

ILLUSTRATED
Evening Ledger

TUESDAY
 December 14, 1915

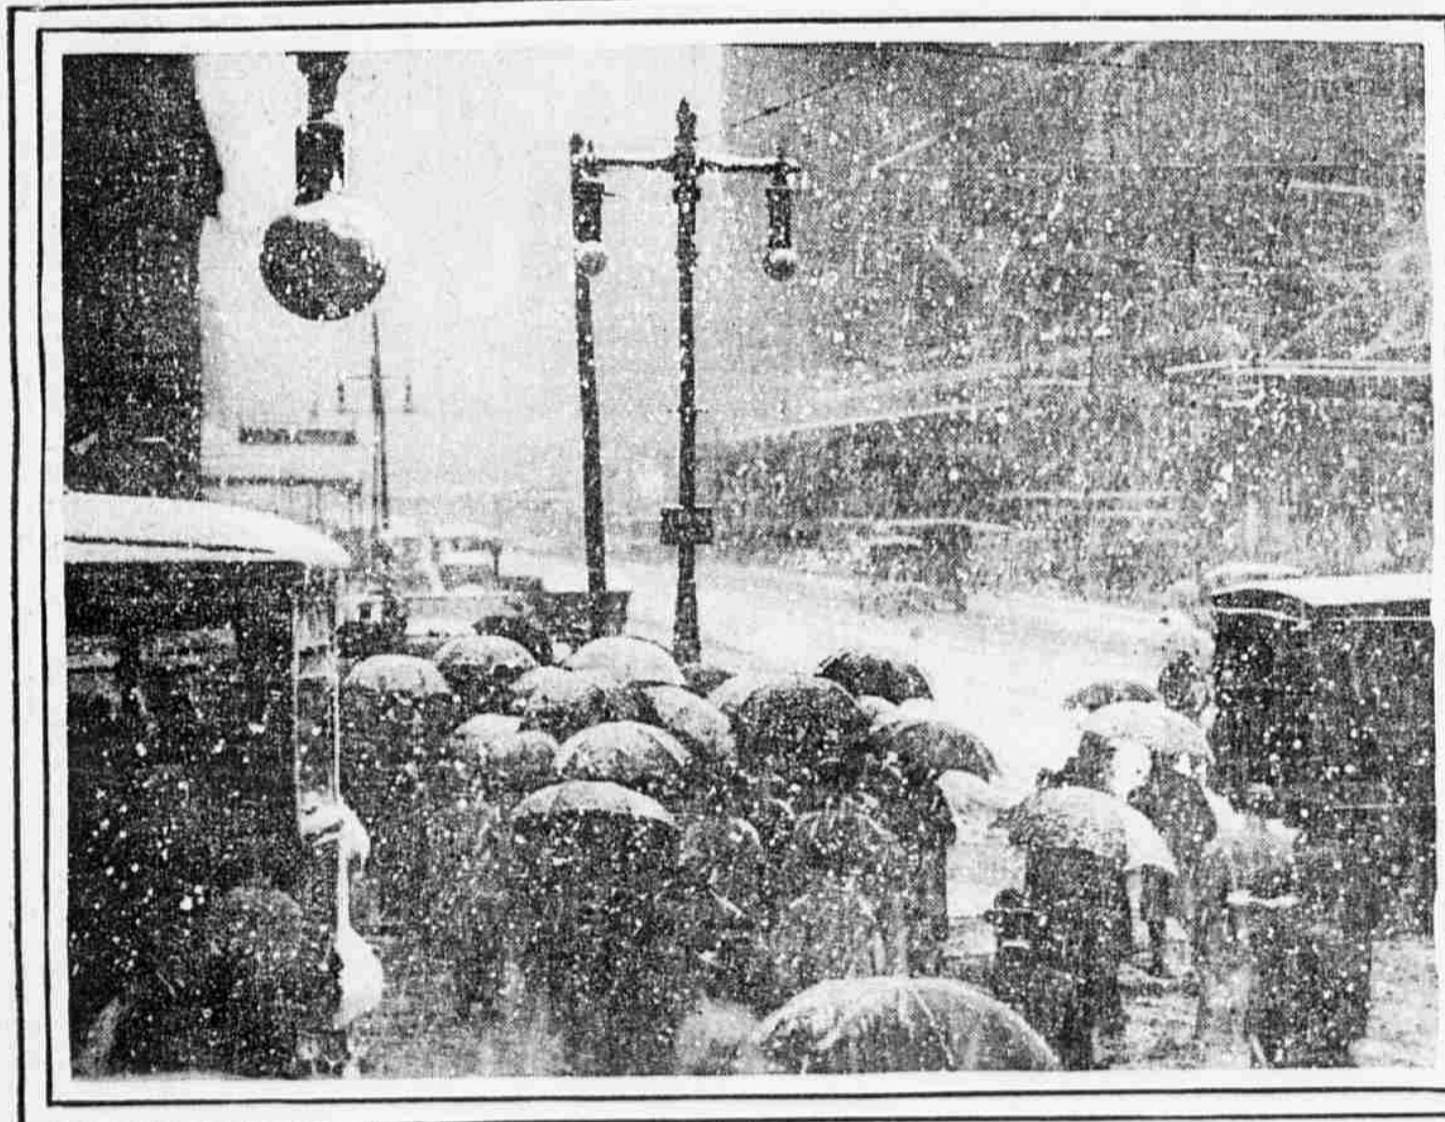

SIGHTS THAT THE SNOWSTORM BROUGHT TO TOWN AND OTHER THINGS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY

IN THE WIND-SWEPT YARDS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

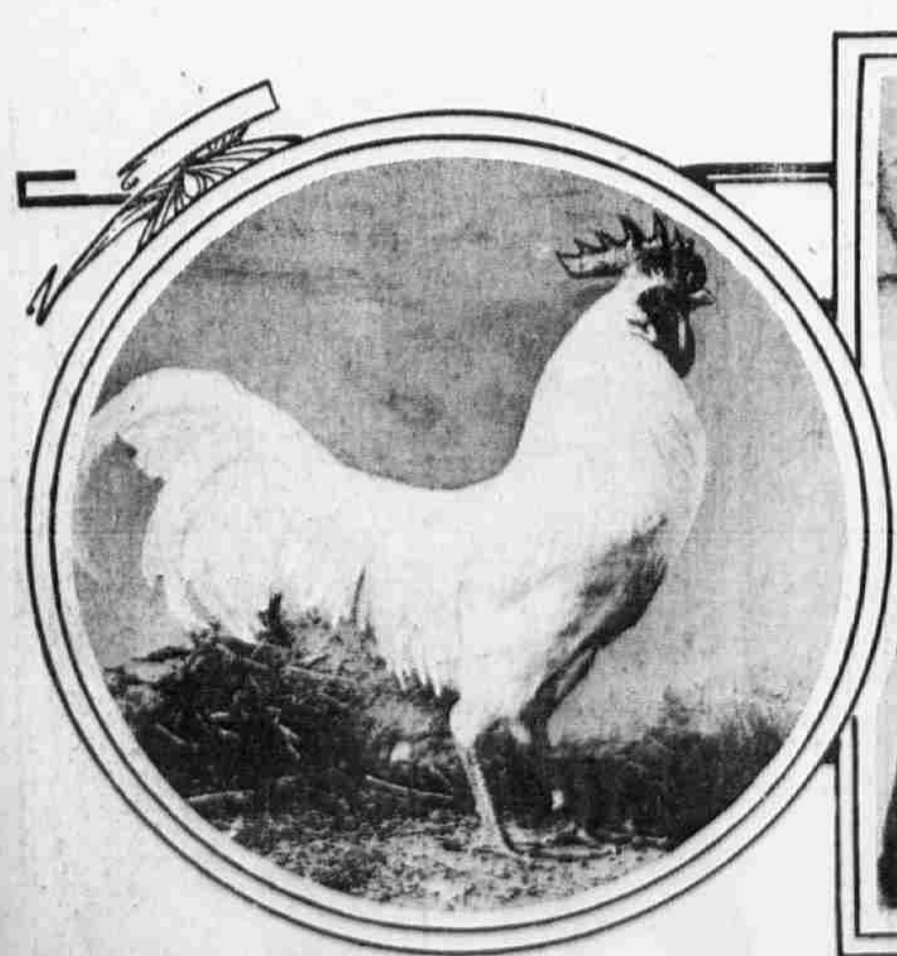

LOOKING DOWN ON EAST MARKET STREET FROM CITY HALL

ROUGH GOING FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

SILHOUETTES IN WASHINGTON SQUARE

AT THE POULTRY SHOW
 White Leghorn Cock from Meadowcrest Farms, Merchantville, N. J.

PHOTO BY HARRIS & EWING
 SUFFRAGE LIBERTY BELL NOW IN THE HANDS OF NATIONAL LEADERS AT CAPITAL
 The symbol which figured so prominently in the recent campaign in Pennsylvania is now working for the cause in Washington. Bottom row, left to right: Miss Margaret Fay Whittemore, Detroit; Miss Doris Stevens, Ohio; Miss Lucy Burns, New York; Mrs. Jesse Hardy MacKaye, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Edna Storey Latimer, Maryland; and Miss Virginia Arnold, North Carolina. Top row: Mrs. Helene Hill Wood, Connecticut; Miss Elsie Lancaster, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Gertrude Hunter, Minnesota.

A LADY OF QUALITY
 Light Brahma hen contributed to the poultry show by J. D. Nevins, Chestnut Hill.