A CITY BY THE SEA

The Traymore, of itself, is a city by the sea. In the full tide of the season, it has a population of more than 2000, including guests and household staff. In addition 2000 more have been entertained of a night in the Restaurant, the Submarine Grill, the Belvedere, and the Rose Hail. It supplies its own water from artesian wells. It makes its owfi light, heat, and ice. It has printing and laundry establishments. Supplies are drawn, like all cities, from selected markets outside; but in practically all other respects it is sufficient unto itself. Traymore City might figure on the map, and travelers sailing from New York to Savannah would distinguish it by the emerald rays, flashing from its twin towers, high above Absecon Lightheuse. For it is the most conspicuous object on the Atlantic Coast south of the Statue of Liberty.

Covers were laid for 100 guests, and the decorations were most eleborate, being gold baskets of various sizes and designs, filled with Killarney roses, pink dahlas and ferns.

Standing in the midst of the doll world the alphabetical county fair and market day, which will be held tomorrow at St. Francis' Country House for Conva-lencents, Darby, will be a real Daddy Long Legs Doll, presented by none other than Miss Ruth Chatterton. The doll, which was obtained through the efforth of Miss Marguetts, Davids of the contract Miss Ruth Chatterton. The doil, which was obtained through the efforth of Miss Marguerite Egan, one of the most enthusiastic members of the Junior Auxiliary, is a little French beauty, dressed in a white lingerie frock embroidered in blue, with a blue bow sporting in her curiy locks. And with this doil Miss Chatterton sent a little note to Miss Egan wishing every success to St. Francis' fete.

Not far off from Miss Daddy Long Legs will be discovered the Goose Girl Doil, given by Miss Marguerite Clark, of movie fame. The Goose Girl Doil is dressed in white with trimmings of pink, while from her arm tiny toy greese are huns by either Those Acels will
