The holiday was not marked by a parade of labor unions, as in former years, but instead thousands of members of the American Federation of Labor and affiliated organizations are spending the day at the seashore or at the different places of amusement in the city. Thousands of persons went to the seashore resorts on Saturday to spend their Labor Day vacations and to get away from the hea of the city.

Sixteen thousand persons left for At-antic City, Wildwood, Ocean City and other beach resorts over the Pennsylother vania Railroad, while about 12,000 persons were carried by the Reading on Saturday, and thousands more went shoreward

SHIBE PARK, Sept. 6.—Harry Harper, Washington's 19-year-old southpaw, shut out the Athletics with five hits and enabled the Senators to take both ends of today's double-header from the lowly Macks. The final score was 5 to 9.

WEST SIDE TENNIS CLUB, Forest Hills, L. I. N. Y., Sept. 6.—Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, former title holder, won the first of the semi-final matches in the national championship tennis tournament on the turf courts here today. He defeated Theodore Roosevelt Pell, of New York, in straight sets by $ to 2, 5 to 6, 7 to 5.

The Californian outclassed his opponent and the result was never in doubt.
Pell started the service in the opening semifinal match and the first game went to the New York man, chiefly because of McLoughlin's wildness, the Californian netting several casy chances. The former champion continued to be wild at the start of the second game, but relied and placed it to his credit after it had gone to deuce.

Neither man had warmed up in the first two games, but the play improved in the The Athletics never had a chance to beat Harper after Nabots allowed the Schatters to get off to an early lead. The lanksy Southerner pitched fairly well after the first inning, but was injured in the eighth lining and retired in favor of knowless.

The features of the game were provided by Sammy Mayer, a brother of the Phillies pitcher, who joined Washington vestorday. He made a wonderful throw from the right-floid fence to third base and also made one of the digest drives of the season when be

BRICKLEY GIVES STATE POINTS ON KICKING

Ex-Harvard Man Begins Work Early, in Order to Develop High-grade Booters

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 6.-Charlie Brickley has already given Penn State's football squad an elementary course in kicking. State's aspirants were awed by the ease with which Brickley tossed the ball through the goal posts with either his right or left foot. His primary class, consisting of every man on the squad, has drilled in the fundementals of drop and place kicking science.

While Brickley handled one squad, Bud Whitney and Head Coach Harlow directed two other groups in punting, for-ward passing at a target, lateral passing while running down the field, and fast starting from formations. All of the work has been of the lightest sort.

Whitney has introduced to Penn State football an exercise imported from Dart mouth. The "grass drill," as he termed it, consists of five movements performed in unison by the entire squad stretched across the field. The exercae has been found valuable at Dartmouth as a means of co-ordinating rapid thinking and swift
