

RUFGERS PICKED TO BEAT TIGERS ANNUAL FRAY "Vince" Stevenson Declares Princeton Line Can't Withstand Backs

CONTEST ON TOMORROW

By VINCENT M. STEVENSON For 35 years Princeton and Rutgers have been meeting on the gridiron, with the Tigers always the winner. Never in the history of the games between these two New Jersey institutions has Rutgers gone into the annual fray as the annual champion as they have done this year.

Mr. Stevenson is a supporter of the Yarens, and is the man who called on Congressman Yare with a petition, asking him to run for Mayor.

Mr. Stevenson is a supporter of the Yarens, and is the man who called on Congressman Yare with a petition, asking him to run for Mayor.

On the other hand, Rutgers has been practicing steadily since early in August and is in November form for an October game.

There is some inclination to criticize Rutgers for unsportsmanlike spirit in taking an unfair advantage of the Tigers, and the feeling appears to be general at Princeton that this will be Rutgers' last year in the first place.

Now to get to the two teams as they stand today and for my reasons in thinking that the Tigers are due to go down in the first place.

Quarterback is the only backfield position that is worrying Rush. Ames is the choice for the position for the Rutgers game, but with Hays and Eddy showing better every day, he is likely to be replaced before long.

With this line-up of green men and a badly coached line, the Tigers have but one chance to stave off defeat at the hands of Rutgers.

KAISER'S DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER STATES ACCEPTABLE PEACE TERMS

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Conditions on which Germany would be willing to make peace are set forth in an interview granted by Herr Zimmermann, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, to the correspondent of the Nieuw Rotterdam Courant and published today in the Lokal Anzeiger.

These include: First. Guarantees assuring Germany of safety from future attack. Second. Settlement of the Belgian question in such a manner as to assure Germany that the Belgian army cannot serve as the vanguard of British forces in the future.

Third. Stipulations as to the future of Poland which will make that nation a "buffer State," preventing attack on Germany by Russia. The correspondent sought the interview with Herr Zimmermann to obtain a full expression as to Germany's attitude toward Holland and in its course the Under Secretary took up the broader questions resulting from the war.

As regards Holland, Herr Zimmermann said: Holland has nothing to fear from Germany, which will not violate its neutrality or interfere with its political and economic independence. Germany appreciates Holland's strict neutrality.

Alexander Russell Bolting Dismissed From Naval Academy by Daniels for Hazing

Alexander Russell Bolting, son of Dr. Robert H. Bolting, of 8706 Germantown avenue, with five of his classmates, was dismissed from the United States Naval Academy by Secretary of the Navy Daniels, accused of hazing, according to dispatches from Washington today.

Dr. Bolting said today that he knew of his son's dismissal, and expected the news of his early education in private schools in this city and then attended the Chestnut Hill Academy and the North-east High School. He is a grandson of the late Rear Admiral A. W. Russell, which made him eligible for presidential appointment.

Last June Bolting was a witness at the investigation of the examination irregularities charges at the Naval Academy. Bolting was not called to testify, but was merely called to relate certain incidents which led up to the investigation.

Just what the hazing charges are that caused his dismissal was not stated in the report. Bolting is a member of the sophomore class at colleges and universities.

In addition to Bolting five other cadets were dismissed on the same charges and 15 were set back in their classes. The others dismissed are David Gilck, Pennsylvania; Robert S. Lamotte, Washington; Charles B. Tuley, Kentucky; Edward H. Hill, Idaho; Dwight C. Cook, Ohio.

Among the 15 set back one, F. W. Benson, is a son of Rear Admiral Benson, of the office of operations in the navy; and another, A. B. Craig, is a son of Governor Craig, of North Carolina.

Railroad Men to Hold First Shoot Tomorrow—Withington President

The Pennsylvania Railroad Gun Club has been organized with a membership of 61 officers and employees of the company. Membership in the club is open to all officers and employees of the railroad who work or live in Philadelphia, or whose duties bring them there.

The club will hold shoots on the first and third Saturdays of each month over the traps of the White Flyer Target Club, of Moore, Delaware County, Pa. The first Saturday of each month will be reserved for club shoots, the first of which is scheduled for tomorrow.

As the membership of the Pennsylvania Railroad Gun Club includes a number of experienced shots in addition to beginners, special arrangements will be organized for each shoot until a proper handicapping system can be worked out.

Continued from Page One Herron and N. H. Oliver, of Pennsylvania, 6 and 5, while the Philadelphia team of H. W. Fowner and G. A. Crump gave Raymond Outmet and J. H. Sullivan, Jr., a rare battle that was not ended in favor of the Bostonians until the winning putt had been run down on the 18th hole.

Of the four players, Outmet was by far the steady one. Time and again, when his partner drove out of bounds, or flubbed a maulie or left him with a long putt for the half or a win, Outmet was not found wanting. The winner of today's match plays New York tomorrow for the trophy cup. After the players had dried out thoroughly the single matches were begun.

RIGGS BANK MEN INDICTED FOR PERJURY

Officials of Powerful Financial Institution Must Answer Criminal Charge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Four indictments alleging perjury were today returned by the Grand Jury against Charles C. Glover, president, William H. Flatters, vice president, and Henry H. Flatters, cashier, of the Riggs National Bank, one of the strongest financial institutions in the country.

The indictments grew out of the trouble between the Treasury Department and the bank officials, which are expected to result in court decisions that will define exactly the meaning of the national bank supervision laws.

A joint indictment against the three bankers and three individual presentment members were handed up by the Grand Jury. An arrangement had been made with counsel whereby no warrants were to be issued, but they will appear in court tomorrow, enter pleas of not guilty with privilege of demurring, and then be released on $5000 bail each.

It has not been determined whether the indictments shall be tried under the District of Columbia code, which provides a penalty of from two to ten years' imprisonment, or under the Federal penal code, which provides for a fine of not more than $5000 and imprisonment of not more than five years.

Frank J. Hogan and ex-Senator Bailey, counsel for the defendants, issued a statement declaring the charge made last April by Samuel Insull, president of the Treasury Department, was an effort to shoot of the civil suit brought by the bank recently against Treasury Department officials. In the hearing of that suit Insull presented evidence that the Riggs Bank had been dealing in stocks.

The affidavit in reply declared that the bank never at any time bought or sold any stock whatever from or through the firm of Johnson & Co., nor made a short sale of stocks through that firm.

A final decision in the civil suit is expected in the national bank supervision law.
