FRANKLIN FIRLD, Oct. 21.-Pitt defeated Penn, 14 to 7, this afternoon, but the result was almost as good as a victory for Fenn, as no one expected Penn. to hold the powerful Pitt eleven to such в сіове неоге.

Pitt played far below its normal game. but that should detract no credit from Penn, who put up a more aggressive and game battle from start to finish. The Quakers played like a new team, and there was hardly a minute when Pitt was not worried.

In the closing minutes of the game Penn outplayed Glenn Warner's team, scoring its touchdown one minute before time was

If the Red and Blue's offensive play had been Meveloped better, it is probable Penn would have fied or bettered the score. In rushing from acrimmage Penn was out-classed by Pitt, but the former always braced or was benefited by Pitt's fum-bles at critical stages:

Poor punting also was a great handi-cap to Pitt, one of Hasting's punts travel-ing less than 30 yerds. In the entire same he fulled to average more than 23 lards.

On the other hand, Herry got a greater datance and his kields were placed so that Fitt backs had no chance to run the ball

Williamson and Hastings, two Pitt irs, who were looked upon as All-nerican timber, were covered at all has by Penn and they falled to shine.

Pitt stars were De Hart, Peck and Pry and both ends. They were the only men in the Pitt line-up who played up to the form expected. On the other hand, prac-

NEW HAVEN, Oct 23 .- W. and J. completely outplayed Yale today. Her forward passes seemed to mystify the Blue team and was the chief factor in scoring a 16 to 7 victory.

This was the second year in succession that W. and J. has beaten Yale. W. and J. worked with a machine-like procession that contained a reminder of the powerful.

Harvard team of 1914. Yale on the other hand played a hard game, fighting every step of the way.

Following W. and J.'s kick-off Wilson and Scovil alternated hammering the opposing line for steady gains to the 5-yard line, where W. and J. held and took the batt. W. and J. was forced to kick from behind her goal line, making a poor at-tempt because of the wind.

tempt because of the wind.

A successful forward pass netted W. and J. 20 yards, which was lost through a penalty. A fumbled pint gave W. and J. the ball on Yale's 40-yard line. Fong forward passes, Mcketh to Stobb, placed the ball on Tale's 20-yard line. Mosher attempted a placement goal from the 30-yard line. Hyman holding the ball from the 30-yard line. Hyman holding the ball from the 30-yard line. The attempt it is day a small margin. The period ended.

Score: Yale, 0. W. and J., 0.

"I have at all times approved of Director Taylor's recommendations, and have given them my earnest support. I shall be glad to have the opportunity of helping put them through."

Mr. Conn's signalure brings the lists of Republican councilmants candidates to it. A stone-wall defense on the part of W. and J suded Yale a hope of score in the second period. Three times the heavy Yale bucks struggled to cross W. and J's

CUTTER MIAMI IN CHASE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. Somewhere off the Florida coast the United States revenue cutter Miami is in hot pursuit of the steamship Zealandia this afternoon, according to confidential reports to the Department of

The Zealandia is alleged to be manned by a German crew, among whom are the Germans who escaped from the interned cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm at Nor-folk, Va. Agents of the Department of Justice earlier today had reported that they had received information that the Zealandia is to be used as a commerce raider by the Germans.

It was stated at the Department of Jus-tice this afternoon that if any of the men who escaped from Norfolk are aboard the Zealandia they will be cuted on charges of piracy, which is pun-ishable by death,

The Zealandia discharged its regular crew at Pensacola, and shipped a crew made up entirely of Germans, Govern-ment agents reported. The Zealandia estensibly was to go to Tampico and get a cargo o foll. From Tampico it was reported today that the vessel has not arrived there, though sufficient time has elapsed for her to plete the voyage,

The clue to the Zealandia's disappearnnce was furnished to the New York customs officials by E. W. Streeter, a ship broker, who said he had received his in-formation from the engineer of the vessel. The corroboration of Street's report, officials here declare, means that a German pirate ship is abroad, subject to capture by any vessel able to affect it, and with hanging awaiting all of the crew
