

ON SATURDAYS THE THOUGHTS OF THE POPULATION TURN TO SUNSHINE AND THE GREAT OUTDOORS

LEADER ON LOCAL COURTS
J. H. Mohr, of the German-town Cricket Club.

THE SURF ALWAYS PROMOTES JOLLITY
Somehow one cannot help smiling when faced by the camera man among the lapping waves.

A PENSIVE MOMENT ON THE SANDS
Black and white checks go a long way toward making an effective costume.

WHAT IS A BEACH WITHOUT A SANDPILE?
There is something grateful in the touch of the cool, moist sand against heated young bodies.

THE WEEK-END CROWD FERRYWARD WENDS ITS WAY
A typical throng, laden with suitcases, bags and packages, threading its way across Delaware avenue to the Jersey ferries.

Photo by Kelly & War.
A BELIEVER IN GOLF
E. W. Wright, Jr., on the field at Arcimink.

A SEA COW CAUGHT INSTEAD OF A DRUMFISH
This monster ocean sunfish (or sea cow) was caught beneath the Wildwood Crest Ocean Pier by Walter J. Sealey, of Philadelphia. Mr. Sealey had baited his line for drumfish.