

A PICTORIAL REVIEW OF THE SUFFRAGE FIGHT NOW AT ITS HEIGHT IN PHILADELPHIA

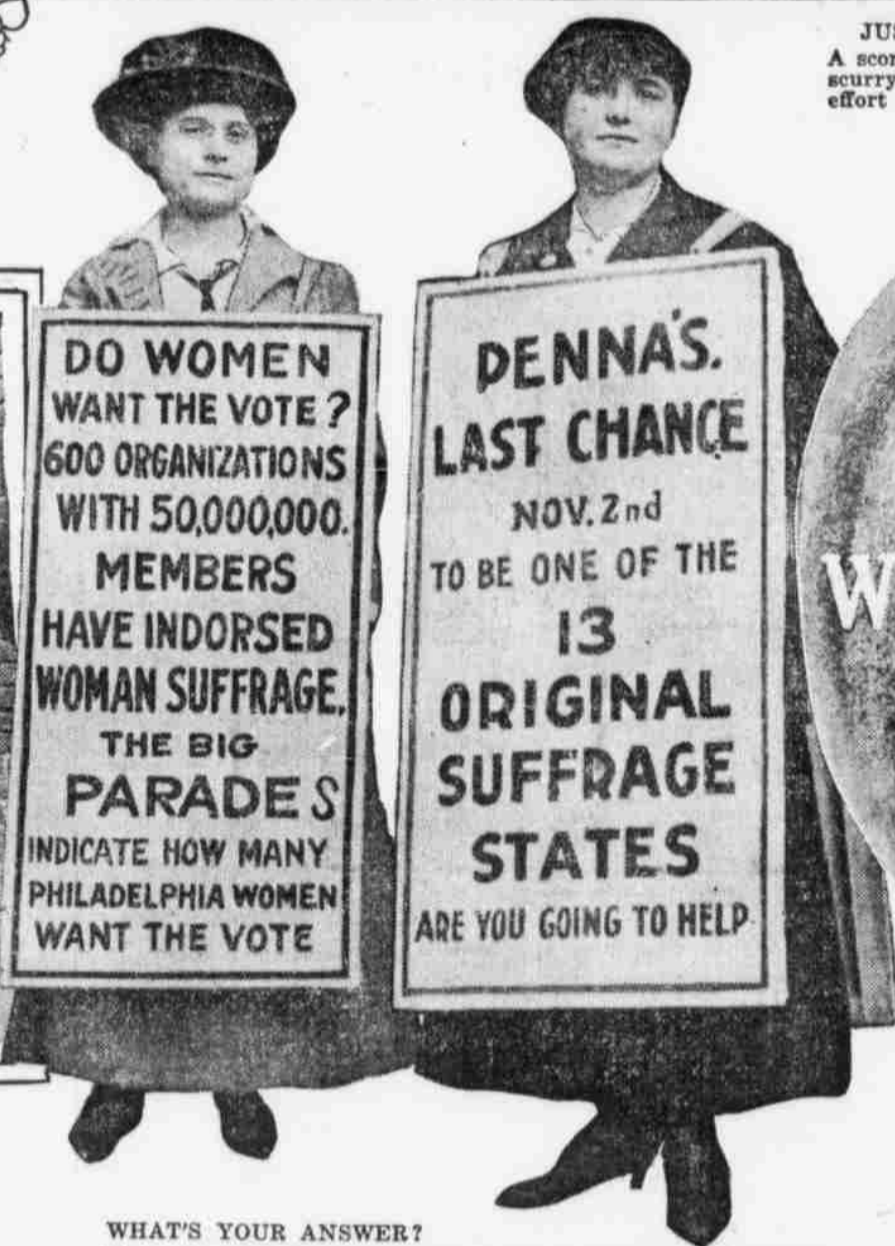

WILL THIS BE A TYPICAL PHILADELPHIA SCENE?
This is how they do things in Los Angeles, Cal. It is registration day, and a woman registration clerk is taking statistics about the women voters, some of whom come with their children.

JUST A BRIEF STOP BY A MEMBER OF THE FLYING SQUADRON
A score of automobiles, carrying suffrage speakers and distributors of literature, scurry about the city and environs stopping here and there as they go, in an effort to win converts to the "Votes for Women" cause. This incident shows Miss Elizabeth McShane speaking at the Schuylkill Arsenal.

WHY OBEY LAWS IF YOU CAN'T HELP MAKE THEM?
Here are some ardent suffrage supporters deliberately disobeying a "Post No Bills Under Penalty of the Law" mandate, by decorating the prohibited fence with "Votes for Women" posters. They are true to their principle that "legislation without representation is tyranny."

DO WOMEN WANT THE VOTE?
600 ORGANIZATIONS WITH 50,000,000 MEMBERS HAVE INDORSED WOMAN SUFFRAGE. THE BIG PARADES INDICATE HOW MANY PHILADELPHIA WOMEN WANT THE VOTE

ARE YOU GOING TO HELP

THE BOGY-MAN WILL GET YOU IF—
The suffragists won't give the men even their nights in peace. This object of torture, a Halloween souvenir, it is hoped will terrify the timid into voting for woman suffrage.

WHAT'S YOUR ANSWER?
Thousands of Philadelphia's voters daily stare at signs like these worn by the sandwich-women. Here are two reasons advanced by the suffrage advocates for the vote.

A MUTE APPEAL BY THE WOMEN FOR VOTES
The Equal Franchise Society, 35 South 9th street, has an enthusiastic window decorator who changes the placards, pictures and decorations on display every few days. This is how the window looks today.

BUT, ON THE OTHER HAND, THERE IS THIS
This window display, at the Anti-Suffrage shop, 728 Chestnut street, also attracts its partisans. The youngster, who is doing sandwich duty, and the other workers here are as certain that the answer will be "No" as their opponents are that it will be "Yes."
