

PHILS WIN FIRST, LEAD SECOND; DETROIT BEATS ATHLETICS, 6-5

REFORM BODY FOR PORTER; SEES VICTORY

100 Committee to Launch Campaign Against Organization Nominee

SMITH VOTE 116,747

Analysis of the primary vote made today shows that a total vote of 250,000 at the general election would elect George D. Porter Mayor of Philadelphia.

The organization polled nearly its full strength at the primary, as did also its subsidiary, the Old Guard Democracy. Based on unofficial totals for the primary, a vote of 250,000 on November 2 would give the following results:

Total registered electors entitled to vote in November approximately 290,000. Estimated total vote in November 250,000. Combined Smith and Bromley vote at primary 123,742.

Estimated Porter vote in November 127,530.

This would be a situation similar to that of 1911, when Blankenburg was elected. Blankenburg's majority was 5000 over Earle. Porter's majority over Smith, based on the above estimate, would be 4000.

Latest unofficial returns from all 45 wards today, with a few scattering divisions missing, give:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Vote. Rows include REPUBLICAN (Smith 117,019, Porter 25,235, Potter 4,784), WASHINGTON (Porter 9,876, Potter 1,691, Gorman 514), DEMOCRATIC (Bromley 6,723, Gorman 4,290, Porter 3,794, Potter 3,215).

TOTAL VOTE With four wards missing: 178,150. Total does not include the scattering Keystone, Socialist, Bull Moose, Personal Liberty and Prohibition vote.

A vigorous campaign for the election of George D. Porter as Mayor and an unopposed Council will be launched immediately by the Public Service Committee of One Hundred.

Independent leaders see encouragement in the figures on the vote cast in the primary election last Tuesday, and will start at once to arouse the citizens who did not vote at the primary, so they will

MRS. VANDERBECK WINS GOLF CONTEST ON NOBLE GREENS

National Champion Was in Splendid Form—Mrs. Barlow Defeats Mrs. G. S. Muncon

CLOSE MATCHES PREVAIL

NOBLE, Pa., Sept. 23.—If yesterday's matches in the first round of the match play for the Berthel Cup at the Hunt-leson Valley Country Club were tame, they were quite the reverse in the second round this morning. Mrs. Vanderbeck and Mrs. Barlow won their matches easily, it is true, but the matches between Mrs. Caleb P. Fox and Mrs. G. Henry Stetson and Miss Eleanor T. Chandler and Mrs. A. K. Billestein were just as exciting as they could well be.

Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Stetson played a remarkable match, and Mrs. Stetson once again proved that she is a great uphill player. Mrs. Fox was five up at the eighth hole and Mrs. Stetson's case looked well indeed, but she started to lose when she took the ninth, tenth and eleventh holes, and halved the twelfth, making her only two down. Good putting accounted for her success, and she further improved her position by winning the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth holes.

Miss Eleanor T. Chandler and Mrs. A. K. Billestein had a rare battle, and there was little to choose between them all the way round. Miss Chandler started out in great style by winning the first two holes in three to four, and taking the third with a six to a seven.

Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck won her match from Mrs. Edwin H. Filler. At the end of the cup, quite comfortably. At the time she was three up, and although Mrs. Filler won the 13th hole, Mrs. Vanderbeck won the 14th and 15th holes.

WAR'S EFFECTS TRIFLING

The sharp wind that makes you feel foolish and exposed as a shorn lamb to indifferent nature in a summer suit without a vest, has far deeper effects than that upon your immediate comfort. The symbol of these far-reaching effects can very well be recognized, however, in the fact that you went into a shop and came out with a winter-weight suit.

BARBERS' HAIR SINGED IN FIRE FROM GASOLINE

Customer's Match Ignites Fumes and Lathered Men Flee From Flames

"Next" called out of the barbers in Edward J. Townsend's north barber shop at 21 North Juniper street this afternoon as he finished shaving a customer. The "next" man was lighting his cigar. As he rose to take his place in the chair he threw the match in the chair as he lit it. A flash of fire and in a moment the place was in flames.

In the excitement which followed a large crowd collected and firemen Walter Burgess, of the 11th and Winter streets station, was hurt when the patrol wagon from that district backed into him, injuring his leg. He was taken to the Hahnemann Hospital.

GANG THUGGERY AT POLLS FOUND BY INDEPENDENTS

Organization Henchmen Declared to Have Intimidated Voters

SCORES OF COMPLAINTS

Scores of complaints of election frauds and attempted illegal voting that are pouring into the offices of the Committee of Seventy today show that the Republican Organization at the primary election attempted to return to gang methods that prevailed at elections held prior to the Blankenburg administration.

The Organization henchmen, believing that the Organization will return to power this fall, "overstepped the limit," according to officers of the Committee of Seventy, and in all parts of the city resorted to every known method to prevent independents from casting their ballots. Among the complaints that have been received by the committee and which will be prosecuted, are many for making false returns, assisting voters without affidavit at the primaries, intimidation of watchers and intimidation of voters.

In divisions in the northeast and in the northwest, complaints made to the committee say that crowds of Organization followers were placed in back rooms and in rooms on the floor above the polling place, and that these men were voted during the closing hour, while other voters could not get into the polling places. At one place, a complaint says, 45 men were voted in this way.

BALLOT FRAUD FOUND IN VOTE FOR JUDGESHIP

Discarded Nonpartisan Ballots Used by Organization to Stuff Boxes

COMMITTEE TO PROBE

The present primary system of having voters use two ballots, a party ballot and a non-partisan judicial ballot, resulted in so much confusion at the polls Tuesday that it was condemned in many quarters today as a step back toward the old ballot-box stuffing practices.

Enrolled voters who went to the polls on Tuesday received two ballots, one of the party in which they enrolled and the other, the non-partisan judicial ballot. There were 25 offices to be voted for on the party ballots and 13 on the non-partisan ballot.

The Republican ballot, for instance, carried more than 150 names, and it was declared a physical hardship for a voter to pick out the 25 candidates with any regard for their personal merits. It would take nearly 20 minutes to cover this ballot alone, and then the nonpartisan ballot had to be voted. The businessmen anxious to get to his office and the workingman facing a loss in pay if he was late for work neglected to mark the nonpartisan ballot and many of them were left in the booths in every division in the city.

Unscrupulous voters, who followed these men into the booths, picked up the non-partisan ballots, marked them, and voted them with their own ballots. It is said that this was done in many of the wards where the Organization is in control. The ballots were folded up with the ballots of the unscrupulous finders and pushed into the box either without the voter's knowledge or with his consent.

CAVE-IN ROUSES CROWDS Electric Wire Trouble Below Street Level Causes Excitement

Smoke issuing from the cracked asphalt of a cave-in on the east side of 9th street, north of Chestnut, caused considerable excitement and attracted the attention of several hundred persons late this afternoon.

According to the police, the cave-in was caused by an electric supply pipe, which supplies power to run a heating apparatus. It is believed that several of the wires became crossed and burned the insulation, which dried out the earth below the street and caused the asphalt to sag.

MYSTERY OF A BODY MAY CONCEAL CRIME

Two Men Tell Police They Saw Limp Form Carried Into West Conshohocken Woods

The mystery of a body, which two men say was carried from an automobile into a lonely strip of woods near West Conshohocken, is facing the Montgomery County officials.

The woods near West Conshohocken are being searched for pieces of men and a sharp lookout for an automobile of the description seen on the lonely roadside is being maintained.
