FIRST GAME BATTERIES

From the New York Evening Post: Although the winning percentage of he Philadelphia team will be lower than the winning percentage of any team in recent years, it is not true that the team holds its present position because it is the strongest of eight weak teams. In fact, no team in the National League may be considered weak. Philadelphia leads the league because it is the strongest of eight well-balanced teams.

In the National League there is a difference of 13 points in the batting averages of the eight teams; in the American League the Detroit team is batting 35 points better than the Yankees.

points better than the Yankees. Nearly every team in the National League has two pitchers who may be classed with the best. Such men as Mamaux and Adams, of Pittsburgh; Toney and Dale, of Cincinnati; Ragan and Rudolph, of Boston; Tearmau and Stroud, of New York; Coombs, Pfeffer, Dell and Smith, of Brouslyn; Pierce and Yaughn, of Chicago; Ames and Meadows, of St. Louis, and Alexander and Mayer, of Philadelphia, are responsible, to a great extent, for the closences of the great extent, for the closeness of the

In the American League, Boston Chi-cago, Washington, Detroit and New York have good pitching staffs, but two of these teams, New York and Washington, are extremely weak in batting.

The Red Sox have five pitchers who ave wop 13 games or more. These five nen have won 50 games and lost 25. Just where the Phillies would have finished had they been playing in the American League instead of the National can only be guessed at, but it is quite likely their fine pitching and fielding and fair hitting would have landed them very near the ten over the great Alex. It might seem rather had judgment to put in Leonard or Foster. Ruth might fraw the assignment if the first game is played at Boston. A left-hander, accord-ing to the dope, would work better on the Phillie field on account of the short right field fence. The commission will outplate its arrangements this week and the usual tom-up for the first game will be made. Nothing further has been done relative to having the Phillie games ing their personal jesiousles in Phila-dophia Baker and his pals are going to loss a wad of coin, as the National League park is not large enough to make a good sized chicken coop, while the Mach home can accommodate practically wice as many people. twice as many people.

From the Cleveland Finin Dealer: Grover Alexander, the uncrowned king of pitchers for the campaign of 1915, is willing to pitch five games of the world's series, should the annual mix-up between the American and National league cham-pionship outfits go the full limit of seven sames.

This information comes from Johnny Evers, captain of the Boston Braves, who Sundayed in Cleveland yesterday, and the pappery leader of the 1914 titleholders got puppery leader of the Bild titleholders got if first hand from Alexander himself. "Alexander was making no idle boast when he declared his ability to pitch five of the seven games," said Evers. "For he can do it, The two best pitchers in the land today are Alexander and Walter Johnson, and of the two I think Alex-ander has the edge for he has a greater repertory. While he has not the speed that Johnson has, he has more than the everage pitcher. He has a better curve than Walter and a better slow hall. As far as I know, Walter has no fadeaway, while Alexander has as good a one as Mathewayn."

while Alexander has as good a one as Mathewson." Alexander never has been popularly known as an iron man, but he has al-ready demonstrated his ability to pitch consecutively without appearing to suffer any atrain. In fact, he gave one of the greatest exhibitions of pitching ever wit-nessed when making the tour of the Fa-cific coast and Honololu, last winter. The tour ended in the metropolis of the Sand-wich islands. The two teams of tourists played a game in Friday. Alexander <text><text><text>
