DEFECTS IN POLICIES OF WARRING NATIONS MAY BE GOOD LESSON

Advantage to Be Gained by Studying and Correcting Them Pointed Out in Address at Safety Congress

ENGLAND AND GERMANY

The defects of the national policies of the belligerents, as exposed by the war, may prove to be a valuable lesson to this may prove to be a valuable lesson to this rountry, according to Chancellor S. B. McCormick, of the University of Pitta-burgh, in an address on "The Develop-ment of the Safety Idea" to the Safety Congress in session here.

"In the main," said Chancellor Me-Cormick. ner of the rights and privileges of infor of the rights and privileges of in-aviduals, whereas every German is taught from the cradie up that the State is supreme, and that collective action is ideal." He then added that the blending of these two systems, with the vicious features of each eliminated, would help the American people in the solution of our ancial and economic problems.

The "rank carelessness" of the general public was accred by W. C. Wilson, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad

"Three times as many trespassers as employes and passengers are killed by the railroads," he said. "Outsiders cause m per coat of the fatalities charged against railways. The public should be rating itself to exercise greater care. Coration is necessary.

The safety first idea as a strong factor in making for worldwide peace was suggested by R. W. Campbell, president of the Safety Council, this morning in his inst address as president. He will be auc-ceeded tonight by A. T. Morey, of the Commonwealth Steel Company, of St.

Dr. Francis D. Patterson, president of the local Safety Council, welcomed the delegates and later made an address in which he advocated the abolishment red as a color to signify danger. His reason for this, he said, was the fact that a red sign cannot withstand the atof the elements and also the fact tack of the elements and also the tack that it blends readily with other colors in dim light and does not contrast strongly with other colors at all times. II, W. Forster, of the National Protectfee Association, was the only Philadel phian to be elected to the board of di-rectors of the council this morning. That number also included the number of Pennsylvanians included on the board, George T. Fonda, of the Bethlehem Steel Company, being chosen by the delegates. The Council this morning wired the Safety First Federation of America, now n session at Detroit, and asked that they appoint a conferece committee so that greater co-operation between the two bodies will result.

Rector of St. John's Was Satisfactory-Alleges Plot

The attorney for the defense in the trial of the Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, accused of conduct unbecoming a clergyman and violation of his ordination vows. began his argument before the ecclesiastical court in the Church of St. Luke and the Ephiphany this afternoon.

He called two witnesses and then asked for a postponement until Thursday, saying that owing to the sudden announcement that the prosecution would rest he had not had time to prepare his defense. Chancellor Henry Budd granted the postponement. Edgar N. Black, attorney for the accused rector of St. John's, said in his opening speech that Mr. Richmond would make no denial of the fact that he had written the letters to Bishop Rhinelander which are part of the evidence. He would prove, however, he said, that owing to a plot in the congregation against hin: the clergyman had been goaded and driven to write in a manner far different than that he would have used if there had been no such plot; and that there had been such a plot the attorney proposed to prove. Charles A. Brown in and William T. Hamilton, said Mr. Black, were members of the "curbstone vestry," and had con-spired to get rid of Mr. Richmond for a long time. Mr. Brown had written to the Bishop over the rector's head, he declared. Mr. Brown lived at Glenside and rarely attended the church, according to the attorney, who said he would prove this, and that when the vestryman did come it was usually to make trouble. A filmess, Mrs. Mary A. C. Patton, was called, and said that Mrs. John Brown, the mother of Mr. Brown, had
