NEW TWIRLER FOR DETROIT PUTS THEM IN FLAG HUNT—"THE CRAB," BY C. E. VAN LOAN

$15,000 PITCHER FOR DETROIT CHANGES COMPLEXION OF RACE

St. Louis Comes to Assistance of Tigers in Transfer of James, First-class Twirler-Trade Is Just Like Those Which Helped Out Chicago and Boston

The sale of James, star spitball pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, to Detrolt is likely to change completely the complexion of the American League race. While it is not a fair proposition for a club to be allowed to soil a star player to a pennant contender at this stage of the contest, fans throughout the American League circuit are glad to see Jennings get this twirler, as the Red Sox and White already have been aided by the Athletics in their pennant fight, while Detroit has been fought to the finish by every team in the league.

Star pitchers are primed and rested for Detroit by every team in the league This possibly may be due to the fact that Cobb. Crawford, Veach, etc., have such reputations as sluggers, and then again it may be due to the unpopularity of the Tigers with the other teams. Detroit can always count upon facing Morton, of Cleveland; Wyckoff, of the Athletics; Johnson, of Washington, and Weilman, of St. Louis, twice in a series if it is possible for these men to be sent in for the first and last games.

Now Will Jennings Make Good His Boast to Win?

Jennings has contended from the start of the season that the Tigers would win the pennant with one more star twirler, and he has been trying to purchase one since early in May,

James is unquestionably a star when he is right, and with prospect of world's series money before him, the giant spitballer should pitch great ball for the Tigers. It remains to be seen whether or not Jennings can make good his boast to win the pennant with many games to spare, now that he has the man he

There are several ways of looking at the sale of James, however, and the baseball fans of St. Louis will be justified if they pass up the Browns until they develop a winner. There may be circumstances connected with the James case that the public knows nothing about, but on the face of it, Rickey is passing up a man who would have been invaluable to him in his process of building at St. Louis. James is young and strong and apparently has many years of first-class pitching left in him, and with a team that has not been a ennant contender since 1904, it seems like poor policy to dispose of a star for $15,000 after taking the trouble to school him for several seasons. It might also cost the Browns twice this sum finding another twirler as good as James.

Sale of James Will React on Branch Rickey

St. Louis scribes contend that Rickey's popularity in the Mound City has been on the wane for some time, and the sale of James is likely to bring forth bitter criticism. If he can come back and produce a winner all will be forgotten; but Rickey is not a Connie Mack. He has not made good nor has he ever built up a team as Mack has, and even the local wizard is criticised for his recent

Tener Now in Same Predicament as Was Lynch

Will history repeat itself in the National League's game of politics? Several years ago John T. Brush, now dead, was the owner of the New York National League team, and he virtually forced Tom Lynch on the league as president. At the time Brush declared that Lynch would make as great a president as Nick Young, but it was only two years later that Brush lined up with his enemy, Charley Murphy, and succeeded in ousting Lynch from the presidency because he found that Lynch had a will of his own,

Two years ago President Barney Dreyfuss, of Pittsburgh, was one of the stanchest supporters of President Baker, of the Phillies, who suggested Governor Tener for head of the National League. It is no secret that Dreyfuss' influence with the other magnates was much stronger than that of Baker, who was new to the game, and that he was mainly responsible for Tener finally being elected president of the league.

Barney Dreyfuss After Tener's Scalp

Now Dreyfuss is after Tener's scalp, according to rumor. The Pittsburgh magnate has been kicking quite a lot of late about the umpires and everything in general, and the climax came when, acting under Dreyfuss' orders. Fred Clarke used Rube Benton after Tener had wired that he was the property of the New York team and must not be sent to the mound for the Pirates. Dreyfuss says that he will not give up Benton and that Tener is exceeding his authority in getting into the case.

The National League has always been more or less of a political clique, | Gunboat Proves to Large Crowd That and ex-Governor Tener is learning that there are some shrewder politicians in the national game than in State politics. Will Dreyfuss continue his fight and follow the unpopular example set by the late John T. Brush?

Pirates Find Phillies Easy

Fred Clarke's Pirates may not look good and can hardly be termed a championship contender, but they appear to be able to beat the Phillies easier than any other team in the league. To date the Phillies have played 16 games with Pittsburgh and the Pirates have won 10. Early in the season Al Mamaux was the particular "jinx" to Moran's men, but now "Babe" Adams appears to be just as effective. In the past Adams has been a mark for the Phillies, but he appears to have changed his style against the local team and has been quite successful of late.

The Phillies had several chances to overhaul the Pirates yesterday, but it another was not through their ability to hit Adams. Six errors were made by the Pirates, and each served to put Adams in a bad hole. He never lost his head or control, however, and pulled out through his own clever work. The work of the Phillies on the bases made Adams' task easier just when it seemed that the Phils were going to become dangerous. Seldom have the league leaders pulled two stupid tricks as Luderus and Whitted did yesterday. The former's error of judgment was excusable, but there was no excuse for that of Whitted.

. . . Mayer Again Fails in the Pinch

Erskine Mayer tried his hand at twirling, but met with the usual fusillade of safeties before he even had time to get properly started. Mayer had pitched only one good game of ball on the home field in two months, and it begins to look as though he cannot be counted upon in the final stretch. While the team was in the West, Mayer pitched two or three fine games, and the impression was general that he had come back with a vengeance; but his work yesterday indicates that his good games in the West were a flash in the pan.

Local fans are pulling hard for Mayer to come back to his early season form, as it means almost a certain pennant for the Phillies if he can come back; but the dyed-in-wool are fast losing hope for the side-arm expert. Apparently the only thing that will bring Mayer back is a rest of a week or two. Manager Moran has given him every chance to make good, but he has not only lost most of his "stuff," but the breaks have been against him and he is fast losing confidence. Yesterday Mayer had a better curve ball than he has shown for some time, but he evidently had little on his fast ball, as the Pirates did most of their hitting on fast balls.

Inexperience Baumgartner's Greatest Handicap

Young Bauergartner, who relieved Mayer, again gave a good account of himself. Inexperience is the greatest drawback to taking a chance on Baumgartner to start a game, as he apparently has everything else. He allowed Costello and Hinchman to get away from him yesterday in the ninth inning by grooving pitches after he had both men in the hole.

Charley Herzog's claim that the Reds will finish in the first division and that they might possibly be as high as third place caused many of the fans to laugh at the nerve of the scrappy little pilot of the Reds; but when one considers that Cincinnati has won nine out of the last ten games played and is only four games behind the Braves, there is plenty of time for Herzog to make good his prediction.

Until the ninth the venerable Wagner was the only Pirate to get a hit off Baumgartner. In the ninth the storm broke, however, and Costello and Hinchman made doubles and Wagner made his third successive hit off Baumgartner. It was a terrific smash over the right-field fence and killed all hope for a Phility

The Braves opened their new park yesterday and it is said that the largest crowd that ever attended a ball game saw the world's championship flag raised and then watched the Braves beat the Cardinals. As expected, Johnny Evers did not make good his bluff about quitting the game. Evers was evidently singing another little grandstand play for sympathy, but when his second announcement failed even to excite the fans he changed his mind.

CLARENCE CARRYAY

RACE AGAIN AT DROME

50-Mile Motor-Paced Contest Tonight-Linert and Be-

dell Also in Clash

With the crack of the starter's pistol tohight at Point Breeze Park motordrome he followers of the motor pace game will witness a race that will practically ecide the long distance world's chamnampion of Belgium, and Menus Redell, te noted six-day rider. The race will be miles in one heat.

Benton Case Postponed

CARMAN AND WILEY

Says First-Class Nine Is Not Connected With New Team of Same Name

The Southern A. C., that for the fast five years has been South Philadelphia's lending semi-professional team and played Ocean City, U. G. L. Bridesburg, Atlantic City Glants, Atlantic City P. R. R., Fairhill A. C. and Germantown, de-sires to inform managers of first-class sires to inform managers of first-class clubs that it has no connection whatever with the newly organized Southern A. A., managed by Mr. Gottlieb. It has on its schedule for August Pleasantville. Mount Moriah, Hilldale and Atlantic City P. R. B., and would like to hear from first-class teams wishing a full uniformed attractom. William Lavery, 1281 South 25th

Tulpehocken Reds shut out Germantown, formerly of Suburban League, 4 to 6. Eddie Plant, the Heds' crack hurler, allowed only two hits and received errorallowed only two hits and received error-less support. Labor Day is open on Man-ager Kalbacker's schedule and the date can be gotten by any semi-professional home clubs offering good inducements. Ad-Cleveland street, or call Wyoming 1684 W

Owing to cancellation of the game be een the Dudley A. A. and the Seventh P., of Frankford, the Dudley team, one of the best traveling teams of the 21st Ward, is left with August 21 open. A first-class semi-professional home club in or out of Philadelphia offering a reason-able guarantee write C. J. De Haven, 2425 Clifford street, or phone Walnut 4623 from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Penrose F. C. would like to arrange games with 17 to 18 year old teams away.

games with 17 to 18 year on teams away.
All dates are open in August. Address
R. Helmer, 1309 Germantown avenue.
The Cramp A. A. has August 21 open and would like to hear from teams in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware desiring this attraction for a fair guarantee. Call Rad M. Simons, William Cramp A. Sons both phones dully or call. Cramp & Sons, both phones, daily, or call Kensington 3175 after 5:30 p. m.

HEMPLE SURPRISES FANS AND DRAWS WITH SMITH

He Is Going Back Fast

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Jack Hemple did very well against Gunbeat Smith, at the St. Nicholas rink, inasmuch as he was there at the end of ten rounds. Hemple there at the end of ten rounds. Hemple earned a draw at last. He started off by fighting the Gunhoat sally. In the first round he jabbed Gunhoat so hard on the noise that it ran a crimson stream. He hooked and jabbed, crossed and uppercut until Smith was so wild that he almost flung himself out of the ring in his efforts to correct blanches.

to corner Hemple. Then Hemple tired. From the fourth on he had quite a job ducking out of harm's way. In the last three rounds he tool

WHAT MAY HAPPEN IN BASEBALL TODAY

NATIONAL LEAGUE Won. Lost, Pet, Win. Lose,
56 47 544 548 538
58 51 532 536 527
55 52 514 519 569
53 53 560 505 495
50 53 485 190 381
51 50 464 48 459
50 58 463 498 450 AMERICAN LEAGUE Merricas Leaders

Won Lust, Pet. Win Lose, Split.

49 36 .657 .690 .651

71 39 .645 .649 .640

65 42 .697 .611 .692

54 53 .595 .599 .510

51 51 .509 .510 $496 .500

42 .66 .389 .394 .385

41 .68 .376 .597 $199 .328

34 72 .321 .327 .319 FEDERAL LEAGUE

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Wan. Lost, Pct. Win. Lose
Chicago 62 48 564 568 551
Pittsburgh 60 47 561 563 554
N. vrark 60 48 556 556 556
Kansas City 61 50 550 554 544
S. Louis 58 51 552 530 554
Suffalo 52 64 542 442 485
Suffalo 50 63 442 447 485
Saltimore 39 71 353 360 351
+Win two, 2Lose two.

CLUBS	Thurs	275	SEAR	Sun	Mon	Thence	Wed
AMi Athletica Poston Chicago Cleveland Detroit New York St. Louis Washington	4	N 2000 * * 10 10 10	EA SANT-SHE	GTI * * CHANG * C *	Senitras.	* * * * * * * *	1-1 3-1 5-2 1-2 4-1 4-1 *-1
Buston . Brooklya . Chicage . Chicage . Chichnatt . New York . Philadelphia . Philadelphia . Bit Louis .	0	THE STREET	EA 017211 10 42	GU * * * 13 * * * 13	日 日一年 安付の日本		3-1-2-4 3-2-4 4-33-34 4-1-33-34
PED Baltimore Brooklyn Buffalo Chicago Kanasia City Newark Pittsburgh Bt. Louis *Indicates team	To office a second	401-211-02	EA COSSET	1UE	*	200 con en en 24	* 1 * 4 * 4 * 4 * 4 * 4 * 4 * 4 * 4 * 4

YOUTHS PLAY TENNIS FOR THE BOK TROPHY

Junior Tourney to Be Staged at Cynwyd on August 23 for Boys Under 16

The first annual junior clay court championship of Philadelphia and district will be played on the courts of the Cynwyd Club, Cynwyd, beginning Monday, August 12, at 10 a. m. The tournament will be in boys' singles and boys' doubles, and will be held under the auspices of the Philadelphia and District Lawn Tennis Assectation. trict Lawn Tennis Association.

triet Lawn Tennis Association.

The play each day will take place between the hours of 10 and 1. Luncheon facilities are obtainable at the club.

The sinner will have the privilege of having his name engraved on the Edward W. Bok challenge trophy, which must be won three times, not necessarily in succession, for permanent possession. Prizes will be awarded the winners and runners-up in singles and doubles, and also to the winners of the consolation singles and consolation doubles.

Matches will be the best of three advantage sets, excepting the final anisemifinal rounds, which will be the best of five advantage sets. The foot-fault role will be enforced. The Spalding hard court ball, which was adopted for the court ball, which was adopted for the national clay court championship, will be

Play each day will be in charge of the following referees: Monday, August 23, W. P. Rowland, Belfield Country Club; donship, the following entries being re-corded: Clarence Carman, the present world's champion: George Wiley, the for-ner world's champion: Victor Linart, the Club: Thursday, August 25, A. A. Capelle, Wilmington Country Club: Friday, August 27, Paul W. Gibbons, Woodbury Country Club: Saturday, August 28, C. N. Beard, Cynwyd Club.

Entries should be made to S. D. Wilson, Crowyd Pa. Boy 47, and must reach

The fams are acquainted with the per-grammed of all the riders with the ex-ption of Linart. For endurance and fast Cynwyd, Pa., Box 47, and must reach him on or before Saturday. August 21. 'The boys' tennis committee in charge filling he is almost without a peer. In one of the trial heats at the drome yes-terday he covered 20 miles in 25 minutes 11.62 seconds, and it is expected that he of the event is: J. M. Vanneman, Ir., Cynwyd Club; Thomas Vischer, German-town Cricket Club; F. V. Wilson, Jr., will give Wiley and Carman a hard fight Cynwyd Club; O. Middleton, Philadelphia, Cricket Club; Alexander Holcombe, Jr., The dark horse to tonight's race is Be-

The dark horse in tonight's race is Bedell, and judging by his hast two victories at the drome the six-lay rider will be a strong contender for first place. It is the one ambition of Bedell's life to record one win over Carman and Wiley. There will also be two, three, sive and a race of unknown distance motorcycle races, oper to the "pro" riders.

Cricket Club: Alexander Holcombe, Jr., Cynwyd Country Club; S. D. Wilson, Cynwyd Club, chalrman.

SWIMMING AT POINT BREEZE

Special Events Arranged for Saturday Festivities Festivities

In confunction with the Tristate Farmers' Three-Day Picnic at Point Breeze Park this week, on Saturday aft-HOSTON, Aus. 18.—Lack of a giorum prevented the National League reaching a decision prestoriay on the status of Pitcher Riabe Benton, whose sale to the Pitcher Riabe Benton Bento THE CRAB

The Mad Year Comes to an End-The Game Tha Decides the Pennant-An Accident on the Field and the Crab Goes In-The Science of Helping Out

By CHARLES E. VAN LOAN

Copyright, 1910, by Sireet & Smith.

It was one of those mad baseball years, with three teams fighting it out down to October and the close of the season. The Pinks, the Chicago Marcons and the Boston Highlirous were haitling in an elimination finish, in which the team which leet a game would drop behind. So it came down to the last game of the season, and the Pink Sox had a single game with the Maroons on the

"Johnson hit Wolff on the nose."

Chicago grounds, and the Athletics were finishing their season on the Boston grounds against the other contender. Just before the Chicago game opened news flashed over the telegraph wires news flashed over the telegraph wires which brought every man in the grandstand to his feet with a bellow of delight. The Athletics—bless their hearts—were wiping up the sround with the Highbrows, pulverizing them, putting them down and out of the race, just at the wire. This left the flag between the Pinks and the Maroons, and a single game would decide.

the Pinks and the Maroons, and a single game would decide.

Why tecall the game in detail? For eight savage innings both teams fought like tigers, and not a man crossed the plate. The break came in the ninth.

Carsey led off with a screaming double between centre and loft, and Johnson poled a Texas Leaguer into short right field. The ball was so cleverly placed that by the time the fielders had it in motion again long-leaged Carsey tore over the rubber with one run, and the Pink Sox delegation in the grand stand Pink Sox delegation in the grand stand arose and yelled until the rafters quiv-ered.

Johnson immediately tried to steal second base, but Kelly, the Marcon catcher, whipped the ball down like a stash.
Every man inside the fence thought that Johnson ducked under the glove. The man who to ught he didn't was "Curly"
Wolff, the umpire, and Johnson, being young and untried in a crisis of the sort, and sustained by positive knowledge that

Writer of nature of the nose, and precipitated a small riot. In the end the bey we dranged from the field by policeman, "Pretty tough!" said the Crab, as looked after his pupil. "The only fail he has, and it had to get him at a the like this! Let's see, who've we get a play third?"

There he stepped with his mouth ope Holmes had no compatent infielder to see

There is stopped with his mouth open Holmes had no competent inhelder to put in Johnson's place. As the Cral hook up he saw Holmes beckening to his The manager's face was white and his hands were plucking at the front of his shirt.

"It's up to you, Henry," he said "They're beat if we can hold 'em. Can you do it?"

"Looks like I've got to do it," said the Crab. "Where's my glove?"

There were no more runs. The lease changed sides for the last of the sish and every local rooter was trampled regular. "Crash!—crash!—crash!—crash!" which goes with an upbill finite. As the Crab walked across the diamout his old place Carsey rolled the halfter him. The veteran scooped the halfter him. The veteran scooped the last cleverly and threw across the diamon. A howl of Joy went up from the stant. "There's a dead wing on third," as Dillon, the captain of the Maroons. The old Crab can't throw one across the diamond any more. Take a chance and she everything at him. He'll heave one award and we can tie this up—maybe win I out."

and we can the this up—maybe win i out."

Every man on the Pink team kees exactly what would be done. The attack would be directed against the weak play and the Crab, swinging his right as slowly back and forth, as if trying he drive a little life into that once gramember, knew as well as his hether that every man would try to hit the last aright at him and make him three away the game and the pennant in aninth-inning flish. That was baseball, "Kid" O'Neill, the lightning fast little shotstop of the Pinks, came trotting over with a nervous grin on his freekled fas "Look out for me. Henry," he said "I'm going to play over as far as i day and if I so after one, let me have it." "All right, kid," said the old player, (CONTINUED TOMORROW) (CONTINUED TOMORROW)

NEWPORT POLOISTS WIN FROM AIKEN RED BIRDS

Philadelphians Prove Important Factors in Turning Tide for Winners NEWPORT, R. L. Aug. 19.—By careful teamwork and strategical attack the Newport poloists defeated the Afken Red Birds by a score of 14% to 8, after allowing the latter six goals by handleap. W. Goadby Loew and Joshua Crane pour an invincible combination, the latter ar invarious combination, includes scoring no fewer than eight times, while young Robert E. Strawbridge especially distinguished himself by registering in goals as a result of his quick pickets. and sustained carries.

BERNARD McCURD POINT BREEZE | Motordrome

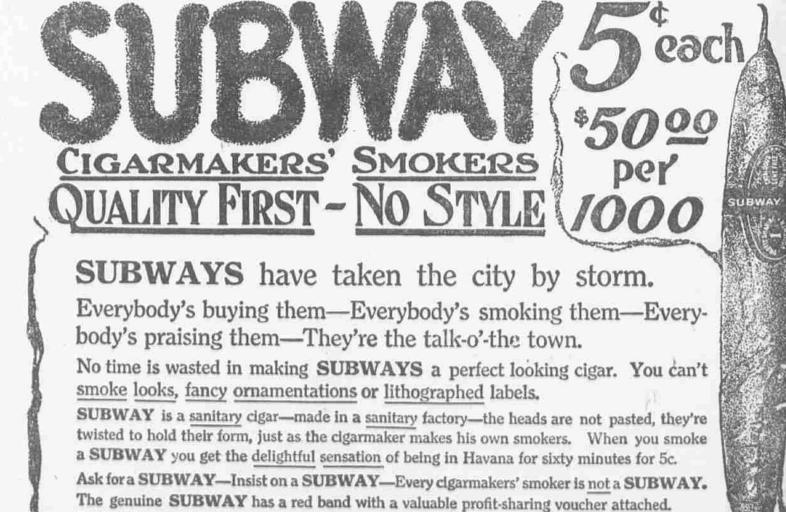

P A R R

S:30 TONIGHT 8:30

50 MILE MOTOHPACED RACE

Carman Linert Wiley Bedd

NATIONAL LEAGUE PARK PHILLIES vs. PITTSBURGH Game at 3:30 P. M. Admission 25, 50 and 10s Box Sents 81, on sale at Gimbels' & Spalding

Packed 50 to the box-buy them by the box and get 30 additional profit-sharing vouchers.

Catalog free on request to Profit-Sharing Dept., I. Lewis Cigar Mfg. Co., Newark, N. J.

GET SUBWAY CIGARS WHEREVER CIGARS ARE SOLD

EVENING LEDGER MOVIES-YES, GEORGIE, THIS SHOWS THE "PASSBOOK" PEST IN REAL ACTION

