McQUILLAN PITCHES

PHILADELPHIA BALL PARK, Sept. 10.—Jeff Tesreau, New York's best pitcher, faced the Phillies in the final game of the series this afternoon. Tesreau has always been particularly effective against the Phillies, but today they got after him at the start and jumped into a one-run lead. Only a fast double play on a hard hit ball by Cravath prevented the Phillies from clinching the victory in this inning. Contrary to expectations Manager Moran sent George McQuillan to the mound instead of Rixey.

DEMAND FOR DUMBA RECALL AND GERMANY'S STAND ON ARABIC MAY CAUSE CRISIS

Berlin Hands Gerard New Note on Submarine Warfare—Von Bernstorff and Austrian Envoy in Secret Conference.

Since the European war began America's relations toward the Teutonic Allies have not been more awkward than they were today. Officials confidentially admitted as much.

There have been times when actual hostilities between the United States and Germany seemed nearer, it was said, but at no time had complications been so numerous.

Today there were at issue: The American request for Austrian Ambassador Dumba's recall.

The Washington Government's interrogation concerning Austria's pretensions to the right to interfere with American industries.

The question of the extent to which Captain von Papan, military attache to Germany's Washington Embassy, was involved in the J. F. J. Archibald incident, from which action in Dumba's case resulted.

A most disappointing and unsatisfactory note from Germany concerning the Arabic case—a note which not only failed to fulfil expectations concerning the Arabic incident, but in officials' opinion greatly qualified, by inference, the Kaiser's assurances that he would respect Americans' rights and lives in the conduct of his submarine campaign.

A new note on submarine warfare has been handed by the German Foreign Office to Ambassador Gerard. The contents have not yet been announced, but it has been stated that the text does not deal with the Hesperian, hence belief is current that the note contains a modification of Germany's Arabic stand.

Doctor Dumba has held a secret conference with Count von Bernstorff. Officials admitted that the two disputes were linked. Germany is involved in the circumstances leading to the Dumba situation. Austria's support of Germany in any diplomatic disagreement over the Arabic case is taken for granted.

An open break with Austria and retirement of Ambassador Penfield from Vienna was deemed possible if Austria supports Dumba's scheme of a general strike of Austro-Hungarian subjects in American war supply plants.

But Administration officials believe Austria will accede to the American request for Dumba's recall.

GERMANY HANDS GERARD NEW SUBMARINE NOTE

By CARL W. ACKERMAN BERLIN, Sept. 10. A messenger from the German Foreign Office delivered to Ambassador Gerard a second note on the submarine question at 10 o'clock last night. The contents of the note had not been given out at 11 a. m. today.

What the subject of this second communication was was a mystery. It was stated on good authority that it does not concern the sinking of the Hesperian. The report was that the second note is supplementary to the note already sent to Washington, dealing with the Arabic case.

The Arabic note was given to the Berlin messenger by the German Foreign Office.

U. S. EXPECTS NO PROTEST TO RECALL OF DR. DUMBA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. Friendly diplomatic relations between the United States and Austria and the United States and Germany are in danger of interruption today.

Secretary Lansing said today that the United States will wait a "reasonable time" for Austria to comply with the request for Dumba's removal. The intimation was plain that this Government is prepared to hand Dumba his passports if Austria does not respond, but is confident such action will be unnecessary.

The Administration contentedly hopes that Vienna will comply with the request to recall Ambassador Dumba. To this end steps have been taken to secure for the Austrian ambassador a passport.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. W. A. Gavin, of Shirley Park, England, will meet tomorrow for the women's golf championship of the United States.

In the most sensational match of the tournament this afternoon, Mrs. Vanderbeck defeated Miss Alexa Stirling, the 17-year-old Southern champion, of Atlanta, Ga. The match went 22 holes, and was finished in a driving rainstorm.

More than a score of exquisite gowns worn by women spectators who refused to leave the course were ruined by the rain, and heavy was wrought to the various tents.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg's troops have taken 1500 prisoners and seven machine guns.

The Russians in the vicinity of Tuzynow have been driven back toward that place.

'GHOST' LURES MAID AWAY, LOOTING HOUSE

Fake Phone Calls Clears Way for "Spirits" Disappearance With $1500

Police are looking for the ghost that overturned tables, smashed furniture and jewelry evaporated with $1500 worth of finery from a "haunted house" at the southwest corner of 24th street and Powelton avenue, occupied by Miss H. Maynard White, an illustrator, who has an office at 1523 Chestnut street.

The ghost lured away a maid employed by Miss White and Miss Nettie Barry, who shares the house with her, and while Miss White and Miss Barry were downstairs yesterday afternoon ransacked the house. Later the maid returned.

When Miss Barry returned home just before dark last night, she heard a noise in the house. Ascribing it to ghosts, which she and Miss White have denied for the last four years, Miss Barry ran down the path to the street and waited until Miss White came home. According to police of the 24th street and Lancaster avenue station, burglars climbed out of the house over a second-story roof and escaped that way. This happened in broad daylight.

Both Miss White and her companion admit there have been queer noises heard in the house. Neighbors tell a story that 15 years ago a man murdered his wife in the house and killed himself after throwing her body downstairs. Whatever the cause, there apparently was something wrong with the house, for Miss White has not been able to keep a servant more than two weeks, she said today. Either they hear noises themselves, or fancy they do, after listening to tales told by the neighbors.

MISSING BANKER'S NAME MENTIONED IN CORD MURDER

Peterson Says He Went to Jail in Place of L. Crozer Lewis

WANTED FIVE YEARS

Lewis Crozer Lewis, fugitive Philadelphia hazy embezzler, is the man in whose place Olaf Peterson, "material witness" in the murder of Samuel S. Cord, says he served 11 months in the Essex County, N. J., jail, according to information that came to light today.

Lewis has been wanted since 1910 for embezzling about $20,000 from the Delaware Fidelity Trust Company, of which he was treasurer. The company until 1910 had offices at 1415 Arch street, withdrawing from business in that year.

Lewis is a member of the wealthy and prominent Crozer family, of Chester. He was indicted on two counts in June, 1912, but the case was not handed over to the police until early this year, when bondholders of the defrauded bank decided that settlement out of court was impossible.

Captain Cameron then issued a police "flyer," containing a photograph and description of Lewis, and assigned Detectives Garr and Walsh to the case.

Since that time, according to one of the bondholders, Lewis has been located perhaps a dozen times, only to slip away just before detectives arrived to arrest him. The man is known to have been associated with Olaf Peterson.

Every effort has been made by Lewis' wealthy relatives to settle the case against him out of court. According to one of the bank bondholders, Lewis has left a trail of swindles behind him since he disappeared after embezzling funds of the bank.

Several of his victims have settled out of court with the family and others have held off in the hope of such settlement, it is said, until the case was outlawed. The indictments against Lewis in this case were finally completed September 4.

ELECTRIC TRAINS ON P. R. R. TOMORROW

Regular Service Begins With First Run From Paoli at 5:55 A. M.

It was officially announced from the offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company late this afternoon, that the electric service on the Main Line, between Broad street station and Paoli, will be inaugurated tomorrow morning.

The first east-bound electric train will leave Paoli at 5:55 a. m. and arrive at Broad street station at 6:45 a. m. The first west-bound train will leave Broad street station at 7:45 a. m. arriving at Paoli at 8:42.

The entire local passenger service will not be changed over from steam to electric service at once. The plan is to make four trips a day by electric power at first, and from this to increase gradually the number of electric trains until the whole steam service is replaced. This, if things work satisfactorily, will take only a few days.

The stretch of track which is to be put entirely under electric power represents, it is believed, the most modern and efficient 20 miles of electrified railroad in the world. The work was started more than two years ago, and has cost approximately $4,500,000.

It was intended at first to have the road in operation six months ago, but on account of various unexpected difficulties these plans failed to mature. The work was finally completed September 4. The test trains were operated September 5 and 6, and all was then placed in readiness for the formal opening of the service tomorrow morning.

The Cariggins banged out 13 safe hits, and these crowded around some of Wychoff's complementaries, gave them seven runs, while Ruth was able to withstand the attack of the Macks, but a single by McInnis, a triple by Oldring, and a passed ball allowed the Athletics to make their two tallies in the fifth inning.

FIRST INNING. Hays grounded out, Barry to Hoblittell. Barry raced back and made a wonderful catch of Walsh's Texas leaguer. Strunk went out, Hobby to Ruth. No runs, no hits, no errors. This line-up: Henriksen tripled over Strunk's head.
