding on both banks of the Upper Wieprz.

The Teutonic allied troops drove the enemy from positions north of the small River Por and advanced to Farnas and Pionka.

The western army, commanded by Archduke Joseph Ferdinand, after several days' battle, broke through the Russian front on both sides of Krasnik and drove the Russians back with heavy losses in a northerly direction. We captured 29 officers and 8000 men and took six cannons and six machine guns.

West of the Vistula River the situation is unchanged.

BERLIN REPORTS SUCCESSES IN BOTH THEATRES OF WAR

Germans Capture Russian Forest and Repulse French Attacks.

BERLIN, July 6.—German successes in both the eastern and western theatres of war are announced in today's official report from the General Staff.

On the Russian front German troops have captured a forest south of Bielo Bloto, taking 600 prisoners, while on the French front they have repulsed two attacks at Les Eparges.

The General Staff's report follows: "Southeastern war theatre—The situation is unchanged.

"Eastern war theatre—German troops this morning took by storm the strongly fortified forest south of Bielo Bloto west of the high road between Buzalki and Kalwarja. Five hundred Russians were captured.

"Western war theatre—Last night two French attacks near Les Eparges were repulsed.

The German booty taken in Priestwald (Les Eparges) has been increased by one field gun, three machine guns, an engineer supply station and a large quantity of material.

"German aviators attacked and threw bombs on the aeroplane training ground at Corcelux, east of Epinal, and on the French camp at Breilfrist, east of Krut, in the Vosges."

at Corcelux, east of Epinal, and on the French camp at Breilfrist, east of Krut, in the Vosges."

RUSSIANS PLAY FOR TIME; EVADE DECISIVE BATTLE

Grand Duke Striving to Reach Strongest Line.

PETROGRAD, July 6.—The Russian waiting game has been justified. They have evaded a general engagement while conditions were unfavorable, and meanwhile weakened the Teutons and given the Allies time to strike hard.

The military critic of the Novoe Vremya correctly explains the withdrawal on the Bug and Dniester fronts as a maneuver deliberately undertaken with the object of accepting battle under conditions best calculated to insure Russian success.

On the Vistula front the ground which offers Russians the greatest advantages is that with Brest-Litovsk as a base, with Ivanograd on the right bank and a strong army occupying flank and rear positions in relation to the right flank of the army of General Bohm Ersmoll.

The Russian steady movement northward from Zamos and southward from Grubiszew compels the Teutons to expend ever increasing forces on lengthening their line of communications, thereby weakening the main body at the moment of decisive encounter. On the other hand it is equally important for the Germans to expedite a general engagement.

RUSSIANS TURN ABANDONED TERRITORY INTO DESERT

Armies Lay Waste Region Occupied by Germans.

LONDON, July 6.—All Southern Russia between the Vistula and the Bug is being turned into a desert before the German advance, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post. The Russians, retreating before the armies of Marshal von Mackensen and the Archduke Ferdinand, are systematically arid the escape of the country people and then laying waste the land behind them.

"Russia's allies in the West may count safely on the great bulk of Germany's forces continuing to be detained on the Russian front for probably several months to come," writes the correspondent. "At present the Germans have straightened out their line and once more are advancing northward. The line is more than 150 miles in length, from the Bug to a day's march west of the Vistula."

RUSSIAN AVIATORS WRECK GERMAN MUNITION TRAIN

Bombs Destroy 30,000 Shells and Cripple Railroad.

PETROGRAD, July 6.—General von Mackensen's march toward Cholm and the operations of Archduke Joseph between the Vistula and the Bug are being greatly impeded by the successful defensive tactics adopted by the Russians.

The country is cut up by many river courses and hilly ridges and is remote from railways and modern communication. The Germans are losing heavily every day.

A giant Russian aeroplane of the Mouronetz type flew along the River San, and threw three and then seven bombs on the German train, setting them afire.

One train filled with artillery shells was exploded, 30,000 shells were destroyed, many men were killed and a long stretch of the railway was rendered useless.

Lieutenant Baske, who commanded the operations, declares the marksmanship excelled anything known in the world of aviation.

Little Girl Killed by Jitney

CHESTER, Pa., July 6.—Helen News, 5 years old, daughter of Richard News, driver for the Felton Fire Company, was run down and her neck broken by Jitney 45 at 3d and Jeffrey streets here yesterday. She died within a half-hour in the Chester Hospital. The Jitney was owned by Solomon Davis, of this city, and was driven by his son, William, 17 years old. Young Davis went to City Hall after the accident and surrendered. The News child is the second to be killed here by a Jitney in about a month.

ITALIAN TROOPS ENTER GORIZIA AS AUSTRIANS RETIRE FROM ISONZO

Further Advances in Trieste Offensive Made. Aeroplane Shells Arsenal and Escapes—Artillery Commands Plezzo.

ROME, July 6.—Unofficial reports of the Italian military operations for the last few days tell of the steady advance of the Italian troops. Detachments have even reached Gorizia, penetrated the town and retired with slight loss.

The Italians have effected a further crossing of the Isonzo. A great artillery duel in the Val d'Assio, near Lake Garda. The Italians are near Mori in force and details of Bersaglieri have entered that town.

The statement of the War Office tonight says an Italian dirigible last night bombarded and greatly damaged the arsenal and munitions factory at Trieste, returning safely.

There is no doubt that small cavalry patrols have actually entered Gorizia several times during the last ten days. There is also good authority for the statement that they have effected a further crossing of the Isonzo River before the city. Their guns are now in position on Mount Javosek, about two and one-half miles from Plezzo.

The great line of fortresses from Lake Garda to Cadore, which makes that region a second Dardanelles, is not engaged in artillery combats. The maximum intensity of fire is in the neighborhood of Val d'Assio, which is full of guns. A particularly violent duel is taking place between Fort Belvedere and Campo Felice. Neither side has yet obtained a definite advantage. The duel has been going on for a full fortnight.

On the way from Ala to Mori the Italians have passed a little beyond Serravalle, which is about two and one-half miles from Mori. The capture of which would sever the only railroad communication between Rovereto and Riva.

The Alpine plateau actually penetrated Mori from Brentonico, it is said. As was usual in this district, where the defenses of a town are in the surrounding mountains, the Alpine found no Austrian soldiers in the place. They went through the streets at the double, a subaltern at their head waving his sword and shouting:

"People of Mori—'Long live Italy!'" The astonished and delighted inhabitants opened their shutters and watched the men, who rested awhile in the chief square. Then the Italians marched out of the town. As they debouched from the lines of houses the forts of San Marco and San Antonio opened on them with shrapnel. The platoon quickly opened the extended order and dispersed. All escaped.

The following official statement was issued tonight at the headquarters of the Italian General Staff:

"In the region of the Tyrol, Trentino and Carina there has been a continuance of artillery actions, supported by small Italian detachments pushing toward the front. The Hensel fort was reached a number of times yesterday.

"Supported by continuous artillery fire, the enemy attempted to retake last night trenches on the northern slope of Val-Grande, occupied by our Alpine troops on July 5. This attack, like those preceding it, was repulsed.

"Our adversary renewed yesterday with particular violence counter-attacks against several lines of positions conquered by us on the Carso plateau. In spite of the fire of machine guns and artillery these counter-attacks were repulsed with heavy losses. We captured 300 prisoners, two field cannons, guns and munitions. According to prisoners, the Austrian losses, especially from our artillery fire, have been serious in the last few days."

ITALIAN CREEPS INTO FORT OF FEE TO LOCATE GUNS

UDINE, July 6.—The Italian troops operating against Val Piccolo, near Monte Croce Pass, being exposed recently to fire from a hidden battery they were unable to locate, an Alpine soldier volunteered to discover it.

Dressed in the uniform of a dead Austrian officer, he crept up the mountain at night and found the battery hidden in a natural grotto, the path to which was masked by the slope of the mountain.

In the early morning he retired, but was seen by a sentinel, who fired at him, supposing him to be a deserter. The Italian, however, escaped by swinging himself down the precipice. His report to headquarters enabled the Italian artillery to silence the Austrian battery that day.

AUSTRIANS HURL ROCKS DOWN ON ITALIAN TROOPS

GEVEVA, July 6.—Severe fighting is in progress on the plateaux of Cornico and Dobardo, between the Italians and the Austro-Hungarians, according to advices received here today from Innsbruck. The Austrians continue to cast down boulders and blow up hidden galleries on the advancing Italian mountaineers.

A large Italian army is reported to be marching on Piava from western Gorizia
