

WOMAN DETECTIVE ABANDONS LICENSE; MUST STAND TRIAL

Juliet C. Bollstater and Four Aids Face Prosecution for Manufacturing 'Divorce' Evidence

TWO WIVES ACCUSERS

Attorney Scott Obtains Confessions From Assistants Who "Gathered" Alleged Facts

WOMAN DETECTIVE ABANDONS LICENSE; MUST STAND TRIAL

Juliet C. Bollstater will not continue to direct the quest for divorce court evidence with which to facilitate the efforts of husbands to regain bachelorhood.

This is the second private detective license to be wiped out within the last week. Last Monday Judge Sullivan criticized the methods used by Harry Bauer and refused to renew his license.

Mrs. Bollstater was employed by John G. Clawell, who wanted to divorce his wife, Mrs. Mary Anna Clawell. Male and female detectives were employed by Mrs. Bollstater, who ran her detective agency from an office in the Real Estate Trust Building.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

WOMAN DETECTIVE ABANDONS LICENSE; MUST STAND TRIAL

Juliet C. Bollstater and Four Aids Face Prosecution for Manufacturing 'Divorce' Evidence

TWO WIVES ACCUSERS

Attorney Scott Obtains Confessions From Assistants Who "Gathered" Alleged Facts

WOMAN DETECTIVE ABANDONS LICENSE; MUST STAND TRIAL

Juliet C. Bollstater will not continue to direct the quest for divorce court evidence with which to facilitate the efforts of husbands to regain bachelorhood.

This is the second private detective license to be wiped out within the last week. Last Monday Judge Sullivan criticized the methods used by Harry Bauer and refused to renew his license.

Mrs. Bollstater was employed by John G. Clawell, who wanted to divorce his wife, Mrs. Mary Anna Clawell. Male and female detectives were employed by Mrs. Bollstater, who ran her detective agency from an office in the Real Estate Trust Building.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

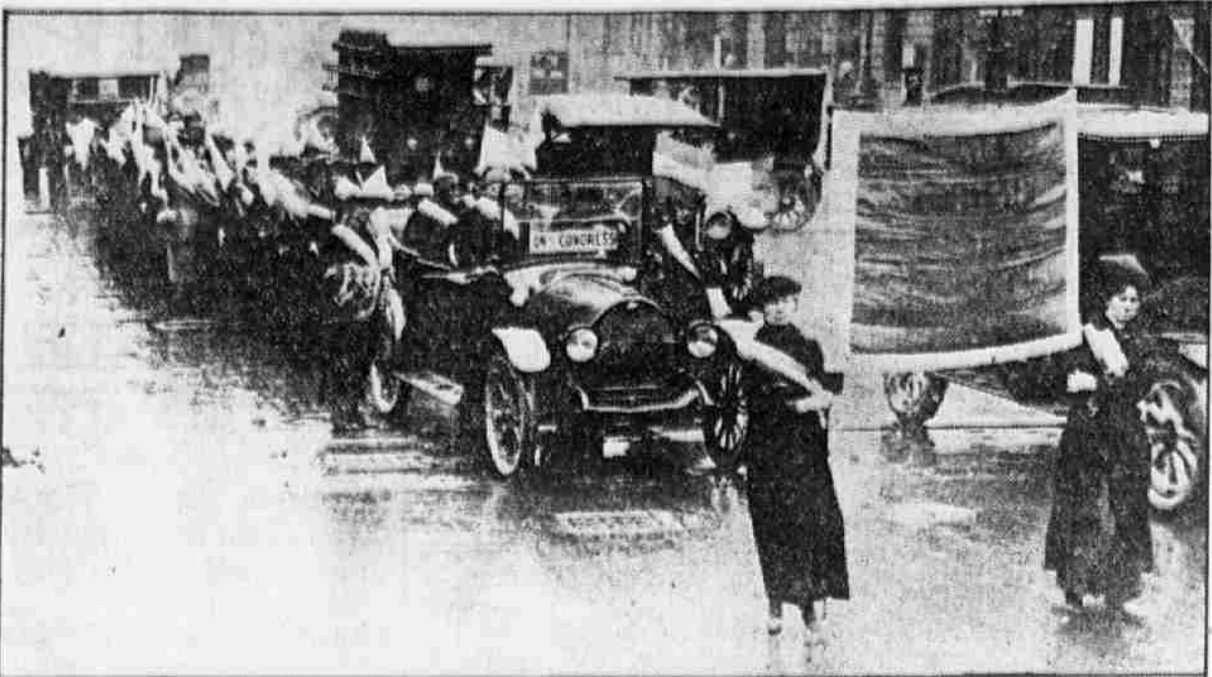

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

There is another woman, Mrs. Eva J. Eldredge, who is fighting divorce proceedings brought by her husband, William Eldredge. She says that Mrs. Bollstater got false evidence against her.

When the two women came to Mr. Scott with their complaint against Mrs. Bollstater, the attorney engaged Hampton C. Bennett, Jr., of the firm of Bennett, Bennett, and Bennett, to represent Mrs. Clawell.

SUFFRAGISTS ADD MAYOR'S SIGNATURE TO PETITION

Mayor Blankenburg today signed a petition of nearly 1,000,000 names demanding Congress to support a suffrage amendment to the Constitution in his office at City Hall.

CONGRESS DEMOCRATS FACING GRAVE SPLIT ON THREE BIG QUESTIONS

Preparedness, Cloture and President Pro Tem Problems Threaten to Disrupt Majority Party

BOTH HOUSES AFFECTED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Four days before the opening of Congress the majority party is facing the most serious split in its ranks since the days of Grover Cleveland. It has arisen over a fight between the so-called conservative and radical elements, and affects both branches. The team work which marked the movements of the Democratic majority since the Wilson Administration came into power has entirely disappeared.

NEW YEAR'S PARADE ASSURED BY BAIZLEY

Councilman Says Federation "Rebels" Will Have No Influence on Arrangements

UNCLE SAM GIVES DAN CUPID KNOCKOUT BLOW

Miss Matilda Wunderle Postpones Wedding Because Sailor Sweetheart Is Kept in Haiti

PROPOSED LOAN WILL BE NEAR $100,000,000

Continued from Page One

U. S. WILL ARREST ALL SPY PLOT SUSPECTS

Continued from Page One

WATSON JURY DISAGREES

Court Orders Mistrial in Case of Georgia Editor

JACOB REED'S SONS Overcoats $15 to $60

Storm Coats $18 to $35

Fur Coats $20 to $200

Fur-lined Overcoats $40 to $700

Full assortments of desirable styles in every grade. All made on the high Reed standard of quality and workmanship.

JACOB REED'S SONS 1424-1426 CHESTNUT STREET

MAYOR SIGNS LONG SUFFRAGE PETITION FOR AUTO VISITORS

Tells Tourists, Who Journeyed Across Continent, Their Cause Is Just, and He Hopes for Victory

WAS WARMEST WELCOME

Visitors and Local Women Parade to City Hall Through Snow, Rain and Wind

MAYOR EXTENDS GREETING

"You women are on an important journey," said the Mayor. "I wish you all possible success, although I am sorry to say that there are two many benighted men in Congress today, men who think more of personal gain than of general welfare. But I hope that before my old gray hairs are laid to rest that I shall go to the polls with Mrs. Blankenburg. Suffrage has proven its worth in the Western States. I welcome you to the City of Brotherly Love, the home of the justice which will eventually grant you women justice."

MRS. BELMONT SPEAKS

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York, a member of the Executive Committee of the Congressional Union and first woman chairman of a woman's political convention, was the chief speaker at a reception at the Ritz-Carlton this afternoon.

WATSON JURY DISAGREES

Court Orders Mistrial in Case of Georgia Editor

JACOB REED'S SONS Overcoats $15 to $60

Storm Coats $18 to $35

Fur Coats $20 to $200

Fur-lined Overcoats $40 to $700

DOCTOR STEARN NOW THREATENS TO BRING SUIT AGAINST FORD

In Indignant Telegram He Demands Explanation of Withdrawal of Invitation to Join Mission

ISSUES AN ULTIMATUM

Gives Detroit Man Until Five o'Clock This Afternoon to Make Reparation

WILLIAM T. TIERS IMPROVING

The condition of William Twells Tiers, of Morris avenue, Bryn Mawr, who was operated upon in the Bryn Mawr Hospital for stomach trouble, was reported to be improved today.

STANLEY RUBBER

This Ad Worth 15c Famous Panther 50c Brand Rubber Heels for 35c

STANLEY RUBBER

Attached free. Bring this ad with you. 2238 N. Front St. 22 N. 15th St. Philadelphia's Finest Shoe Repairer. Quality First.

Rich Richards Almanac

The trade name that is worth a million dollars a letter is written on the public mind with printer's ink.

Rich Richards Almanac