Gigantic Step of Treasury Follows Contraband Action by Allies

te relieve the Southern cotton planters was taken late yesterday.
Announcement was made at the Treasury Department that Secretary McAdoo would deposit $30,000,000 in gold in the Federal reserve banks of Atlanta, Dallas and Richmond, if so large a sum is needed to facilitate the financing of the cotten crop. This step was decided upon a result of the action of the Allies in setting cotton on the contraband list. tiling cotton on the contraband list.
The deposits, according to the official amountement, will be "for the purpose of enabling those Federal reserve banks to rediscount loans made on cotton se-sured by warehouse receipts by national lanks and those State banks that are usmbers of the Federal reserve system."

No interest will be charged on these deposits. It is intended that the deposits shall make it possible for the member tanks to charge low rates on loans on responsed cotton, and indications. warehoused cotton, and indications are that the Federal Reserve Board will fix rates on rediscounted paper of this character. No disclosures have been made as to other steps are under contemplafor the relief of the cotton situation idea of Government officials is that loans at low rates of interest will enable cotton planters to hold back from the market a part of their crops, thus help-ig the price. The President conferred with W. P. G. Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, who has had supervision of all problems arising out of the cotton situation. Many ses of the situation were gone into and steps which seem to be advisable discussed. No announcement was made, however, as to what plans the President and Mr. Harding have under consideration, Mr. Harding will deliver a speech on the cotton situation at Birgham Thursday night.

OFFER NOT SATISFYING

Routhern cotton growers meanwhile are nning steps for their own relief. The souncement by Secretary McAdoo that the treasury would lend $30,000,000 to safeguard this year's crop is pleasing, but far from satisfying.

ing of cotton on the contraband list by Great Britain and her allies is being denounced bitterly by southern Senators and Representatives, and many of them make it plain that if the administration does not file a most drastic protest, the? will make the entire question a national brue as soon as Congress reconvenes or is called in special session.

The prediction freely is made that Presnt Wilson cannot expect Congressional poort for any reprisals taken against ermany for the Arabic's sinking if he ses not deal sharply with Great Britain or hampering the cotton trade.

COMMERCIAL MEN CONFER

Officers of the Southern Commercial ongress, headed by Senator Duncan U. her, began a series of conferences ere today to determine what additional ans must be employed to solve the cot-situation. It is expected that a consation of cotton growers and shippers ill be called to meet here next month take up the entire question. The great meet not the cotton men is the future. Conferences between W. P. G. Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, and Sir Richard Crawford, of the British Em-lassy, continue, in the hope than an ar-rangement may yet be made whereby the relief promised by England herself may be made practical.

C. Technically, the title of Mr. Bond is "foreman of carriers." His appointment came after it was recommended by six inspectors detailed here to examine into the working of the force in this city.

His duties are to go out with the various carriers and inspect their routes and loads. He has the authority to lengthen or shorten any carriers's route under the theory that a "man on the job" can tell better than the authorities in Washington what carriers are overburdened and what ones are carrying too light a load.

today by the tortoise-telegraph of the box car that Philadelphia is on the map. The little brothers of the jungle, unemployed, unwashed, unfed sometimes, but more or less satisfied, are jubilant. The City of Brotherly Love, one time Garden of Eden of the moocher and the panhandler, has a "Hotel de Gink."

The new hotel is at 339 North 9th street. Its officials never heard of "Who's Who" or the "Social Register." The only directories with which they are familiar are those chalked or cut into water tanks here and there on the railroads, and the police biotters of a thousand cities. They do not ask for credentials. The applicant for bed and board is "de Gink"—hence the name of the hotel. Gink' Bed at the Hotel de Gink is the floor.

It is a nice floor, with numerous soft spots that the expert can pick out and roll into in no time. Board is just a "scoff" of some kind. The bed is better

The news is moving over the country | than the floor of a box car or the ground around a campfire in a hobo jungle, because the frosty nights are near and the building is to be heated.

The Hotel de Gink is not for "missio stiffs," for bums nor strikebreakers, stove warmers and cuspidor philosophers. William J. Quirke is general manager. He has a sign about the people the hotel is not for, and he says it goes. The plan is to give such applicant bed and board for three days. When he finds a job he pays 10 cents a month dues to the hotel.

You may think that all tramps are hoboes, but it is not so. The hobo is to the tramp what the tramp is to the hard worker. There is such a thing as class distinction in the tramp world. The Hotel de Gink is provided with a House Committee, a Lunch Committee and a Sleep-ing Committee. In the daytime every-body is a member of the first, except at meal times, when everybody becomes a member of the Lunch Committee. At night everybody is a member of the Sleeping Committee,

WAR ORDERS CAUSE STRIFE AT NORWOOD

School Board Would Rent Building to House Workers Opponents Call Undesirable

Some time ago somebody killed an archduke and war was declared. This war has at last reached Norwood, in Delaware County, or, at least, a skirmish, the direct result of it, has. For the war stimulated the production of arms and the Remington Arms Company got war orders and its extra employes had to have some place to sleep, and so they decided to put some of them in the old Norwood schoolhouse.

Evan Moore put down $50 to hold an while, to complete the purchase and make changes in the building, so that there would be 22 rooms, including smoking rooms, shower baths and bedro sition to this plan is led by Dr. S. B. Harris and Albert McVickar, presiient and secretary of the South Norwood Protective Association. These officials met the school board Saturday night and protested. The secretary of the borough has refused to issue a permit, on the ground that the class of persons who would be boarders at the schoolhe apartments would be undesirable as residents.

But the citizens who have been trying to reduce the indebtedness of the old school and the new school, too, a matter of $50,000 or more, have protested against the protestants. Let the old school be given over to the munition makers, say they, to get funds; and they declare that the mechanics and other skilled workers would be very desirable citizens. Both sides are threatening to carry the question to the courts and seek injunctions,
