HERE'S A GOOD JOB FOR POISON EXPERT

But He Must Know All About Botany and Be Under 40 Years Old.

If you're out of work and understand all about poisonous plants, botany, ale, the entire receipts of which | zoology, elementary chemistry, and have be turned over to the Polish a bachelor's degree from a big college, Relief Fund. The first city was and are under 40 years old, you can get last month. The second will be the third New York and the

These somewhat odd qualifications are essential if you answer the appeal of Uncle Sam for "poisonous plant investigators." It seems that poison plant experts must be scarce, for the United States Civil Service Bureau issued a circular control of the control of cular today urging such gentuses to enter an examination which will be held on October 20.

The commission intended holding the The commission intended holding the examination on September 8, but it is highly probable that lack of applicants caused the postponement. No one knows definitely what caused the poison testers to hold aloof, but it is possible that the rather peculiar conditions were largely esponsible.

For instance, it is definitely stated that each "conditions must submit to the

For instance, it is definitely stated that each "applicant must submit to the examiner on the day of examination his photograph taken within the last two years." Therefore, if any one seeking the job happened to offer a photo which was taken before October 2, 1913, they would be disqualified.

the fact that each applicant must be less than 40 years old is another exaction which probably frightened many away.

Just why Uncle Sam wants to "Oslerize" men at 40 is difficult to understand, in view of the fact that the world's greatest chemists, botanists and analytical experts are much more than that.

There is considerable solece in the There is considerable soluce in thought that toadstools, ivy poison plants and others which are dangerous or an-noying may be removed when the full corps of investigators are at work. It may be necessary to employ a Sher-lock Holmes to discover applicants, for the city directory does not give a single name with "poison plant investigator" at-

GOES TO FIANCE IN CHINA

Philadelphia Girl Meets Him in Shanghai for Wedding

A young woman of West Philadelphia. new living with her husband in the Philippines, journeyed almost around the world to Shanghai, China, to meet him when he found it impossible to return to this city. She was Miss Marion Gra-ham Fleck, daughter of Mrs. Annie Rick Fleck, of 4ist street and Chester avenue. The husband is James Ross Corbin, a mining engineer. He is the grandson of James G. Maril, of 424 West Chelten ave-nue, and a son of Ross and Josephine M. Corbin, formerly known in musical circles of this city. Mr. Corbin went to the Philippines several years ago. He had not seen Miss Fleck since that time. The young persons corresponded frequently, however, and finally decided that the bride-to-be would travel to Shanghai to meet Mr. Corbin.

The question of inaugurating a steamship service to Europe via the Cape of Good Hope has again been considered by the Australian Government, which has decided to proceed with the project as early as possible. It is believed that a line for the carriage of mails to London, as well as passengers and cargo, could be established for about $3,500,000.
