but ruin to so many—the juvenile and half-grown putt. Mrs. Fox has a failing in this direction, and has tolied off the curfew of many a hopeful opponent by her deadly putting in the last 500 yards of play Miss McNeely had chances to win, but slowed up coming home. She could never quite point the nose of her ball dead down the line when everything depended on it. This is without doubt due to her on it. This is without doubt due to her lay-off from tournament play for more than two months. She wan her early matches in the tourney just ended by rather wide margins and gave the conqueror of Mrs. Vanderbeck the hard batter was expected to, despite her that the was expected to, despite her golf vacation.

Hugh Willoughby attached another link to his championship belt when he won the championship for men of the Coun-try Club. He had little trouble 'n coming down to the finals, the matches all being runaway affairs, and he finally won in 36 holes from R. M. Wister for the title by a soft margin of 9 and 8.

Willoughby has nothing between him and defeat in all the matches he enters but his steel wrists and his clubs. The club hits the ball about 30 feet and Wil-loughby's wrists carry it the other 298 is. He akes a half awing for any on the menu and, according to the fillip with which he wiggles his wrists, so is the distance the ball goes.

If it were not for the fact that he doesn't want to quit the game of golf as long as he is able to lift a club, J. G. Galbraith, of Lansdowne, would be will-ing to pack his clubs away in the attic. This is the only reason, for he has now copped his first cup after a long period, which he refers to as the "dark ages," when he strove and strove again to finish out in front. He has played in club tourneys. Philadelphia Golf Association melets and all kinds of invitation events without teeing up the last afternoon to

But now the black clouds have turned over and Galbraith has helped himself to the silver lining. Galbraith is a membe "Old Guard," and he was in the finest form when he showed all the honorables the way home recently and dug up his first trophy. At that, he was forced to play off with two others before he could claim the prize for his very own.

In conjunction with the "Old Guard" tourney the Blovans trophy was competed for. This is a Lansdowne event in which the idea is to hand in the lowest card for the three short holes that form a triangle. They are played six times, thus making 18 holes.
G. W. Statzell, J. A. McKeon and W.

W. Mayer tied for low score, and Ed-werd Grauley was fourth. Many of the entrants bemoaned the fact that the holes, though short, were such mean cusses.

resterday in the week-end matinees. A touchdown was made from the kickoff, another touchdown was attempted by an aspiring athlete who would have succeeded had he been running in the right direction, and a fake place kick was tried when the second touchdown was the result of a series of brilliant line smashes by Glassott Dully and Hunt. Glascott Dully soing over from the I-yard line. the ball was only 80 yards from the goal posts. These were only a few features that livened up the fall sport, and the schoolboys spent a pleasant afternoon.

The real surprise of the day was the defeat of West Philadelphia High by Penn Charter. Dick Merritt's players Improved considerably since their game with St. Luke's last week, and outplayed and outkicked their rivals throughout the game. Forward passes that were cleverly executed and thrown to the right man were responsible for both touchdowns scored by the Quakers. Pete Heck, despite his bum ankle, did some excellent line-plunging, and Walsh tore around the ends for several speciacular runs, The Feasters, Captain Dave and Brother Bill, were the stars for the Speed Boys.

Walter Dunn's La Salle College players it up a same fight against Catholic ligh, but were swamped by the score of 14 to 0. It was one of the best games played in Philadelphia this year, and kept the large crowd in a constant state of ex-citement. La Salle suffered from a stage fright in the first half, and before recovered Catholic High had pushed over vard line before Williamson nulled him down from behind with a flying tackle.

PLAN ALL-FOR-GLORY RUNS West Branch Decides to Change Night-Weitz w Winner

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Football in all of its varied forms two touchdowns. It was a clean name, however, and no rough work was industed in. Catholic High's first score came in

One thing brought out in the game was that La Salle in composed of a bunch of nervy players who play hard until the final whistle blows. With the score of 14 to 6 against them, they fought harder than ever, and twice held Catholic High for downs when the ball was on the 5-

Mahoney was the star of the game, but O'Nell and Elser pushed him closely for the honors. Sullivan and Captain Glass-cott were stars on Catholic High and Smith played a better game in the line than has been seen here in years.

Poor generalship on the part of Sheehan was largely responsible for La Salle's defeat. He was only played the position in two games, however, and probably will improve before the season is over. Once he became so flustered that he called for a fake place kick when the ball was en his own 25-yard line, or 50 yards from the goal posts. Catholic High refused to be deceived, however, and the play was not a success. Perhaps they thought that Mahoney couldn't kick 80 yards.

The man who runs toward his own goal line and makes a score for the other side always gets a big laugh, and we generally chortle a couple of times during the season. Although rather late, the old stuff was put on yesterday afternoon, when Elser intercepted a forward pass and, after turning around a couple of times, started for the goal line with a clear field shead of him. The Catholic High players refused to allow an out-sider to score for their leam, howeven, and Elser's good intentions were nipped in the bud when he was tackled from Outside of this Elser played a property and a season as the state of Southern High was defeated by Chester High by the score of 13 to 6, but the suburban boys were forced to play hard to win. Herr made the teuchdown for the locals after Rosetsky had carried the ball down the field on a series of line smashes. Penalties aggregating 30 yards gave Chester a big advantage when the score was tied and placed the ball near the goal where the winning counter was pushed over. 212 224

After outplaying Episcopal the first half and part of the second Chestnut Hill was mosed out at the finish and lost, 12 to 7. In the last period, when the Hillers were leading by the score of 7 to 6. Dickson got loose for a long run and carried the ball to the eight-yard line. After three, attempts Applegate went over for the score that won the game. The other touchdown for Episcopal was scored by J. Stewart.

"By" Wharton again distinguished himself by scoring the Hillers' only touchdown in the first period and afferward kicking the goal. "He made a brilliant run through a broken field, dodged several tacklers and acted like a regular Howard Berry ander full steam.

Luke's lost to Haverford College third team at Wayne in one of the hardest fought games of the year. St. Luke's took the lead at the start by scoring from the kick-off, but Haverford came right back, and after receiving the ball on the next kick-off rushed it the entire length of the field for a score. The college boys were heavier than their prep school apponents and tore through the line at will. A split play was used and this confused. A split play was used and this confused St. Luke's linemen, who were drawn away, from the play. St. Luke's took the lead in the third period when a safety was scored, but Haverford came right back and registered a drop kick from the field, which won the game.
