

WHERE THE NEWS IS, NO MATTER WHAT THE PLACE, TIME OR COUNTRY, THERE IS THE CAMERA MAN

GERMAN ENTRY INTO WARSAW WAS LIKE A CIRCUS
That a boy is a boy the world over is evidenced by this photograph. To the Polish lad the triumphal Teutonic procession, with its glittering uniforms, fluttering pennons and martial music was a supreme spectacle worth the cost to his country.

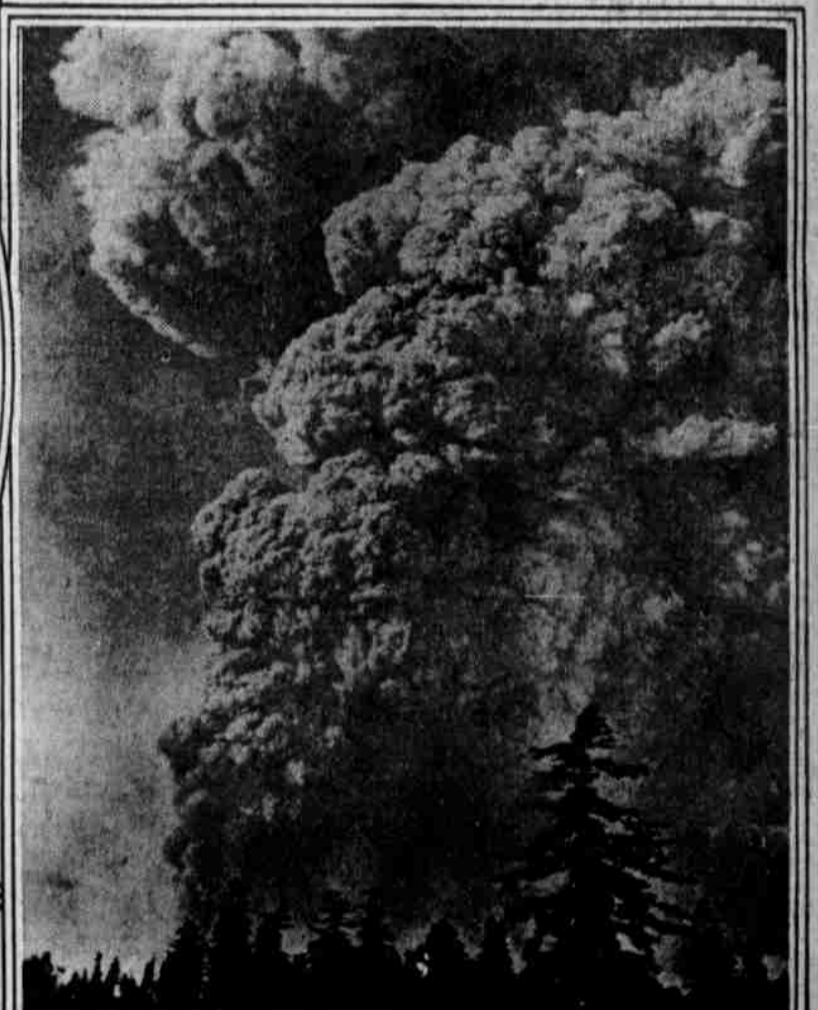

CROWDS SEE GERMAN TORPEDOBOATS AT LIBAU
Following their capture of this port, the Germans promptly made it a base for a possible attack on the Russian ships.

SERVIAN GIRL GOES HOME TO START AMERICAN SCHOOL
Miss Dora Grouitch, on the right, will found an institute for children orphaned by the war. Her companion is Miss Eva Reed, a Western girl, who will show the Servians American methods.

THE UP-TO-DATE ROOF GARDEN NOW SERVES UP RUSSIAN DANCES
This is Mme. Lubovska, New York's latest dancing sensation, as she appears in her butterfly dance before the patrons of an open-air roof garden atop a prominent hotel, thus helping further to relieve monotony for the "tired business man."

AMERICA'S ONLY ACTIVE VOLCANO AT WORK
This picture was taken from a distance of nine miles at the time of Mt. Lassen's recent eruption. The cloud of smoke and dust extended for miles in the air.

PEOPLE OF MEXICAN BORDER SEE THE MELANCHOLY SIDE OF WAR
Both American and Mexican families living near the boundary line have found themselves in the plight of the Belgian refugees, in consequence of the guerrilla fighting between soldiers and rangers on one side and alleged bandits on the other.

SEARCHLIGHT BOMB LIGHTS UP RUSSIAN FARMHOUSE
The Germans employ these bombs constantly at night to reveal the enemy's position and to guard against surprise attacks. They burn brilliantly, some for a full minute. This picture, taken not far from the Polish boundary, gives an idea of this long-range illumination.
