

FORECAST FOR NEXT WEEK PREDICTS GAY TIME FOR BUDS

Teas, Luncheons and Small Dinner-Dances Will Keep the Social Ball Rolling Through Third Week of October

YOUNGER members of society are looking forward to another week of almost uninterrupted gaiety. Teas, luncheons, small dinner dances, informal suppers and theatre parties, which are after all voted much more fun than the balls which will come later, and where an extra amount of dignity is necessary.

The week will open with a tea which will be given on Monday by Mr. and Mrs. D. Knickerbocker Boyd, at the Mermaid Cricket Club, to introduce their daughter, Miss Barbara M. Boyd, and which will be followed by a dinner dance on Tuesday.

On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Gove, of Germantown, will give a dinner of 14 covers for their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sargent, of New Haven.

There will be three debutantes introduced on Wednesday. In Chestnut Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wright will give tea to present their cousin, Miss Mary Eleanor Bohlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodville Bohlen, and Dr. and Mrs. Radcliffe Cheston have selected this day also to introduce their daughter, Miss Charlotte M. Cheston, at their home in Chestnut Hill. At St. David's Mr. and Mrs. Willard Spencer will give a tea for their daughter, Miss M. Claire Spencer.

Wednesday also will be the first day of the annual Whittemarsh races, meet, at Berksheim, Chestnut Hill.

Miss Theodore Keith Lillie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lillie, will make her formal bow to society on Thursday, at a tea which her parents will give at their country home in Haverford, and on Thursday the autumn luncheons at Redkey Club, in Fairmount Park, will commence.

Friday will be a busy day for the debutantes. The most popular of the affairs to which they have been invited to receive—Miss Margaret Dixon Myers and Miss Sarah Sargent Myers, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard Myers, of St. David's, will make their debut and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bayard Bowie will give a dinner in honor of Miss Charlotte M. Cheston and Miss Mary Eleanor Bohlen. That same evening Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Alexander Blair will give a dinner for Miss Edith Nelson Fane, another debutante. Mrs. Charles Winter Baily will give a luncheon at the Bellevue-Stratford on Friday also.

Miss A. Marjorie Taylor will be introduced on Saturday, at a tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Taylor, at a tea which they will give at the Germantown Cricket Club. That evening Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barkie will entertain at a dinner-dance at their home, 1100 Spruce street, near Wayne, in honor of Miss Mariana W. Gowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. ## AUTUMN WEDDINGS TODAY WILL ATTRACT SOCIETY FOLK

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Fox Becomes Bride of Mr. Sidney Errington Martin—Miss Glodean Smith Marries Dr. C. C. Eves—Other Nuptials

ONE of the most attractive of the autumn weddings took place today, when Miss Margaret Crozier Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Fox, of Berthelton, York road, Ogontz, became the bride of Mr. Sidney Errington Martin. The ceremony took place in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Elkins Park, and was performed by the rector, the Rev. Thompson J. Cole. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. George W. Elkins, Jr., as matron of honor, and Mrs. Elkins' little daughter, Miss Stella Elkins, as flower girl.

Mr. Martin had as his best man his brother, Mr. Carl Niedhard Martin, and his ushers were Mr. Hamilton Dismont, Mr. John Hugh McQuillen Carter, Mr. John Browning Clement, Jr., Mr. John C. Gilpin, Mr. John Gilbert, Mr. Van Antwerp Lea, Mr. J. Elliot Newth, Mr. Caleb F. Fox, Jr., Mr. Donald Kirkpatrick, Mr. Edward B. Robinson, Mr. Frederick Lyman Ballard and Mr. John Shipley Dixon.

Only the members of the families and a few intimate friends attended the ceremony. A large reception followed at the home of the bride.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin, with a long court train, over which the soft tulle veil, held in place with a small bunch of orange blossoms, fell in graceful folds. She carried a large nosegay of lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor was gowned in cream-colored chiffon, trimmed with a brown sash; the skirt was made short and full; bronze shoes and stockings were worn. Her hat was of brown velvet, and she carried a large bouquet of Ward roses.

The flower girl was dressed in a white muslin frock, and carried a basket of Ward roses.

EVES-SMITH
A very pretty home wedding will take place this evening at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Glodean Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Smith, of 210 North 19th street, will become the bride of Dr. Curtis Clyde Eves, of 120 Walnut street. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. John G. Wilson, of the Union Methodist Episcopal Church, of 29th and Diamond streets.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a gown of white silk tulle over white satin. The skirt will be short with a series of pointed tulle trimmings and folds of white satin and lilies of the valley. She will carry a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses.

Miss Smith will be attended by Miss Hazel Haldeman as maid of honor, Mrs. LeRoy Smith as matron of honor and Miss Mae B. Eves, a sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid.

Miss Haldeman will wear a frock of white satin, with a wide fold of pink satin, a deep pink satin girdle, finished at the back with a bow, and two long panel ends complete this costume. She will carry an arm bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Smith and Miss Eves will be dressed alike in dainty white lingerie frocks of chiffon voile and lace, with charming gold and blue taffeta costumes. They will also carry arm bouquets of pink chrysanthemums.

Doctor Eves has selected Mr. Pennock M. Way as best man.

A small reception will follow the ceremony, after which Dr. and Mrs. Eves will leave for a wedding trip. They will be at home after November 18, at the Avondale, 39th and Locust streets.
