

CUBS WIN FIRST FROM PHILS, 6-0 ON HARD HITTING

Ersine Mayer an Easy Mark for Chicagoans. Oeschger Tries Hand

HUMPHRIES EFFECTIVE

PHILLIES.	A. B. R. H. O. A. E.
Stock, 1b	3 0 1 0 0 0
Bancroft, 2b	4 0 0 2 1 1
Parkert, cf	4 0 1 0 0 0
Cravath, rf	4 0 0 4 0 0
Luderus, 1b	3 0 0 0 0 0
Whitted, lf	3 0 1 1 0 0
Niehoff, 2b	3 0 0 3 4 0
Burns, c	3 0 1 3 2 0
Adams, p	1 0 0 0 0 0
Mayer, p	1 0 0 1 0 0
Oeschger, p	1 0 0 1 0 0
Totals	30 0 4 24 10 1

CHICAGO.	A. B. R. H. O. A. E.
Good, rf	4 1 1 0 0 0
Mulligan, ss	4 0 1 4 2 0
Schulte, lf	4 2 2 2 0 0
Zimmerman, 2b	4 0 1 2 1 0
Saier, 1b	3 1 0 7 2 0
Williams, cf	3 0 0 7 0 0
McCarthy, 2b	4 1 2 5 0 0
Archer, c	4 1 2 5 0 0
Humphries, p	2 0 0 1 1 0
Totals	31 8 9 27 9 0

Two-base hits—McCarthy, Archer, 2; Schulte. Sacrifice hit—Humphries. Stolen base—Schulte. Struck out—By Mayer, 2; Humphries, 4; Oeschger, 1. Base on balls—Off Humphries, 1; Mayer, 2; Oeschger, 1. Double plays—Mulligan to McCarthy to Saier. Balk—Oeschger.

WEST SIDE PARK, Chicago, Sept. 24.—The Phillies at last have been beaten. Bert Humphries, an ex-Phil, turned the trick, the score being 6-0.

Ersine Mayer was ineffective and Oeschger went to the mount. He was strung for two more runs.

FIRST INNING. Stock walked. Bancroft popped to Zimmerman. Parkert hit into a double play. Mulligan to McCarthy to Saier. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING. Good flied to Parkert. Mulligan beat out a hit in front of the plate. Mulligan died stalling. Burns to Bancroft. Schulte walked. Schulte stole second. Zimmerman's fly flied to left, scoring Schulte and taking second on Whitted's throw to the plate. Saier fanned. One run, two hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING. Niehoff fouled to Archer. Burns grounded to Saier. Mayer fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING. Stock singled to left. Bancroft forced Saier, Saier to Mulligan. Parkert forced Bancroft. Humphries to McCarthy. Cravath forced Parkert. Mulligan to Williams. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FIFTH INNING. Luderus out. Saier to Humphries. Whitted lined to Mulligan. Niehoff fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING. Burns singled to centre. Oeschger fanned. Burns took second on Stock's out. Zimmerman to Saier. Bancroft hit to Zimmerman, who tagged Burns out at third. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING. Parkert popped to Mulligan. Cravath flied to Schulte in deep left. McCarthy threw out Luderus. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING. Niehoff singled through the box. Niehoff to Mulligan. Adams popped to Saier. Oeschger flied to Williams. No runs, one hit, no errors.

NINTH INNING. Stock fanned. Bancroft singled to McCarthy. Parkert singled through Humphries. McCarthy threw out Cravath. No runs, one hit, no errors.

PENN PICKS TEAM FOR FIRST GAME

Continued from Page One

The West Virginia team is expected here late this afternoon. They were offered the use of Franklin Field, but did not accept the offer. The sport which Gus Ziegler, who helped with the West Virginia team's strength has made a deep impression on the Quakers, and a real desire that they will have a stiff fight when they usually have in an opening game.

The line-up will be as follows: Pennsylvania: Left end, Hutchison; tackle, Taylor; right tackle, Lambert; guard, Ziegler; center, Ziegler; quarterback, Ziegler; fullback, Ziegler; halfback, Ziegler; running back, Ziegler; fullback, Ziegler; halfback, Ziegler; running back, Ziegler; fullback, Ziegler; halfback, Ziegler; running back, Ziegler.

German Prince Falls in Battle VIENNA, Sept. 24.—Prince Frederick of Thurn and Taxis was killed in the fighting in south-western Italy on Monday, was announced here today.

SAITHEIM & SONS, 10 E. PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA, PA. 1910. For information apply 224-225.

SOPHOMORES AT U. OF P. ADMINISTER ANNUAL WELCOME TO FRESHMEN

MACK ERRORS CHUCK AWAY CONTEST BEHIND EFFECTIVE PITCHING

Athletics Lose Opening Game to Chicago White Sox in Spite of Richardson's Brilliant Mound Work

CICOTTE IN FINE FORM

ATHLETICS.	A. B. R. H. O. A. E.
Schlang, cf	3 1 1 0 0 0
Strunk, rf	5 2 2 1 0 0
Oldring, lf	5 0 1 0 0 1
Lajoie, 2b	4 0 1 1 0 0
McInnis, 1b	4 0 1 0 0 0
Danner, ss	4 0 1 0 0 0
Demrau, 3b	4 0 0 2 2 2
McAvoy, c	3 0 0 1 1 0
Richardson, p	3 0 0 0 3 1
Flapp, p	1 1 0 0 0 0
Totals	37 5 9 28 12 7

CHICAGO.	A. B. R. H. O. A. E.
Murphy, rf	4 0 0 0 0 0
Weaver, ss	5 1 0 2 2 0
E. Collins, 2b	5 2 1 1 4 0
Fournier, cf	4 1 1 2 0 0
Jackson, lf	4 1 2 2 0 0
E. Collins, 1b	4 0 1 1 0 0
Blackburne, 3b	4 1 0 3 0 1
Mayer, c	3 0 0 6 0 0
Cicotte, p	3 0 0 0 3 0
Totals	33 7 5 27 9 1

SHIRE PARK, Sept. 24.—Miserable fielding behind Richardson, Macks recruit from Marshalltown, Iowa, gave the White Sox an easy victory in the first game this afternoon. The score was 7 to 5.

Until the ninth inning the White Sox made but four hits but tallied six runs, owing to the fact that the Athletics made seven errors, six of which figured in the scoring.

Cicotte had little trouble with Mackmen until the ninth, when Richardson and Lajoie pitched him into a double and the latter getting a double and Schang then followed with a triple.

Cicotte then lightened up and easily retired the next two batters.

It was an uninteresting game. Richardson's fine pitching in the face of poor support was the only feature.

FIRST INNING. Murphy walked. Weaver's grounder hit Murphy and the latter was declared out. Richardson threw wild to catch Weaver napping at first and Weaver took second. Oldring dropped E. Collins' fly. Fournier walked, hitting the bases. Jackson singled to right, scoring Weaver and E. Collins. Fournier taking third and Jackson second on the throw home. Blackburne bunting and being out at first, McInnis unassisted. J. Collins tried to steal home, but McAvoy tagged him out. Four runs, three hits, two errors.

SECOND INNING. Schang out. E. Collins to J. Collins. Strunk singled to centre. Oldring singled to centre. On the hit-and-run play Lajoie bounced a single over Blackburne's head, hitting the bases. McInnis forced Lajoie. Weaver to E. Collins. Strunk scoring. Danner fouled to Blackburne. One run, three hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING. Schang popped to J. Collins. Strunk flied to Jackson. Oldring fouled to Mayer. No runs, no hits, no errors.

U. OF P. OPENED BY PROVOST IN "GYM" SERVICE

Registration Figures Expected to Exceed 8000, Breaking Records

NEW MEN IN FACULTY

Provost Smith opened the fall term of the University of Pennsylvania in the gymnasium today. The great crowd of students who cheered the provost to the echo in the assembly room was only a fraction of the undergraduate body, which it is confidently expected from all indications will exceed 8000 when the figures are complete and ready for publication early in November. Last year the registration totaled 7152.

These figures, of course, include the graduate schools and the extension schools up-State.

The big auditorium in the gymnasium was packed to the doors when Provost Smith at 10 o'clock asked the assembled thousands to sing "Onward, Christian Soldiers." On the platform was an impressive semicircle in which sat the nine deans and the vice provost in their academic robes, with the bright colors of their hoods showing their degrees.

Provost Smith showed no effects of his recent illness. He seemed greatly moved by the demonstration of the students and in the reading of the lesson, I Corinthians, xiii, or, rather, the recitation of it from memory. In his address he referred to the great success of the summer school, which had had more than 1000 students while his hearers had been on their vacations, and he expressed the belief the school had an even greater future.

He spoke words of advice to the various classes, quoting from the writings of former provosts, especially of those of the 18th century. When he came to the freshmen he made a most pressing plea that they look forward to their careers as precious things that no love of present pleasure should impair. Each freshman, he said, should think of the man he ought to be in the '20s and '30s of the century, when he would reap what he had sown. He warned them against sewing wild oats, and spoke of the sophomores who had dropped out of last year's class because they had neglected their opportunities.

The Provost announced the gift of the Maria Hooper Pennington Memorial Library to the University. It is presented by James Hooper Pennington, brother of Vice Provost Pennington, in memory of his mother, who was Mrs. James Lanman Pennington.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

The true college spirit will be in evidence tonight at the University of Pennsylvania at a reception which will be tendered the new students by the Christian Association in the gymnasium.

The joys of sport and the social side of college life will be explained by the leading athletes and officers of the senior class.

Then, too, there will be an abundance of college songs and cheers by way of variety between the addresses.

Addresses will be made by the following team captains: E. D. Harris, football; J. E. Meredith, track; J. M. M. Jr., baseball; and W. E. Chickering, crew. Incidentally, "Pick" Marshall will talk especially on football to the freshmen. E. J. McNicholl will discuss basketball and "Mike" Horvitz will talk on minor sports.

Gordon A. Hardwick, president of the senior class, will preside.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

PENROSE SEES VICTORY FOR THE ORGANIZATION

Senator Alphonse Penrose sees in the primary election vote a sweeping organization victory in November.

SENATOR PENROSE SEES IN THE PRIMARY ELECTION VOTE A SWEEPING ORGANIZATION VICTORY IN NOVEMBER.

Discussing the results in an interview today he also said the result of the majority election in Philadelphia will have a direct bearing on the result of the presidential election next year.

He predicted that President Wilson would not carry a single State north of the Mason and Dixon line when he comes up for re-election in 1916.

"The result of the primaries," said the Senator, "showed that the Republicans polled a most substantial vote, and at their party election full assurance was given of the election of the Republican nominee in Philadelphia County on November 2."

"There is no mistaking the fact that this is a Republican year. The election next November will be the last election before the presidential election in 1916, and evidence abounds on every side that the people are impatient to have an opportunity to repudiate the Wilson Administration with its free trade tariff and its incompetent and vacillating foreign policy, particularly with reference to the Mexican situation."

The issue will be brought prominently before the people when Congress meets in December. Advice from all over the United States indicate a similar trend toward the Republican party is going on in every State.

"The war in Europe, of course, has relieved the Democratic party from a crushing and humiliating breakdown to some extent by alleviating the industrial depression and in other ways, but it will not be sufficient to save the party."

"It is generally conceded that President Wilson will not carry a State north of the Mason and Dixon line as things stand today."

"The war in Europe, of course, has relieved the Democratic party from a crushing and humiliating breakdown to some extent by alleviating the industrial depression and in other ways, but it will not be sufficient to save the party."

"It is generally conceded that President Wilson will not carry a State north of the Mason and Dixon line as things stand today."

"The war in Europe, of course, has relieved the Democratic party from a crushing and humiliating breakdown to some extent by alleviating the industrial depression and in other ways, but it will not be sufficient to save the party."

"It is generally conceded that President Wilson will not carry a State north of the Mason and Dixon line as things stand today."

"The war in Europe, of course, has relieved the Democratic party from a crushing and humiliating breakdown to some extent by alleviating the industrial depression and in other ways, but it will not be sufficient to save the party."

"It is generally conceded that President Wilson will not carry a State north of the Mason and Dixon line as things stand today."

U. OF P. OPENED BY PROVOST IN "GYM" SERVICE

Registration Figures Expected to Exceed 8000, Breaking Records

NEW MEN IN FACULTY

Provost Smith opened the fall term of the University of Pennsylvania in the gymnasium today. The great crowd of students who cheered the provost to the echo in the assembly room was only a fraction of the undergraduate body, which it is confidently expected from all indications will exceed 8000 when the figures are complete and ready for publication early in November. Last year the registration totaled 7152.

These figures, of course, include the graduate schools and the extension schools up-State.

The big auditorium in the gymnasium was packed to the doors when Provost Smith at 10 o'clock asked the assembled thousands to sing "Onward, Christian Soldiers." On the platform was an impressive semicircle in which sat the nine deans and the vice provost in their academic robes, with the bright colors of their hoods showing their degrees.

Provost Smith showed no effects of his recent illness. He seemed greatly moved by the demonstration of the students and in the reading of the lesson, I Corinthians, xiii, or, rather, the recitation of it from memory. In his address he referred to the great success of the summer school, which had had more than 1000 students while his hearers had been on their vacations, and he expressed the belief the school had an even greater future.

He spoke words of advice to the various classes, quoting from the writings of former provosts, especially of those of the 18th century. When he came to the freshmen he made a most pressing plea that they look forward to their careers as precious things that no love of present pleasure should impair. Each freshman, he said, should think of the man he ought to be in the '20s and '30s of the century, when he would reap what he had sown. He warned them against sewing wild oats, and spoke of the sophomores who had dropped out of last year's class because they had neglected their opportunities.

The Provost announced the gift of the Maria Hooper Pennington Memorial Library to the University. It is presented by James Hooper Pennington, brother of Vice Provost Pennington, in memory of his mother, who was Mrs. James Lanman Pennington.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

The true college spirit will be in evidence tonight at the University of Pennsylvania at a reception which will be tendered the new students by the Christian Association in the gymnasium.

The joys of sport and the social side of college life will be explained by the leading athletes and officers of the senior class.

Then, too, there will be an abundance of college songs and cheers by way of variety between the addresses.

Addresses will be made by the following team captains: E. D. Harris, football; J. E. Meredith, track; J. M. M. Jr., baseball; and W. E. Chickering, crew. Incidentally, "Pick" Marshall will talk especially on football to the freshmen. E. J. McNicholl will discuss basketball and "Mike" Horvitz will talk on minor sports.

Gordon A. Hardwick, president of the senior class, will preside.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

U. OF P. OPENED BY PROVOST IN "GYM" SERVICE

Registration Figures Expected to Exceed 8000, Breaking Records

NEW MEN IN FACULTY

Provost Smith opened the fall term of the University of Pennsylvania in the gymnasium today. The great crowd of students who cheered the provost to the echo in the assembly room was only a fraction of the undergraduate body, which it is confidently expected from all indications will exceed 8000 when the figures are complete and ready for publication early in November. Last year the registration totaled 7152.

These figures, of course, include the graduate schools and the extension schools up-State.

The big auditorium in the gymnasium was packed to the doors when Provost Smith at 10 o'clock asked the assembled thousands to sing "Onward, Christian Soldiers." On the platform was an impressive semicircle in which sat the nine deans and the vice provost in their academic robes, with the bright colors of their hoods showing their degrees.

Provost Smith showed no effects of his recent illness. He seemed greatly moved by the demonstration of the students and in the reading of the lesson, I Corinthians, xiii, or, rather, the recitation of it from memory. In his address he referred to the great success of the summer school, which had had more than 1000 students while his hearers had been on their vacations, and he expressed the belief the school had an even greater future.

He spoke words of advice to the various classes, quoting from the writings of former provosts, especially of those of the 18th century. When he came to the freshmen he made a most pressing plea that they look forward to their careers as precious things that no love of present pleasure should impair. Each freshman, he said, should think of the man he ought to be in the '20s and '30s of the century, when he would reap what he had sown. He warned them against sewing wild oats, and spoke of the sophomores who had dropped out of last year's class because they had neglected their opportunities.

The Provost announced the gift of the Maria Hooper Pennington Memorial Library to the University. It is presented by James Hooper Pennington, brother of Vice Provost Pennington, in memory of his mother, who was Mrs. James Lanman Pennington.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

The true college spirit will be in evidence tonight at the University of Pennsylvania at a reception which will be tendered the new students by the Christian Association in the gymnasium.

The joys of sport and the social side of college life will be explained by the leading athletes and officers of the senior class.

Then, too, there will be an abundance of college songs and cheers by way of variety between the addresses.

Addresses will be made by the following team captains: E. D. Harris, football; J. E. Meredith, track; J. M. M. Jr., baseball; and W. E. Chickering, crew. Incidentally, "Pick" Marshall will talk especially on football to the freshmen. E. J. McNicholl will discuss basketball and "Mike" Horvitz will talk on minor sports.

Gordon A. Hardwick, president of the senior class, will preside.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

U. OF P. OPENED BY PROVOST IN "GYM" SERVICE

Registration Figures Expected to Exceed 8000, Breaking Records

NEW MEN IN FACULTY

Provost Smith opened the fall term of the University of Pennsylvania in the gymnasium today. The great crowd of students who cheered the provost to the echo in the assembly room was only a fraction of the undergraduate body, which it is confidently expected from all indications will exceed 8000 when the figures are complete and ready for publication early in November. Last year the registration totaled 7152.

These figures, of course, include the graduate schools and the extension schools up-State.

The big auditorium in the gymnasium was packed to the doors when Provost Smith at 10 o'clock asked the assembled thousands to sing "Onward, Christian Soldiers." On the platform was an impressive semicircle in which sat the nine deans and the vice provost in their academic robes, with the bright colors of their hoods showing their degrees.

Provost Smith showed no effects of his recent illness. He seemed greatly moved by the demonstration of the students and in the reading of the lesson, I Corinthians, xiii, or, rather, the recitation of it from memory. In his address he referred to the great success of the summer school, which had had more than 1000 students while his hearers had been on their vacations, and he expressed the belief the school had an even greater future.

He spoke words of advice to the various classes, quoting from the writings of former provosts, especially of those of the 18th century. When he came to the freshmen he made a most pressing plea that they look forward to their careers as precious things that no love of present pleasure should impair. Each freshman, he said, should think of the man he ought to be in the '20s and '30s of the century, when he would reap what he had sown. He warned them against sewing wild oats, and spoke of the sophomores who had dropped out of last year's class because they had neglected their opportunities.

The Provost announced the gift of the Maria Hooper Pennington Memorial Library to the University. It is presented by James Hooper Pennington, brother of Vice Provost Pennington, in memory of his mother, who was Mrs. James Lanman Pennington.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

The true college spirit will be in evidence tonight at the University of Pennsylvania at a reception which will be tendered the new students by the Christian Association in the gymnasium.

The joys of sport and the social side of college life will be explained by the leading athletes and officers of the senior class.

Then, too, there will be an abundance of college songs and cheers by way of variety between the addresses.

Addresses will be made by the following team captains: E. D. Harris, football; J. E. Meredith, track; J. M. M. Jr., baseball; and W. E. Chickering, crew. Incidentally, "Pick" Marshall will talk especially on football to the freshmen. E. J. McNicholl will discuss basketball and "Mike" Horvitz will talk on minor sports.

Gordon A. Hardwick, president of the senior class, will preside.

Several promotions of assistant professors and instructors were noted. The most interesting of these, in view of the attitude of the trustees on Nearing's radical tendencies, was the promotion of E. M. Patterson, instructor in finance, to be assistant professor of economics. He is a Nearing man and radical enough to have "written a book," it being generally understood that these days that men with conservative ideas on economics do not write books, judging from student comment.

WHITE SOX BATTER ATHLETICS' HURLERS

Continued from Page One

Lapp to Lajoie. Four runs, two hits, no errors.

Schlang flied to Fournier. Strunk flied to Ed. Collins. Oldring singled to left. Oldring tried to reach second when J. Collins muffed a throw from Russell, but he was retired, on J. Collins' throw to E. Collins. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING. Schalk singled to left. Russell forced Schalk. Turner to Siebold. Murphy dropped a Texas leaguer in centre. Weaver forced Murphy. Lajoie to Siebold. Russell and Weaver started a double steal and both men scored when Lajoie's throw bounded off Russell's leg to the stand. E. Collins beat out an infield hit. E. Collins took second on a passed ball. Fournier flied to Oldring. Two runs, three hits, one error.

Lajoie fouled to Blackburne. McInnis flied to Weaver. Siebold fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING. Crowell and McAvoy replaced Turner and Lapp for the Athletics. Jackson walked. J. Collins doubled to left and when Oldring fumbled the ball Jackson scored. Blackburne sacrificed. Crowell to McInnis. The squeeze play was worked. J. Collins scoring on Schalk's sacrifice. Demrau to McInnis. Russell singled to right, scoring Russell. Murphy took third on the throw in. When Demrau tried to catch Weaver at second, he threw into right field. Murphy scoring and Weaver taking third. Ed. Collins singled to left, scoring Weaver. Fournier walked. Jackson lined to Siebold. Five runs, four hits, two errors.

Weaver threw out Demrau. McAvoy fanned. Crowell flied to Fournier. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING. Sherman, recalled from Jersey City, started pitching for the Athletics. J. Collins doubled to left. Blackburne sacrificed. Demrau to McInnis. The latter making a great one-handed catch of a poor throw. Siebold threw out Schalk. J. Collins scoring. Siebold threw out Russell. One run, one hit, no errors.

Strunk's grounder. Oldring singled to left, scoring Schang. Lajoie tripled to deep left centre, scoring Strunk and Oldring. McInnis sent a short fly to Jackson. Ed. Collins threw out Siebold. Lajoie scoring. Demrau fanned. Four runs, four hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING. Bankston now playing centre field for the Athletics. Murphy singled to right. Weaver sacrificed. Sherman to McInnis. Lajoie threw out E. Collins. Murphy taking third. Fournier flied to Bankston. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Blackburne threw out McAvoy. Sherman walked out. J. Collins to Russell. Bankston tripled to right. Strunk flied to Weaver. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING. Jackson flied to Oldring. J. Collins flied to Bankston. Blackburne popped to Demrau. Russell threw out Oldring. Lajoie hit to the centre field wall for another triple. McInnis was safe on Weaver's wild throw. Lajoie scoring. Siebold fouled to Schalk. Demrau singled to centre. McAvoy fanned. One run, two hits, one error.

SEVENTH INNING. Schalk fanned