

NANCY WYNNE'S DAILY GOSSIP ON SOCIAL DOINGS AT HOME

Miss Mary Dercum Will Be Introduced This Afternoon.
"Lohengrin" Will Be Given at the Metropolitan.
Gay Doings of Gay People

DR. AND MRS. FRANCIS X. DER-CUM will introduce their second daughter today at a large tea to be given at their home, 1719 Walnut street.
Their elder daughter, Elizabeth, came out two seasons ago and was a great success. Mary is a very pretty girl also, and is having a mighty good time.
She will have a number of debutantes to receive with her, among them Frances Scott, Marjory Taylor, Edith Page, Josephine Foster, Corinne Freeman, Marion Button, Helen Marshall, Olivia Gazam, Mary Scull, Molly Cer-boni, Lyndale Baird, Margaret Davis, Eleanor Verrier, Katherine Everett and Jane Everett.

After the tea Doctor and Mrs. Der-cum will take the receiving party and extra men to the opera.

The Russian Prazdnik, although marked by the sameness of last year, had several very interesting newcomers on the program, probably the most diverting being Madame Ganna Wolska, whose wonderfully fascinating personality, combined with her charming voice, made her the hit of the evening. Mrs. Marion Dougherty, who arrived late with her guests, the Prince and Princess Troubetskoy, slipped "behind the scenes" to see the diva, and seemed much disappointed that she could not join them at supper in the "Little Cafe," as the transformed Clover Room was known, for as one of the lions of the evening, of course, she sat at Mrs. William Ellis Scull's table. His Excellency the Russian Ambassador and Madame Bakmeteff, the Edgar Scotts and the Edward F. Beales were also among the guests at Mrs. Scull's table. A jolly little party occupying a table in one corner of the room consisted of Susie Ingels, Margot Scull, Cornelia Ledy, Charlotte Rush, Geoffrey Tower and the Thayer boys.

Quite the most exciting feature of the late evening was, to say the least, sensational dancing of Marion Dougherty and her gray-haired but energetic partner. Whether it was the glamorous atmosphere that had given them the inspiration or whether they were merely introducing a new step into our staid midst, certain it is that they dashed madly across the floor, poling for just a second to recover their equilibrium before making a fresh onslaught, and you may be sure that all timid dancers made haste to crawl out from under.

Among others noticed were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Riddle, Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas Earle White, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Platt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs.
Stanley J. Flagg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maybin Mart, Miss Alberta Brinton, Miss Kitty Brinton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sydenham Page, Mr. and Mrs.
A. J. Drexel Biddle, Dr. and Mrs.
Henry K. Dillard, Dr. and Mrs. Oliver Eaton Cromwell and Miss Lisa Norris.

The third performance of the Metropolitan Opera Company, "Lohengrin," will take place tonight. Society regards the opera as one of the most important things in its round of doings, and the grand tier will be filled as usual with beautiful women wearing gorgeous jewels.

The James Francis Sullivan will entertain tonight in their box and the Henry Pratt McKeanes will give a dinner at the Bellevue-Stratford and entertain afterward at the opera.

The Nicholas Riddles will give a box party in Mrs. Biddle's parents' box, the J.
Bertram Lippincotts, and a host of others will be there.

Struthers Burt and his wife seem to keep up a continual house party on their ranch out in Jackson's Hole, Wyo. It must be a splendid life. So many outdoor sports. The winter has well set in out there and skating and coasting are the chief pastimes, as well as skiing. The guests who are there now are Jean Burt, Dr. Howard Carn-cross, Frances Mears, Francis Biddle, Florence Steff, of Baltimore, and Charles Miller, of Huntington.

The use of confetti instead of rice has grown quite the rage at all the fashionable weddings of late. It is true it is far less dangerous, but the trouble is the principals in the affair are not the only ones who suffer, and it is awful to get rid of. I went to a wedding at least 10 days ago and I am still picking small pieces of paper out of my cuffs and the few trimmings on my hat. But a chaffeur about expressed it the other day when he looked solemnly at a wedding guest and said, "My goodness, ma'am, but your hair is just full of that spaghetti."

Valentine Mitchell's second at home will come off this afternoon. She is certainly a stunning girl. I am sure if her grandfather, the late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, could see her he would have a righteous feeling of pride. As I said last week, she is as clever as she is pretty.

Margot Scull, Katherine Bowie and Agnes Brockie will receive with her this afternoon. NANCY WYNNE.
