POLICE, FIREMEN AND BOATMEN REMOVING BODIES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN, WHO COMPOSED BY FAR THE GREATER PORTION OF THE VICTIMS OF ONE OF THE WORST WATER DISASTERS IN HISTORY

As left, the picture shows the body of a young girl being taken aboard a tugboat from the overturned vessel. In the center is a policeman carrying away the unconscious form of a child victim. At the right is an ambulance squad removing a body which was taken from a stateroom which had been cut into through the steel plates of the hull.
