WOMEN URGE VOTERS TO BE REGISTERED Suburban Branch of Good Government League Issues Strong Appeal

Active steps have been taken by the suburban branch of the Woman's League for Good Government, 813 Stephen Girard Building, to help persuade all voters to register in order that there may be a more nearly full registration than there has been in recent years. To further the work of the league in this direction, the suburban branch has sent a letter to carts of the members of the branch, tegether, with circulars, calling attention to the importance of voters registering on one of the three registration days. The members are asked to give the circulars wide distribution.

They call attention to the importance of the voters registering in order that they may have a say in the election of city officials, and also the privilege of voting on the constitutional amendments for woman suffrage and for providing funds for Philadelphia transit and port

The circular calls attention to the fact that last year 106,706 voters failed to reg-ister and were, therefore, disqualified from voting. The women assert. In the literature, that "it seems a pity that there are more than 100,000 men in the sity who will not site the the much is become there are more than 160,000 men in the uliy who will not atke the trouble to be regla-tered, although they have the right to vote, while women of the city who are willing and anxious to be registered and to vote are denied that privilege." To ad-vance their cause the women of the Branch have adopted as their slogan, "Get busy; get registered; get good can-didates; get them elected."

The Executive Committee of the Suburban Branch is composed of Mrs. Ecoward Pearson Flannery, chairman; Mrs. Frank Brisden Foster, vice chairman; Mrs. John A. La Fore, second vice chairman; Mrs. Albert McVitty, treasurer; Miss Anna Graff, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary M. L. Bishop, recording secretary
