CAFE MAY, Aug. 24. The last week at Cape May has been an unusually brilliant one, for as the asson advances new recruits are added ally to the social ranks, so that the resort now offers a varied assortment of entertainment for all ages and tastes. The weekly concert at the Reid Mill drew the usual gathering of the younger sci.

on the sands. During the first part of the week land breezes brought a hords of mosquitoes to the Jersey resorts, and Wildwood re-ceived its share, with the result that the Boardwalk was a gay carnival with num-berless colors in gigantic mosquito brush-es of tissue paper, and the toy shops reaped a harvest from their sale and the sale of Chinèse punk. The promenaders used one hand to burn incense to the Chinese idols and the other to wave the colors of the rainbow, and incidentally colors of the rainbow, and incidentally created a little amusement for themselves by using the mosquito brushes for ticklers until the promenade resembled the City Hall square on New Year's Eve. Ocean breezes and the demise of the mos-quito horde restored the feelings of the city to normal temperature Wednesday, and the coolness accompanying the change caused the appearance of a few thousand more silken sweater coats, so popular with the feminine contingent this season.

Plans are virtually completed for the big day for poor children on Saturday, known as North Wildwood Day. The tent is being erected on the lawn at 18th avenue.

Many of the women, headed by Miss Kate Ottens and Miss Elizabeth Dankelman, are selling tickets for a card party to be held at the Wildwood Yacht Club at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which time the races will take place. It will be easy to get out to the club, for jitney's will run from the trolley at 18th street to the clubhouse. Captain and Mrs. Winter, who run the Anglesea boats to Stone Harbor, have loaned the use of a large sail, which men are crecting in connection with the tent. The kite contest is creating much interest, and will surely be the greatest sporting feature for children that this beach has been privileged to enjoy

Mr. Henry H. Ottens will have a candy specialist, and it is anticipated that there will be five barrels of candy made and sold cheaply and quickly. A 30-pound cheesecake is to be a feature in the cake sale.

Mr. W. M. Beers, gave a beach party last week in honor of Miss May Cleveland. There were 34 present, and water-melon, roasted marshmallows and other delicacies were served. Dancing on the beach to the music of a Victrola was much enjoyed.
