Russians Again in Retrograde Movement Along Dubno Front, Berlin Says

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—The Germans have resumed the offensive on the east front and the first results of the new movement are victories in the north and south of the battle line.

This victory, won on a line where the Russians have been delivering ferocious attacks, is regarded as a very important one, in view of the big number of prisoners and machine guns captured.

The Russians are reported to be in retreat all along the front north of Dubno. Northeast of Wischniaka the Germans broke through the Russians' positions, capturing 21 officers and 1300 men, as well as eight machine guns.

The bridge head east of Baranovitch 65 miles north of Pinsk has been stormed by Prince Leopold's army, which captured 300 Russians there.

General von Linsingen's troops have crossed the Stry River, below the fortress of Lutsk.

KAISER ORDERS HINDENBURG TO TAKE DVINSK IN WEEK

PETROGRAD, Sept. 28.—The situation on the Dvina River front is approaching a critical and decisive stage. Heavy snowstorms are raging north of the Gulf of Finland and are rapidly sweeping south, the snow bringing the first touch of winter to the Baltic provinces.

It is necessary for the Germans to redouble their efforts in their attempt to take Dvinsk if they are not to meet with failure.

TWO BOSTON GOLFERS LOSE MATCHES TODAY IN HAVERFORD EVENT

J. H. Sullivan and B. W. Estabrook, of Brookline, Beaten by Buxton and Washburn

H. W. PERRIN A WINNER

HAVERFORD, Pa., Sept. 28.—As a result of the third round of match play in the invitation tournament of the Merion Cricket Club here today the two remaining Boston representatives were eliminated.

Playing extremely steady golf, C. B. Buxton, of Huntington Valley, defeated J. H. Sullivan, of the Brookline Country Club, 4 up and 3 to play. It had been expected that Sullivan would reach the final, but Buxton won on his merits.

The Huntington Valley man showed much better judgment than his opponent. Time and again Sullivan misjudged distances, and it frequently led him into trouble.

Buxton's approach shots and putting were extremely accurate, and it was in this department of the game that he completely outplayed his opponent.

B. W. Estabrook, the second of the Bostonians, succumbed to L. M. Washburn, of Merion, but only on the 18th hole. The match was the best contested of the morning, and Washburn deserved no little credit for at one stage of the match he was four down.

H. L. Willoughby, the local champion, played remarkably good golf against Cecil B. Calvert, and at the finish he had the Aronimink man 6 down and 4 to play.

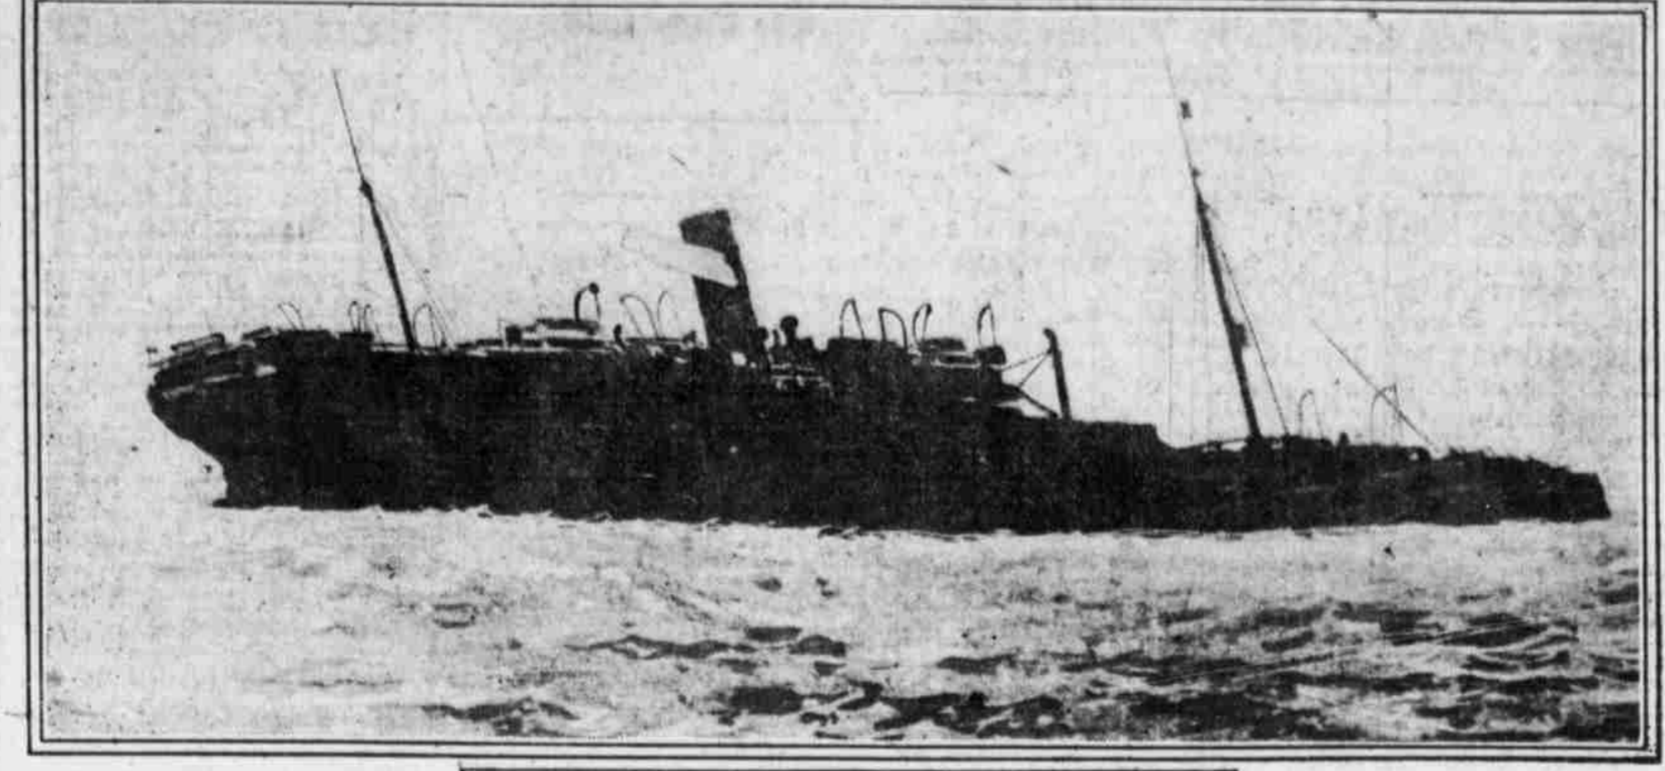

Summary: L. M. Washburn, Merion, defeated B. W. Estabrook, Brookline, 4 up and 3 to play. H. W. Perrin, Merion, defeated Dr. F. De Willard, Merion, 5 up and 3 to play. C. B. Buxton, Huntington Valley, defeated R. S. Frazee, Merion, 2 up. H. M. Francis, Huntington Valley, defeated J. O. Buddard, Overbrook, 4 up and 5 to play. J. H. Sullivan, Huntington Valley, defeated J. H. Sullivan, Brookline, 4 up and 3 to play. H. L. Willoughby, Philadelphia Cricket Club, defeated E. S. Satterthwaite, Aronimink, 3 up and 1 to play. H. M. Francis, Huntington Valley, defeated M. F. Jones, Frankford, 2 up. H. L. Willoughby, Philadelphia Country Club, defeated C. B. Calvert, Aronimink, 5 up and 4 to play.

THE WEATHER

September has indeed been a strange month. When the thermometer reads 41 degrees it's not warm. When the thermometer reads 92 degrees it's not cold.

For Philadelphia and vicinity—Fair and continued cool tonight and Wednesday, with probable frost on Thursday night; gentle, northerly wind.

LINER HESPERIAN SINKING OFF IRISH COAST

One American lost his life on September 6 when the Allan steamship Hesperian sank near Fastnet, after being struck either by a torpedo or mine. The upper picture shows the ship beginning to list. The lower one shows her going down by the head as two vessels rush to the rescue.

TRAIN PLOWS THROUGH FIFTY, KILLS TEN MEN

Six Other Workers Injured So Severely That Some May Die

PASSENGERS IN PANIC

Ten men were killed at 1:15 o'clock this morning and six others were injured, when a speeding Philadelphia and Reading Railway express train ran through a mass of 50 workmen in the Phoenixville tunnel. Seven of the dead were killed instantly. Three others died within a few hours. More deaths are expected.

The train was due to arrive at Philadelphia at 8:07 o'clock. There was a panic among the passengers, who feared asphyxiation from the heavy gas in the tunnel.

A section train, in charge of James Kenny, had just pulled into the tunnel with the gang of workmen, most of whom were foreigners, and the smoke from the engine had not cleared away when the express train, which was nearing Phoenixville, came rushing into the tunnel. The smoke obscured the view of the workmen, who by that time had left the section train and were walking through the tunnel to the scene of their work.

The workmen heard the noise of the train, became confused and stampeded. The train plowed into the ranks of the workmen.

Six of the men, all foreigners, were taken from the tunnel dead. They lay for some time at the Reading station at Phoenixville. Ten others, badly injured, were taken to the Phoenixville Hospital, where one man died shortly after being admitted.

All the dead are foreigners from Bridgeport, opposite Norristown. Among those injured, not foreigners, are James Kinney, foreman of the section gang, and Wallace J. Zimmerman, of Mahanoy City, who was in general charge of the work in the tunnel.

Just about a year ago, on September 22, the engineer and conductor of a Pottsville express train were asphyxiated in the tunnel, where the train had stopped after striking a woman. She had attempted to cross the tracks near the entrance to the tunnel.

After making an investigation, the coroner at that time said the engineer and conductor were killed by coal gas, which had been generated by the engine. Many passengers were overcome by fumes, but subsequently recovered.

MOUNTAIN RANGE IN N. H. SNOWBOUND TO ITS BASE

Peaks Heavily Covered and their Sides are Frosted

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Sept. 28.—The Presidential range is snowbound today. The peaks are heavily covered and the sides of the mountains are frosted to the base.

The road between Bretton Woods and Crawford Notch has been closed owing to the fallen trees that were snapped off across it in the gale.

CROWN PRINCE CHECKED IN EFFORT TO BREAK ANGLO-FRENCH OFFENSIVE

Allies in Second Stroke Increase Gains in Champagne and Artois—Berlin Disputes Claims of Victory Put Forth by Paris

Allies' Attack Repulsed, Berlin Says Officially

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—All Anglo-French attacks of yesterday and last night were repulsed with heavy losses, the War Office stated in an official bulletin this afternoon.

The enemy continues violent attacks at nearly every sector, but has been unable to pierce the German front.

The French suffered very severe losses in heavy attacks against the German works in the Champagne region. Massed French cavalry forces time and again assailed the German lines only to be forced back.

German artillery and machine guns poured a frightful fire into the cavalry ranks, forcing the French to flee in confusion. The Saxon and Frankfurt troops were especially mentioned for gallant fighting in this afternoon's official statement.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—Further progress by the French troops in the Artois region and in Champagne is announced in today's official communique from the War Office.

The official report also chronicles a severe check for the army of the German Crown Prince in the Argonne.

The German forces which opened an attack in the Argonne to relieve the pressure which the French troops were bringing to bear on the Champagne front numbered 18 battalions, approximately 18,000 men. The communique states that the ground before the French trenches was covered with bodies of Germans killed in obstinate assaults.

FRENCH OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE

The text of the communique follows: "In the evening and during the night we gradually gained ground in the Artois district toward the heights to the east and south of Souchez. In Champagne, the Germans are resisting in the positions to which they have fallen back, protected by concealed wire entanglements stretched along their front. We made some new progress toward Hill No. 185, west of Navarin Farm, and toward La Justice, north of Missages.

"In the Argonne, obstinate attacks made yesterday by the enemy with 18 battalions against our first-line trenches at Fille Norte and Nolante were ended by a serious check. Counter-attacks launched by us in the course of the night enabled us to drive out the German soldiers at almost all points where they had penetrated. The ground before our trenches is covered with the enemy's dead."

GERMANS' COUNTER ATTACKS STRONG

Furious counter attacks, in which asphyxiating gases, liquid fire, artillery and the bayonet are employed, are being launched by the Germans against the Allies over the greater part of the 250-mile battle front in the western theatre, except at the eastern extremity, where storms have brought about

CHALMERS HOLDS BROOKLYN WHILE DAISIES WIN, 6-4

Cravath Wields Willow at 1,000 Clip With Three Hits

DODGERS USE 3 SLABMEN

By a Staff Correspondent

EBBETTS FIELD, Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Outplaying their rivals in every department of the game this afternoon, the Phillies defeated Brooklyn by the score of 6 to 4 and put them out of the race for the National League pennant.

The victory, won with George Chalmers on the mound, puts Moran's men within one game of the flag.

The Phillies have seven more games to play and lead the Boston Braves by that number, while the latter club has eight games scheduled to go.

After the third inning today the result was never in doubt, as Chalmers got a firm grip on the situation, his teammates playing with the confidence of world's champions, while the Dodgers appeared to have lost their nerve entirely.

Larry Cheney, who began on the hill for Brooklyn, lasted but five rounds, Wheeler Dell replacing him. Dell was later relieved by Mails.

Chalmers yielded seven hits and passed three men, while the home team gave up eight hits and five bases on balls.

The Phils started off with a rush, scoring twice in the first inning on Paskert's single and a hit to left by Cravath, which Wheat allowed to get past him, both runners crossing the rubber. In their half of this frame Brooklyn tied the score on O'Mara's single, Daubert's double, Whitted's poor return of the hit to the infield and a sacrifice fly by Wheat.

In the third the Phillies took a two-run lead on a pass to Bancroft, his steal, Cravath's single and Myers' miff of Luderus' easy fly.

Moran's leader added another in the fifth on Bancroft's single, his steal, Miller's wild throw and Paskert's long fly to centre.

Stock tripled in the seventh and continued to pile on Cutshaw's bad relay throw to third. Brooklyn counted in the same inning on Getz's triple and a sacrifice fly by Olson, who batted for Dell.

Chalmers started the eighth with two passes, but pitched himself out of the hole by constant use of his spit ball.

In the ninth Getz hit a home run down the left field line, but the Dodgers could not rally sufficiently to tie the score.

FIRST INNING

Stock went out, O'Mara to Daubert. Bancroft was thrown out by Cutshaw. Paskert singled past third base. Cravath singled to left and the ball was fumbled by Wheat and rolled to the left-field fence, Paskert and Cravath both scoring. Luderus went out, Daubert to Cheney, who covered first. Two runs, two hits, one error.

O'Mara singled to right on the first ball pitched. Daubert doubled to centre and Whitted recovered the ball after it got by Paskert, and made a poor return to
