

PERSONS, SCENES AND THINGS NOTED HERE AND THERE IN THE DAY'S OUTPUT OF HOME NEWS

IN RUSH HOURS YOU MUST AWAIT YOUR TURN TO GRAB A JITNEY
The agitation over the jitney ordinance apparently has increased the public's fondness for that humble but extremely useful vehicle. This is a daily spectacle on the southeast side of City Hall.

THEY ALL JUMP FOR A SEAT AT ONCE
The suspension of the legal fight over the jitney seems to have delighted patrons of the "poor man's automobile." Yesterday's hot wave brought out a big throng of joy riders, who find the breezes pleasant in Mr. Ford's well-known wagon.

THE TIRED BUSINESS MAN FINDS GOLF STIMULATING, BUT NOT HEATING, THESE MUGGY DAYS
On the left we behold Louis H. Ayers, well known in the manufacturing world, doing a round at Cape May. At the right is W. N. Stevenson, president of the Bala Golf Club, taking a little exercise on the green.

SHE LIKES LONG DISTANCES
Philadelphia has many feminine swimmers of note, among whom is Miss Elsie Veight, who did the swim from Conshohocken Bridge to Flat Rock in 2 hours 58 minutes.

SOME OF THE WORKERS WHO CARRY ON ONE OF PHILADELPHIA'S BIGGEST INDUSTRIES
Their attention is entirely absorbed at present by the noon-hour lunch, which they consume out in the open air under a shed. They belong to the big army which turns the wheels at Baldwin's Locomotive Works. The firm is said to be busy on large contracts for the Allies.

KENSINGTON'S FAMILY OF FIVE GENERATIONS
In the order of age they are: Mrs. Katherine Bowman, Mrs. Mary Dawson, Mrs. Mary Hanna, Mrs. Katherine Fink and young Maxine Frank Fink, who is fortunate in having a mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and great-great-grandmother to look after him.