

ILLUSTRATED Evening Ledger

TUESDAY
December 7, 1915

PERSONS, SCENES AND EVENTS THAT FIGURE IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY FROM MANY SOURCES

Photo by International Film Service.
SHE DIDN'T SAIL ON THE PEACE SHIP

This bright-looking woman is Mrs. Henry Ford, who, while her more celebrated half is off warring on war, is staying behind to mind the house at Detroit.

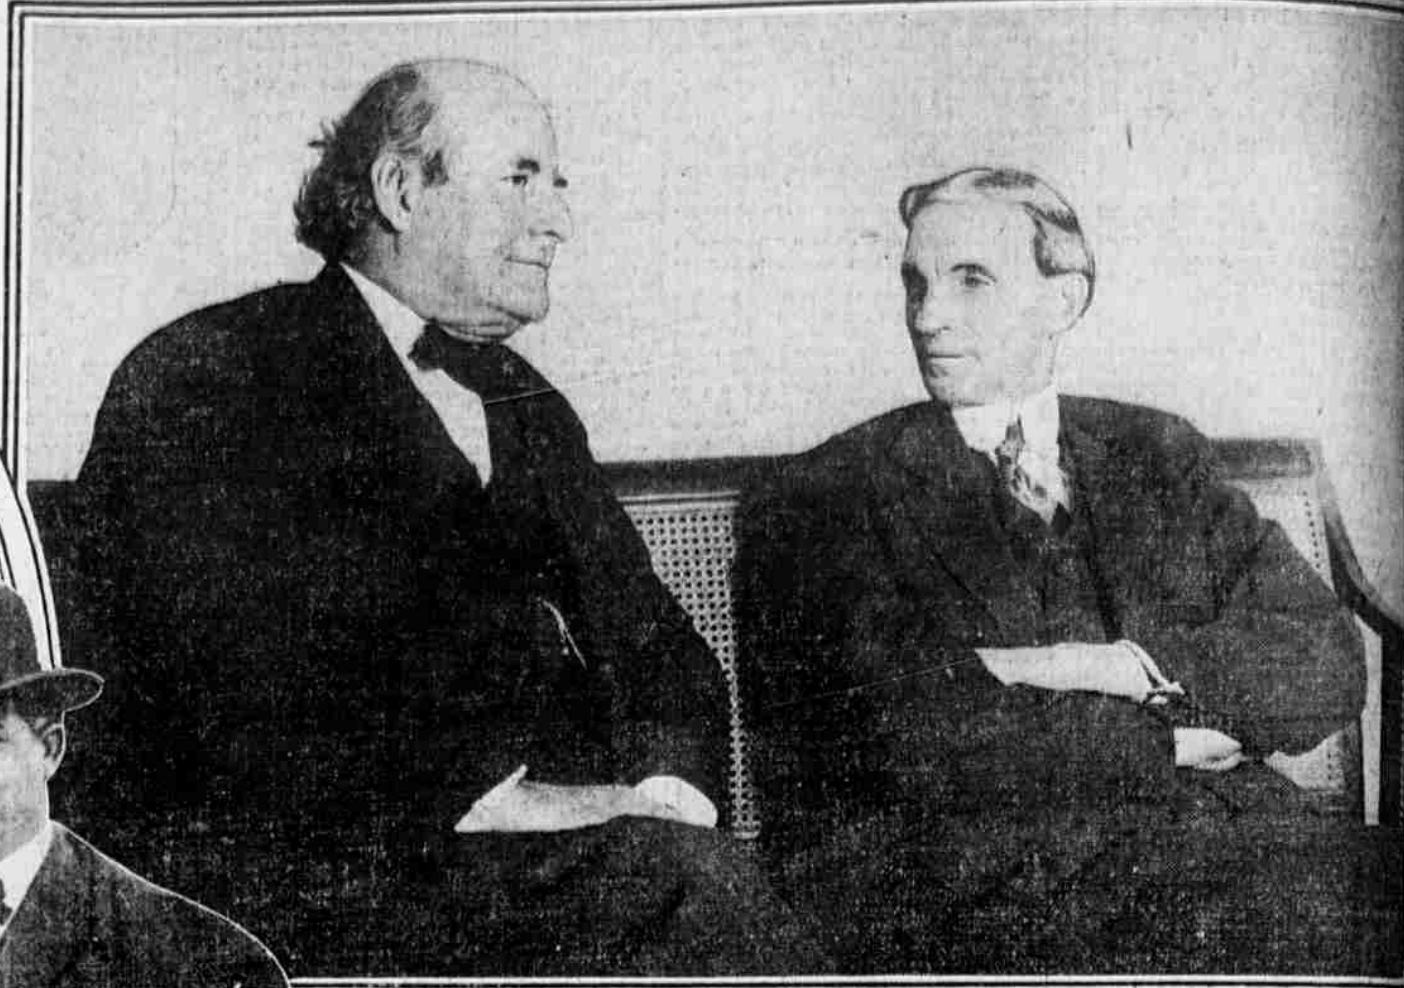

Photo by International Film Service.
THE WORLD'S TWO MOST FAMOUS PEACE-MAKERS
Here are the two men whose favorite emblems are the Dove and the Ploughshare—William Jennings Bryan and Henry Ford, posing for the camera just before the Oscar II departed for Europe. Serenely they pursue their way despite the ridicule of a universe.

AN ENEMY OF BIGGER ARMAMENTS

W. W. Kitchin, chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means, promises to be the looming figure in the fight over "preparedness," which may make the present session of Congress the most exciting in history.

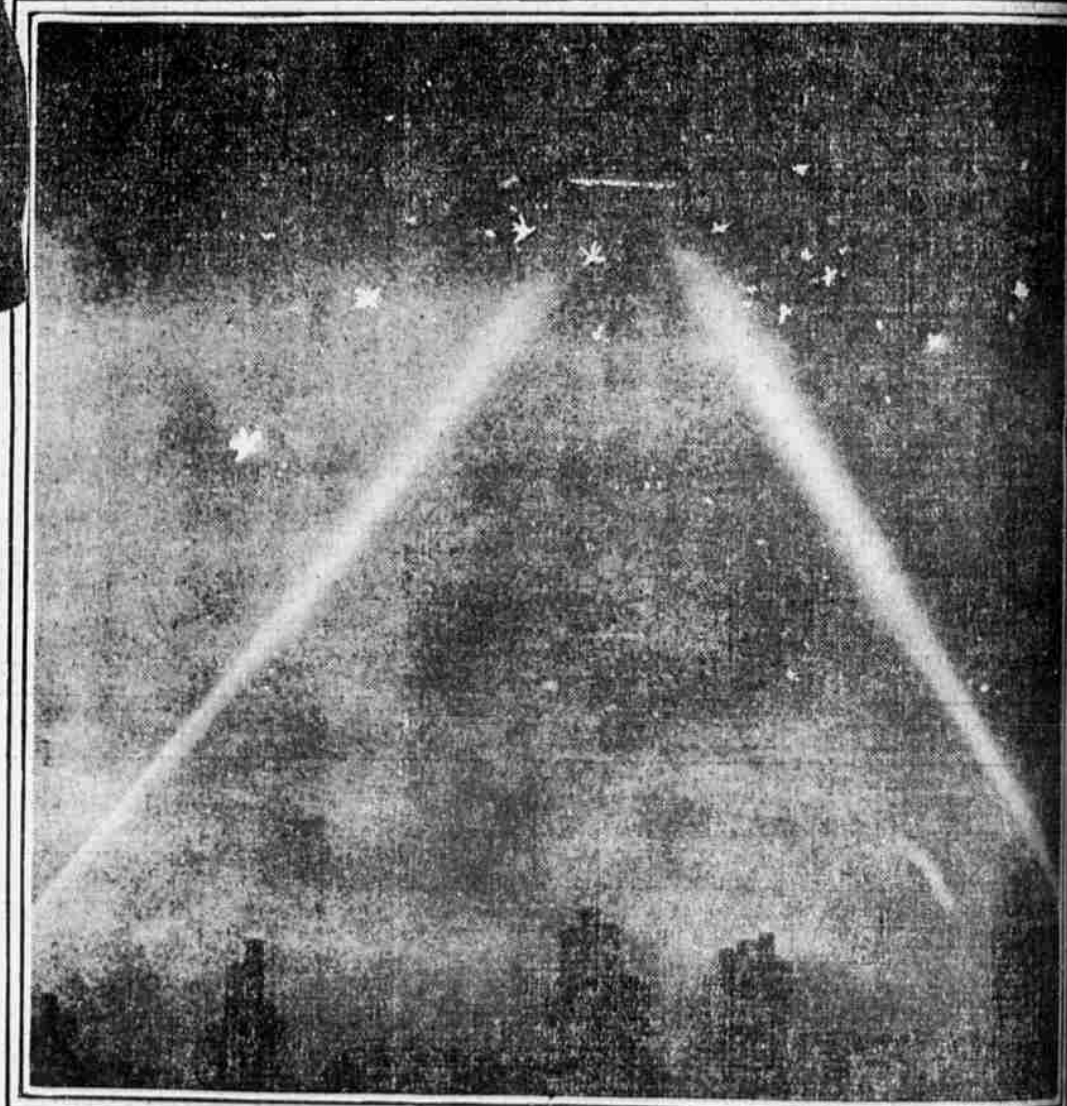

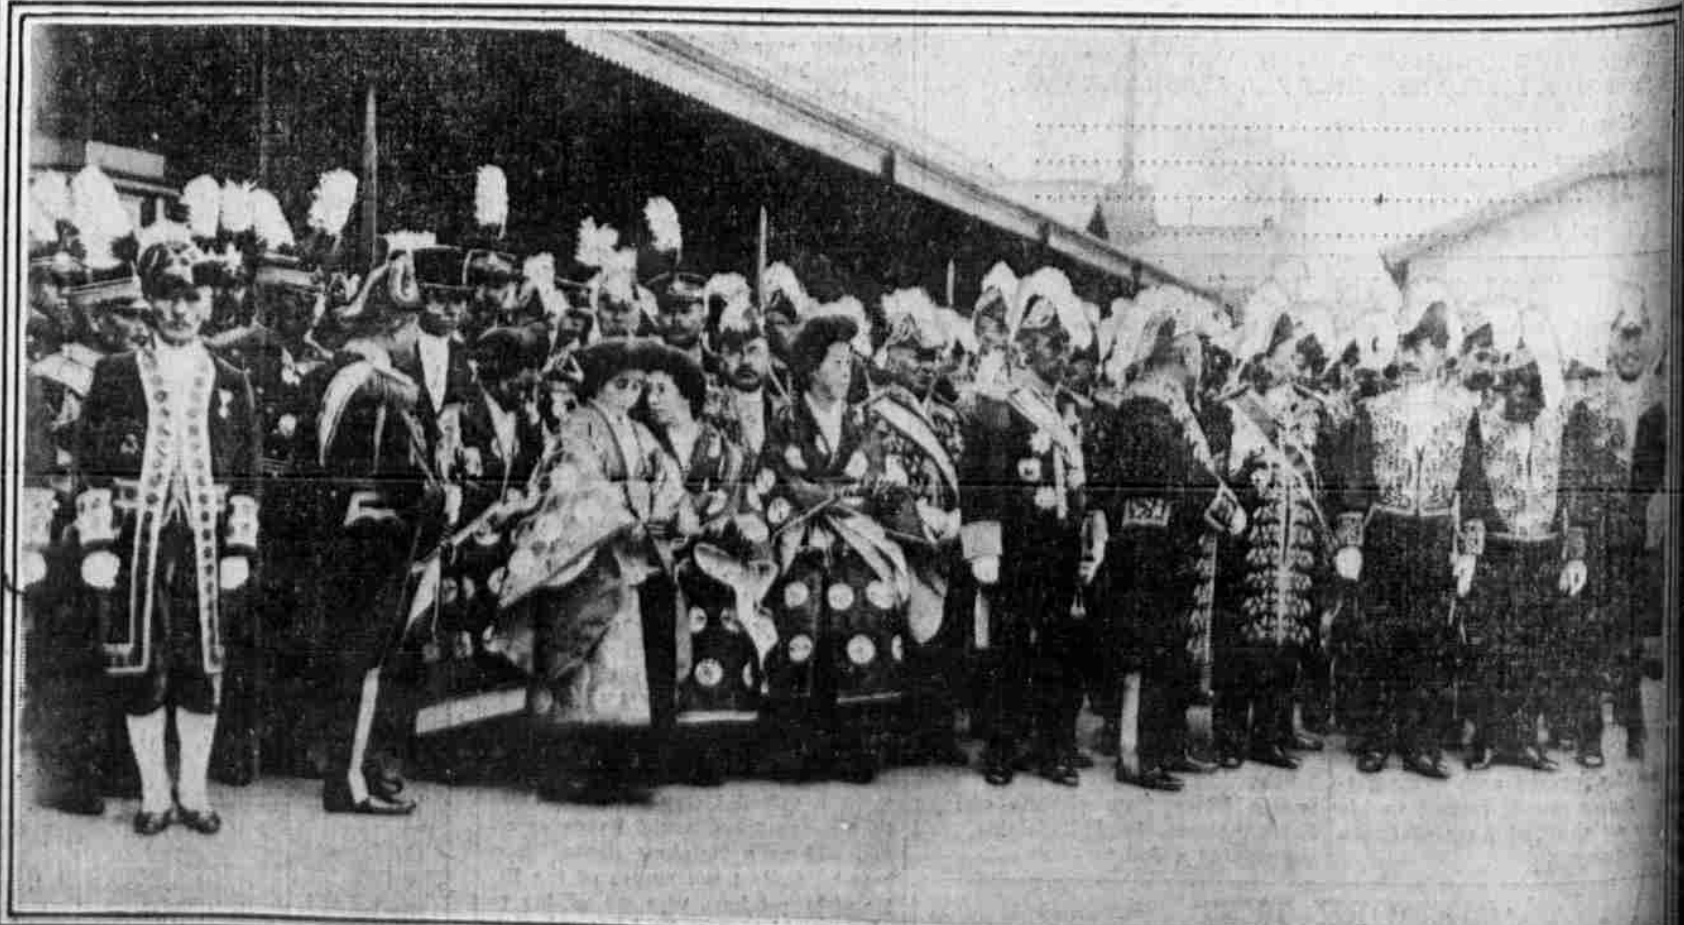

Photo from Pictorial.
THE CIGAR-SHAPED MENACE TO ENGLAND'S QUIET NIGHTS
The latest and best photograph of a Zeppelin visit to London. This ship is the one which caused far more destruction to life and property in the English capital than any previous air raider. Two searchlights are just finding her.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
THE ZEPPELIN UNDER FIRE OVER HENDON, ENGLAND

This picture illustrates vividly how desperate were the attacks on the awful visitor. The white dots are shells, which fell far short. The beams were thrown by powerful searchlights. The blaze in the foreground was caused by a light in the window of a watchman's house.

JAPAN CELEBRATES THE CORONATION OF HER EMPEROR

The Flowery Kingdom blazed with gorgeous colors trimmed with military gold lace during the week in which Yoshihito received his crown. Here is the way the crowd looked when the imperial train arrived at the city of Kyoto.