BIG CAPITAL WEDDINGS RECALLED BY TONIGHT'S SIMPLE CEREMONY

Chief Magistrates, Their Friends and Relatives Have Figured in Many Interesting Romances

BRIDES OF THE LONG AGO

Philadelphia Girl Was Married in First White House, Burned by British

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. - The White House atmosphere has never been vold to Dan Cunid. The wonding of President Wilson to Mrs. Gali conight recalls many similar incidents in which Chief Magistrates, their relatives or linth officials have figured. Hymen has ruled on many a stay by the vicinity of the Capitol

Our Presidents, if not matchmakers matrimeny in their entourage. Andrew and sisters. Her father is dead. Jarkson, Jr., son or wild Hickors, was She is a descendant in the cig married to Mes Sarah Yorke at her home eration of the celebrated fidual. married to Mes Sarah Vocke at her home in Pothstelphia, but immediately brought his bride to the White House. In the same way Major Abram Van Buren, son of the elahth President, brought from South Carolina to the White House a bride who bud been Miss Angelica Singletor. Colonel and Mrs. Fred Grant, married in Calcage, spent their honey-moon days here.

The tradition of romance even runs back to the time when the present White House did not exist when a less pretentions White House stood in its stend. In this building, burned by the British in the course of the War of 1812, the wife of President Markey personnel, her of President Madison persuaded her cousin, Miss Todd, of Philadelphia, to be married. The husband was John G. Jackson, member of Congress from Vir-FIRST WHITE HOUSE BRIDE.

The first wedding in the present White House was that of Miss Maria Monroe, youngest daughter of President Mon-roc, who on March 8, 1839, was wedded to her cousts. Lawrence Gouverneur, of New York city

The year 1828 witnessed the marriage of Helen Jackson, a beautiful girl with classic features, to John Adams, the first son of a President to be married in the executive mansion. As the bride's health was poor, the wedding was a quiet one President Jackson was a guardian angel to brides and bridegrooms. When Miss-Lewis, of Nashville, Tenn., who was a guest at the White House, amounced her engagement to Monsieur Paqueol, then secretary of the French Legation, Jackson invited her to be married in his home. A blir attendance of foreign diplomatists and others was seen. Again, in 1832, President Jackson prevailed upon his niece. Miss. Easton, of Tennessee, stid Mr. Polk to take their marriage vows in the East.

Room.

Elizabeth Tyler, youngest daughter of President Tyler, was married to her cousin, Congressmen Waller, of Virginia, in the White House, in 1842. She was 19 years old und is said to have been a radiant vision. It was a grand affoir, Two years later, in 1844, President Tyler, whose first wife had died, married Miss Gagdiner, in New York city. The wedding was a great surprise to the counding the counding was a great surprise to the counding ding was a great surprise to the coun-

NELLIE GRANT'S ROMANCE. A romantic White House wedding took place in the administration of Grant, when his daughter Nellie married Alwhen als daughter Nelle married Algerbon Sartoris. May 21, 1874. He was an Englishman, who had fallen in love with Miss Grant on a steamship bound from England to New York. He was not yet 22 at the time and she was barely 17. It was 18 months later before the President became reconciled to the match and the weedling took place.

In 1878, during President Haves' om, was a great occasion. he most brilliant wedding ever seen in the White House was probably the vere-mony selemnized on June 2, 1886, when the beautiful Francis Folsom became the ride of the bachelor President Cleveland. Another great occasion was the marriage of Alice Hoosevelt, daughter of the President, to Representative Nicholas Long-worth, of Cincinnati, on February 17, 1906. There were claimrate floral arrangements and an enormous crush of Twice in President Wilson's administration has the White House been the ene of weddings; first, when Miss Jessie Wilson became the wife of Francis B. Sayre; and, second, when Miss Eleanor n was married to William G. Mc-Adoo, Secretary of the Treasury.

SOME LEADING SIDELIGHTS ON PRESIDENT'S WEDDING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 .- Mrs. Galt has been extraordinarily successful in keep-ing under cover details of her trousseau, a subject in which several million Ameri can women are intensely interested. Mrs. Gait dresses in excellent taste. Her gowns are Paris models. As to the honeymoon, that's a secret.

The grand ladies of Washington who ignored the "tradesman's widow" who kept a jewelry store will now have to take their orders from her. But the new Mrs. Wilson will not "rub it in," her

Several men, now fathers and grand-fathers even, confess they loved Mra. Galt when she was Edith Bolling and a noted beauty.

The new White House mistress has a heavy social season ahead of her. The first function will be the Pan-American reception early in January.

Mrs. Galt's neuro "mammy" used to sing her to sleep as a child with the following jingle:

Frog went a-court!.

He did ride ha, he!
Sword and plato! by his side
He rode to Missle Mousie's house;
He took Miss Mousie on his knee,
And mid. 'Miss Mousie on his knee,
An dr. h. h.'
'Not without my pa's consent,
I wouldn't marry the President.'

Ab, ha!

President Wilson and Mrs. Gult have a fortune of $500,660 each, or $600,000 to-gether, it is estimated. At 5 per cent-this means $30,000 a year. The Presi-dent's salary is $75,000 a year, but few Chief Executives can live on this.

Mrs. Galt's Colored Maid "Proudest" WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 -- Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt came up to Washington 20 years ago as the bride of Norman Guit. With her at that time she brought a colored girl from down in Virginia. This little colored girl was placed in charge of the kitchen and house-In this little colored girl was discharge of the kitchen and house-of the Galt establishment, under threetion of Mrs. Galt. From that until now the home of that girl's eas has been beautifully taken care at today the little colored girl is a led, portly, neat, capable colored in fine deathly, she's about the sat colored women that ever drey ath of Washington air. The reason of she's to be known thereafter as maid to the first lady of the land. mers of the Gait establishment, under the direction of Mrs. Galt. From that time until now the home of that girl's finitess has been beautifully taken care f and today the little colored girl is a lightled, portly, neat, capable colored gaman, hedcarally, she's about the sopiest colored women that ever drew breath of Washington air. The reason that it is to known thereafter as

MRS. GALT HAS CHARM AND TACT; PRESIDENT'S RECORD BRILLIANT ONE

She's a Pretty Widow of 43, and Looks Younger-"Her Smile Would Win Any One"-Chief Executive Is a Noted Historian

Who Mrs. Galt Is

Born October 14, 1872, in Wyeth-ville, Va.

Is direct descendant of the In-dian Princess Porchontas.
Has eight brothers and sisters.
Still retains the good looks for which she was famous in her youth. Is charming, tactful and intelli-

Has devoted herself to charity rather than society conquests. Runs her late husband's jewelry store and brings a "dot" of $300,000 to the President.

Loves baseball, golf, automobiling, good books and music. Dresses well.

The pretty widow of 40 years (she looks party today, as are her numerous brothers

She is a descendant in the eighth generation of the celebrated fiding princess. Pocahontas, who is said to have saved the life of Captain John Smith by throwing herself across his body as the headsman of Chief Powhatan, her father, raised the tomahawk. Believing the Captain, whom she deeply loved, to be dead, Pocahontas became the wife of John Roife.

The Rolfe family records have been The Rolfe family records have been carefully preserved, and the Bollings and numerous other American families are very proud of their red blood. It will be remembered that Pocahontas, then Mrs. Rolfe, was horrified to meet Captain Smith in the flesh on a visit to England. "They had to the great was a family after cried." had told me you were dead?" she cried. She was inconsolable and shortly afterward died, apparently of srief.

There are many beautiful women to Mrs. Galt's family, and in this regard she herself was in her youth considered worthy of note. Her beaux are said to have been plentiful. She still retains most of her good looks, being only a little plumper than pictures of her youth show.

Washington will not be disappointed in the new White House mistress. She combines rare charm with tact and intellect She has never moved in exalted circles before, however, especially since her husband's death confining her activities to church and charitable work

SHE DISLIKES LIMELIGHT.

Mrs. Galt shrinks from the limitight she is in some ways a domesticated creature, but she has a great love of outof-doors and sports. Her many trips to baseball games with the President attest her fondness for the great American name. She is an accomplished planiste, with a pleasing voice, which the Presi-dent delights to listen to when, as often impress, she sings o'd ballads to him. The pictures which appear in the newspapers do not do the subject justice, for she has an exquisitely cole ed skin, which cannot be reproduced. Her complexion plump, but not too much so. Her abund-ant dark-brown hair, nearly black in fact, is worn in simple way; style. Her eyes is worn in simple ways style. Her eyes, large and well set, are soft hazel color, heightened many times. She smiles fre-

Her full, red mouth, with perfectly shaped teeth, shows a sympathetic kindly nature. "Her smile would win any one." said one of her friends recently, in discussing her romance with the President. Mrs. Galt's father was a well-known lawyer. She is one of nine children.

SHE CONTROLS BIG STORE.

The man who finally won Edith Bolling was Norman Galt, son of the prominent Galt family, which for more than 100 years In 1878, during President Hayes' administration, his niece. Miss Emily Pratt, made her home at the White House. She was a universal favorite. It was of interest to everylody when her engagement to General Russoll Hastings was announced, and the wedding, in the Blue Hoom, was a great occasion.

Gait family, which for more than us years has kept a jewelry store in Pennsylvania avenue here. They were married in 1886.

Mr. Gait family, which for more than us years has kept a jewelry store in Pennsylvania avenue here. They were married in 1886.

Mr. Gait family, which for more than us years has kept a jewelry store in Pennsylvania avenue here. They were married in 1886.

Mr. Gait family, which for more than us years has kept a jewelry store in Pennsylvania avenue here. They were married in 1886.

Mr. Gait family, which for more than us years has kept a jewelry store in Pennsylvania avenue here. They were married in 1886.

Mr. Gait family, which for more than us years has kept a jewelry store in Pennsylvania avenue here. They were married in 1886.

Mr. Gait family, which for more than us years has kept a jewelry store in Pennsylvania avenue here. They were married in 1886.

Mr. Gait after the marriage acquired full control of the store, leaving it at his death eight years ago to the pretty young widow. She has continued her ownership and is said to direct the policy young widow. She has continued her ownership and is said to direct the policy young widow. She has continued her ownership and is said to direct the policy young widow. She has continued her ownership and is said to direct the policy young widow. She brings to the policy young widow. She brings to the policy young widow. of the business. She brings to the President a fortune roughly estimated at $300,-

Since the death of Mr. Galt, the widow has lived a quiet life, passing the sum-mers in the mountains or at the senshore. Her charity work has centred especially on the Children's Hospital, of which she is a member of the board of governors.

Mrs. Galt loves walking, and many Mrs. Call loves waising, and many times lately she has been seen with M so Helen Woodrow Bones, a cousin of Mr. Wilson, who lives at the White House, stroling in beautiful Rock Creek Park, on the outskirts of the city.

She drives her own electric runabout, and means of the tradestine of Washing.

She drives her own electric runabout, and many of the tradesimen of Washington know her well. She shops carefully and proves herself a good business woman, they say. Mrs. Galt only recently has taken up golf, of which Mr. Wilson is very fond. She is making good progress under his tutelage.

reas under his titelage.

Mrs. Galt is a member of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, one of the best known in Washington. She likes to read good books, and her library at her residence now in 20th street is filled with choice volumes. In this respect her taste again corresponds with the President's corresponds with the President's.

WILSON WOOED MRS, GALT WHILE ON THE GOLF LINKS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 .- An intimate riend of Mrs. Galt revealed today some letails of the President's courtship. Most of the Chief Executive's v seems, was done on the golf links. Mr. Galt had little knowledge of the Scottish game, of which the President is very fond, and Mr. Wilson volunteered to teach her. While learning all about bunkers and brassies. Mrs. Galt taught the first man in the land something herself—to admire her. Later the President took a postgraduate course in a subject a bit deeper than friendship. Both proved apt pupils.

As is well known, Mrs. Galt was a guest of Miss Margaret Wilson and the President at Harlakenden House, Cornish. Hampshire, last summer. She had the President many times before this, ever. She was introduced to Mr. Wilhowever. son by his daughters, who are all three very fond of her.

$29.50 FOR DEAD DOG

Verdict for Man Who Bought 'Hunter' That Wouldn't Hunt

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Dec. 18.—Dr. Clinton D. Mendenhall, of Bordentown, N. J., got a verdict in court for $25.50, in a suit brought in Civil Court to resover the price paid to Wilson Bernard, of Bryn Mawr, for a reputed thoroughly broken and high-class rabbit dox which would high-class rabbit dog, which would

The verdict represented the price of the President Wilson's Career

Born December 28, 1856 in Staun-Spent his childhood and youth mostly in Georgia and South Carolina.

Educated in public schools, Davidson College, Princeton University, University of Virginia and Johns Hopkins University.

Married Helen Louis Axson, of Sayannah, June 24, 1885.

Taught history and economics at Bryn Mawr, Wesleyan and Prince-

Elected Governor of New Jersey. Elected President of the United States in 1912.

The career and personality of Woodrow Out of three Presidents who entered the White House somewhat one emerged training hands in his single slate. The other two fell victims to the little mode boy's bow and arrows. The sole survivor was fame. Buchanan who stoog where Tyler and Cleveland fell.

The pretty widow of El years take looks. The colerand personality of Woodfow Wilson, twenty-seventh President of the Land today, was born Edith Boiling. United States, are almost too well known daughter of Judge and Mrs. William H. Staumon, Va., the same State as Mrs. Boiling, of Wytheville, Va., October 1. Staumon, Va., the same State as Mrs. Gail, on December 28, 1856, and so Tyler and Cleveland fell.

Her monther is one of the wedding is now almost 50 years old, or about is years older than his finnees Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Jesosch H. Wilson, moved to Georgia when Woodrow was 2 years old, and in this State the President passed the period of the Civil War. Then the family moved to South Carolina, where the future Chief, Executive spent his youth.

After ending his common school educa-tion he spent one year at Davidson Col-lege, stayed our of school a year and then entered Princeton University. Here he devoted himself to history and politics The next two years he spent studying law at the University of Virginia, after which he passed his har examinations.

For a short time he practiced law in Atlanta. Then he returned to school, studying political economy at Johns Hopkins University on leaving Johns Hopkins he married

Miss Ellen Louise Axson, of Savannah. Ga., in 1885, and then went to Bryn Mawr, where for three years he taugat history and economics. Then came two years at Wesleyan University, where he began to have a naional reputation as a historian. In the fall of 1890 he took the chair of jurisprudence and politics at Princeton and remained in this position 12 years, writing in the course of that period his "History of the American People."

In 1902 he became president of Princeton and attacked the aristocratic system with | Miss great energy and success. Then came a call to run as Governor of New Jersey. He had been selected by some of the New Jersey 'bosses,' but proved an in-tractable man to them after being elect-ed. He completely floored the bosses and himself He forced through a series of laws of advanced type and made such a brilliant record that in 1912 he was selected as the Democratic standard bearer and was elected President. It is generally expected that he will be renominated next June at St. Louis. The first Mrs. Wilson died August 6, 1914. She left three daughters.

is very fair and rosy checks bespeak a healthful life. She is about 5 feet 5 inches tall, and PAPERS OF BIG. PAPERS OF BIG BANK

Continued from Page One

grand larceny, is also accused of complicity in the canal plot. Schlemdi was arraigned in the Tombs court and held in $25.00 tail. He was charged with stealing from the National City Bank documents valued at $100,000. United States Commissioner Houghton today fixed Koenig's bail at $50,000 and that of Levendecker at $30,000. To objections of their attorneys the Commissioner suid the charges against the men were "very serious" and demanded large bonds. Hearings in both cases were put over

Fred Metzler, a third alleged conspir-tor, is still within the jurisdiction of the New Jersey courts, but will be brought to New York for arraignment.

FOUND VALUABLE PAPERS. The police say the documents found in Schleindl's home show the amount of money shipped the Alies from this country; details concerning shipments of all varieties of munitions, including the date of sailing and name of each vessel; where munitions were purchased; the man-in which they were stored, and the ct quantity of all shipments made since the war began.

The fact that Schleindl, who is 27 years old, procured the sailing dates of the munition ships, together with information as to their cargoes, and transmitted this to the German secret service, is regarded as especially significant according to the police, in view of the many explosions and other mishaps occurring on these

Captain Tunney says that Schleindl confessed to Detective Barnitz after being brought to police headquarters that he was acting under the direct orders of Paul Koenig, and that all information was turned over to Roenig.

His story is, according to the detectives. that when war was declared he reported to the German Consulate as a reservist. The consulate learned that he was a bank employe and told him he could be of use. A few days later he met Koenig in an uptown hotel, and was told what informa-tion was desired. Since then, he confessed, the police say, that he had been turning everything over to Koenig and receiving an average of $25 a week from Koenig in payment

The police say they have also discovered that Schleindl made several trips to the Welland Canal.

The police say they also have in their possession a cablegram Schleindi took from the bank vaults pertaining to the shipment within the next few days of

,000,000 rifles to the Allies. More arrests are anticipated here, as well as in Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, Philadelphia and San Francisco, in con-nection with the alleged plot to destroy the Welland Canal.

When Koenig was arrested the Secret Service operatives seized a large quan-tity of correspondence and documentary evidence, which, they said, implicated more than 100 men, some of them of prominence, in various cities. These clues, was said, would be followed up at

"JACK THE HUGGER" BUSY

Five Women Attacked in West Philadelphia-Detectives Assigned to Hunt for Miscreant

Five West Philadelphia women have complained to the police of the actions of a "Jack-the-Hugger," who attacked them on Thursday evening, and a lookout is being kept for the offender, who is believed to be weak mentally.

The first case reported was brought to The first case reported was brought to the attention of the police at the flat and Thompson streets station by the father of a young school teacher, who was attacked at 15th street and Wyalus-ing avenue. The second was that of a young married woman who met the hugger near 55th street and Girard avenue.

District Detectives Seal, Wooten, Saivey and Mahaffey have been detailed on the case, and are making a thorough search of the neighborhood in which the "bug" has been known to operate.

Christened Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.-Little Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, the only granddaughter of President Wilson, today enjoyed the or of being christened on her grand-her's wedding day. She is named after a McAdoo's mother, the President's first wife. The Rev. Roland Cotton Smith christened the child, who is seven months

President Wilson was named godfather and Mrs. Francis sayre, the President's other married daughter, and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, his cousin, were named is godmothers.

Eleanor is the only child christened in the White House during the present Adninistration.

The christening was held in the Blue Room. In addition to the President there were present at the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo, Margaret Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wilson, Mrs. Anne Howe the President's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sayre, Miss. Hones and the Misses. Nora and Sallie McAdoc.

WILSON AND MRS. GALT TO BE MARRIED TONIGHT

insure the privacy of his nuptials will be stationed in the environs of Northwest 20th street and du font Circle to keep Early this morning, though, old Jupe

Pluvius announced himself as an ally of the President's lady. He sent a driving, uncompromising rain blasting down from heaven that drove to vestibules and nearby shelters the early birds, who refused to believe that their beloved Woodrow is going to be married so late as 9 o'clock, the hour Dame Rumor has set-OUTSIDE "GUESTS."

After several hours of the downpour, however, a truce was declared by the elements and about a dozen spectators made their appearance. First came two old women under one umbrella, who stationed themselves on the curbstone opposite the Galt home. Bain or no rain, rheumatism or no rheumatism, those two are going to see the President and his

"I wonder 'f we couldn't hire a win-dow in one of those houses," was the plaintive ery of one of them, when she had changed position from one foot to the other for the 'steenth time.

"Lawdy, no," her companien answered, they ain't the kind of people to rent their windows out. Anyway, I guess they're gonna use 'em themselves."

At this moment a florist's van drave up and a lucky young god in uniform and brass buttons, bearing a great bunch of blessoms, rang the hell blithely and was positively welcomed into the sacred pre-Incts by Aunt Susy. Division A wail of chagrin went up from those today. Division street bridge into the river here on the outside.

BLACK CAT INDIGNANT.

A black cat that has been haunting the doorsteps of the house for the last week took up its accustomed post, and with a superior air of indifference turned a contemptuous back to the fascinating oor that opens only to the few.

A young woman, in short skirt and French heels, clinging to the arm of her young man, stopped next to view the forbidding brownstone front. Not a curtain is raised. Not a window is up.

"It's more becoming to try your new clothes on by artificial light than by day-light, anyway," the young thing imparted to her sturdy eak.

Just what Mrs Galt is gaing to wear tonight, and what she is doing at the present moment are questions that are agitating every feminine breast. The most authenticated gossip current is that she will defy convention by being mar-ried at an evening wedding in an afternoon costume. A traveling sult and hat a light color, it is said, have been

"I know a woman who knows a woman who is second cousin to Mrs. Boiling's seamstress." one of the little old ladics sald importantly, while an audience gath-ered round, "and she told me that Mrs. Galt is going to spend the day wrapping up her Christmas presents. You see, she'll be away on her honeymoon for the polidays and she ain't the kind to ferget her Ciristimas presents."

"Bon't you think it a shame, though," a newcomer to the ranks put in, "that she isn't goins to be married in a white satin dress with a tulle veil and orange blossoms. She's just the type to wear it." PEACE AUTO ARRIVES.

A hush came over the group. An autopublic of the brand that makes you smile when you mention it busied up to the oor. Apart from its Fordiness it had no distinguishing carmarks, nor did the gen-tleman who stepped from it, but he I am sure that there is some sort of password being used. Would that a little bird would whisper to me:

flound at the back of the house there are signs of activity—in the hig room that extends across the entire rear and that extends across the entire rear and is said to be the dining room. This is the Virginia idea of what a dining room should be—big, the curtains are only partly down and moving figures indicate that this is to be one of the important centres of tonight's activities.

The White House presents the same forbidding aspects as the Galt home. Mr. Hoover, a person of great dignity and pompousness, who is the head usher, has ac rets locked within his breast that many would give fortunes to know. He many would give fortunes to know. He knows what the bride is to wear; where the honeymoon is to be; the hour of the ceremony. But blandishments and threats have no effect on his stony mien. His chief has commanded and secrecy to to

WILSON THIRD PRESIDENT TO WED WHILE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF NATION

Tyler and Cleveland the Others Who Took Brides-Tonight's Ceremony to Be a Simple, Old-Fashioned Marriage-Events of Long Ago Recalled

WHAT HAPPENED TO 4 PRESIDENTS

President Tyler—Married Miss Julia Gardiner, of New York, unexpectedly to the nation, June 26, 1844.

President Buchanan—Came through unscathed by Cupid.

President Cleveland—Married Frances Folsom, of New York, June

President Wilson-Weds Mrs. Norman Galt tonight, custy to this Administration. President Cleveland was married with great ceremony amid an imposing throng at the White House. President Tyler almost eloped—his marriage took the nation by surprise. The present Chief Executive's wedding will not be imposing—it is a simple, old-fashlened home wedding, such as might be seen almost anywhere.

Like President Wilson, Tyler was wid-owed while in office. Through the sud-den death of William Henry Harrison, on April 4, 18th, John Tyler became President. A short period afterwards his wife was stricken with death and the social con-trol of the executive mansion, as again in the present case, fell into the hands of the President's daughters. Alas for the daughters! The President became attracted to Miss Julia Gardiner.

might be seen almost anywhere.

daughter of his friend, former Senator Gardiner, of New York, by her coolness and heroism when her father was killed on the warship Princeton through the bursting of a large guh.

The boat was making a trial trip down the Potomac when the accident occurred. Miss Gardiner was strikingly handsome.

Miss Gardiner was strikingly handsome, and retained her health and youthful ap-pearance until late in life. The nation knew that the President, then fation knew that the President, then 53 years eld, was engaged to the beautiful New Yorker, 20 years and more his junior. But the day of the wedding had not been set.

Then, without warning, the country learned that Mr. Tyler had hurried to New York and that they had been married in he Church of the Ascension June 6, 1844. On their arrival at the White House mats offered their compliments and made welcome the new lady of the manelon. MARINE BAND'S FIRST RECORD. A magnificent bridal cake and magnums of sparkling observers sparkling champagne awaited the guests. The famous Marine Band made the first appearance of which there is ends of departments and foreign diploany record. There is one striking difference between the Tyler and Wilson materes. While Mrs. Galt will go into the White House the warm friend of the daughters of the President, Julia Gardiner got a very cool reception by the young ladies of the White House. They resented the advent of a girl no older than themselves, and more gifted and beautifus, to take the reins out of their hands.

the reins out of their hands.
There were many embarrassing com-plications. The young bride peasessed not only beauty and brilliance, but a level head, however, ar she easily became mistress of the situation and relegated the daughters to the background. In spite of the differences in their ages match was an extremely happy one

Mrs. Tyler maintained 'hat she and her husband frequently communicated through space by thought transference and that he called her in a dream to his death bed at the Exchange Hotel in Richmond, Va., where he was taken un-expectedly iil in 1902 and a few days In those days there was no telegraph or allroad service in the vicinity of S wood, Va., the family home, and nail came by boat only every other day. On a particular night she had a most vivid dream, in which she saw the ex-president lying in his bed at the Ex-change Hotel III, and seemed to hear his Colce saying: "Are you awake, darling? of the most cha Come and hold my head!" White House, and Despite the protest of members of her American people.

Pulled Out of River

ons were drowned and 12 injured when a street car plunged through the North

A second car, following close behind the car which took the plunge, hung suspended on the brink of the open draw while the terrified passengers, in a pante,

It was several minutes before firemen and policemen reached the scene. In the merged car, swam to the bank and were pulled out by spectators. The accident occurred just before daylight and the car was crowded with workcrambled out of the rear exit.

meantime a dozen or more men, had struggled out of the partly down with the car.

Continued from Page One

ples of submarine warfare at all.

ference with Secretary Lansing. The appointment was made at the Austrian offi-cial's request. It was said that he planned to question the credibility of Dr. Cecila Greile, a first-cabin passenger on the Aucona, on part of whose story the origi-

Four cipher communications from Baron Zwiedinek to the Austrian Foreign Office were forwarded today by the Stote Department. It is understood they convey to the Austrian Foreign Office a complete statement of just how Washington officialdom regards the Ancona situation. Baron Zwiedinek is also said to uation. Baron Zwiedinek is also said to have pointed out to his Government that President Wilson is determined that his announced position must be maintained at any cost. What effect these dis-patches will have on the Austrian Foreign Office is, of course, problematical. BREAK BELIEVED CERTAIN.

The belief was growing in official and diplomatic circles today that the Admin-teration has practically decided that a break with Austria must come. In Aun-matters now concerning the tw nal Ancona protest was framed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18—President Wilson's wedding tonight little resembles either of the two marriages of Presidents in office which have taken place previously to this Administration. President borne him five sons and two daughters. next morning, with the two youngest, children and their nurses. She comforted her husband's dying hours. She had borne him five sons and two daughters.

While at the White House Mrs. Tyler received rather estentationsly on her reception days. Twelve girls were her attendants. They all dressed alike, and stood six on each side of her slightly raised receiving platform. She herself While at the White House Mrs. Tyler raised receiving platform. She herself were a headdress of bugles, resembling a crown, and a sown of purple, with a long

CLEVELAND'S BRIDE.

While Mrs. Tyler was distinctly a grande dame, President Cleveland's bride was much more successful in captivating the heart of democratic America.

Frances Folsom, now Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, and the wife of a Princeton pro-fessor, was an unusually sweet and charming young girl. She was the daugh-ter of Mr. Cleveland's former partner and was a native of Buffalo, N. Y. Their romance was watched by the country with absorbed interest.

Miss Folsom arrived in Washington at early dawn on the morning of her wedding day, June 2, 1836, and was met at the station by the President's sister, who drove her to the White House. There the President met her at the entrance. The South Room next to the library, beautifully decorated, was set aside for her use. Breakfast was served at 8 o'clock, and the remainder of the day was devoted to his duties by the President and to repose by the bride-elect.

By 6 o'clock that evening the crowds

By 8 o clock that evening the crowds were gathering about the grounds. The ceremony did not begin until 7. The interior of the President's house was in festal array. The East Room presented a magnificient appearance. The floral decurations were the most elaborate ever seen in the White House. The four mantelpieces were banked with roses, orchids, tillies and major hale form clasts fillies. there was a grand reception, at which the lilies and maiden-hair fern plants filled the fireplaces; the mirrors were festooned with roses; the chandelters were wreather with ropes of smilax. The centres of the four large columns, which were encircled with roses of various colors, were adorned with shields four feet in length bearing the national arms, the stripes formed of red and white roses on a field of blue. One mantelpiece was banked with dark pansies, hearing the date June 2, 1886, in light pansies, and the other mantel was covered with red roses.

At 7 o'clock the Marine Band struck up At 7 o'clock the Marine Band struck up the Mendelssohn Wedding March, the first gun of the national salute becomed from the arsenal, and every church bell and whistle in the city added to the glad acciaim. The President and Miss Folsom entered from the private dining room, and the 58 guestes stood in a semicircle about the happy pair. The company, though small, was distinguished.

Tall graceful blue eved and fair Miss.

Tall, graceful, blue-eyed and fair Miss Folsom looked the ideal American bride for whose hand a President even might be proud to suc. A vision of leveliness she is said to have been as she stood there bushing before her audience. Her gown was of lvory satin trimmed with Indian silk arranged in Grecian folds over the corsage and fastened in folds of satin at the sile. She carried no flowers and wore no jewels, but her engagement ring. Her train was a marvel of graceful arrange

They spent their honeymoon in the South. Mrs. Cleveland proved to be one of the most charming hostesses of the White House, and was well loved by the

WILSON PARDONS THREE 7 DROWN WEED CAR Frees Federal Prisoners on His Wed-DROPS THROUGH BRIDGE ding Day

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 .- On the day of washing, President Wilson today pardoned three men now serving terms in Federal prisons. They were: E. L. Dillingham, of Clayton, Ga., convicted of meonshining: Charles Contour, of Missoula, Mont., convicted of selling liquor to Indiana, and W. Harry Hood, of Alabama, convicted of robbing interstated. Sad Scene in Spokane as Dead and a Dozen Injured Are SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 18.-Seven perbama, convicted of robbing interstate ips Lee Goldsborough, who January 1 will prender the Executive chair to Emerse Harrington, Democrat, has announced a candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. E. C. Carrington, a former Bull Moose leader, and Ovington E. Weller, recently Republican numinee for Governor, are candidates.

> Goldsborough in Senate Race BALTIMORE, Dec. 18.-Governor Phil

A NATIVE OF VIRGINIA

BRIDE OF PRESIDENT

She's Fond of Music, Flowers, Economics and Light Literature-Also Likes Golf

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. -The new mist tress of the White House is quite the Wilson type, plus the Virginia manner and a Southern love of life. She was formerly Miss Edith Bolling, daughter of the late William H. Bolling, of Wythvilla. Va. She was one of 13 children, nine of whom are still living.

In 1895 Edith Bolling, a beautiful girt met Norman Galt. A short time later they were married. This happened while she was visiting her sister, Mrs. Alexander Hunter Galt. He was a vestryman ander Hunter Gall. He was a vestryman in St. Thomas's Church in Washington and was generous with his wealth and personal activities in the church until he death eight years ago. After his death Mrs. Galt continued an active member of the same church, occupying the perher husband had possessed ever since the church was built. Just after the shnouncement of her engagement to the President, however, Mrs. Galt transferred her membership to St. Margaret's Enter her memberahip to St. Margaret's Episopal Church.

copal Church.

The President's bride is not known as a college girl, though she concluded he education at Powell's College in Richmond, Va., after attending Mariha Washington College at Abington, Va., for She is fond of music, flowers, econo-

She is fond of music, flowers, economics and light literature. Like all good Virginians, she is a good horsewoman and splendld driver. She like golf, and she her engagement to the President he has attempted to teach her some of the fine points of the game.

points of the game.

On baseball and horses she is a fan at much so as the President himself. She does not play tennis, but is a great walker, enjoying long tramps, sometimes for two or three hours about town er along a country road. She is not strenuous, however, and could not be called athletle: is rather one who enjoys good health and living, reasonable hours and prefers healthful fun to late suppers.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

CAMERON.— At her residence, Rishers Bridge, N. J., on December 17, 1915, 2AB.

A. wife of Robert S. Vameron. Relative and friends are invited to attend the funest services, Monisy afterneon at 2 octoc, at the apartments of Oliver 11, Sar, 1830 Chef, Moriah Cemetery. CHURCHILL.—At her residence, 1315 x 57th st., on Documber 18, 1915, CAROLINE widow of Benjamin E. Churchill, aged 19

COPE.—At his home in Germantown, on Sixth-day, $12th Month, 17th, JOHN & COPE, in the 50th year of his age. Relative and friends are invited to attend the fa-neral, on Second-day, 12th Month, 20th at Friends Meeting House, Coulter and Main sta., Germantown, at it p. m. Interment private.

iricate.

McDOUGAL.—On December 18, 1915, 8AM-UEL A McDOUGAL, in his 91st year, Relatives and friends, also Meridian San Ledas, No. 178, E. & A. M. are invited to attent the funeral services. The slav a fermon, at 5 o'clock, at his late residence, 2009 Spring to the funeral services. The slav a fermon, at 5 o'clock, at his late residence 2009 Spring the funeral services. Interment private.

NEURAUER.—On December 17, 1945, SUSAN 18., widow of Lorenta Neubauer and daughter of the late William and Susan Red., Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services, on Wednesday norming at 11 o'clock, at Lee late residence, 1450 South 16th st. Interment private, at Monta Maria? Cemetery. Friends may view remains 72cs day evening.

day evening.

RODEARMEL.—On December 16, 1015, 118:0162 W. KODEARMEL. Relatives and friends, also Maita Council, No. 205, 0 of L. A. are invited to attend the funeral services, Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock at 3th late residence, 1413 Parrish at Internet at American Mechanics' Cemetery, Bealing may be viewed Monday evening, from 1:43 b o'clock.

o clock.

TAVLOR.—On December 18, 1915, HORACE R., beloved husband of Lemma Lewis Taler (new Abel), arged 19, vol. Relatives and friends, also West Phila, Avsembly 86, A. O. M. P. Washinaton Carm No. 32, 19, 3, 5, 5, 7, and the employes of the distribution of the control of t THOMAS. On December 17, 1912 SMMA

II. widness of John L. Thomas. Relative and friends are invited to attend the fineral are friends are invited to attend the fineral are friends are the fire of the fineral are the fire of the fire of Polock.

TOJ.LNGER.—Suddenly, on December II.
1015. DANIEL R. TOJ.LINGER, aged # years. Relatives and friends has offered Association and emblores in the friends are invited emblores.

To december 21 afternion, December 21 af
a clock, at his late residence, 140 Seat Adden et W. Phila, Interment M. Metish, Priends may call Monday evening I to 0 o'clock.

A'PARTMENTS

LARCIE living room, 2 bedraces, both diagrams, hitchen, maid's room and harder; all large, light rooms. Injure Janter, 1339 (1950) 1 st. REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

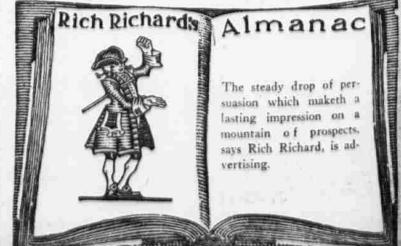

Factories, Warehouses, Mfg. Floors

corr GERMANTOWN AVE,—New buildings extra heavy construction; suitable for manu-facturing, warehouse or wholesale business; a floors and barement; 7000 square feet; cor-tric elevator; low rent; will sell on liberal terms. Estate of Daniel Buck, 1503 North 5th st Should the Crisis Come —Should the news that war was on flash across the United States -Should word of an invading host; the whir of hostile aeroplane propellers; the crash of devastating bombs in our

The National Security League MAYOR RUDOLPH BLANKENBURG, Chairman

E. ALEXANDER POWELL, Noted War Correspondent

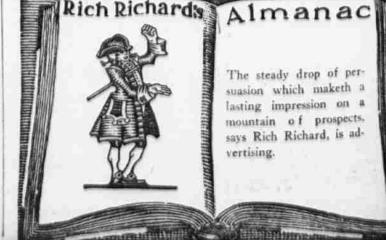

city's streets startle us from false security into terror-stricken realization WOULD WE BE READY?

ACADEMY OF MUSIC, TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 21st

HON, JAMES M. BECK, Portner Attorney General of the United States

Tickets can be secured at headquarters, Franklin Bank Bldg., Broad & Chestnut Ste.
MOTION PICTURES OF THE WORLD'S WAR MILITARY BAND CONCERT

ers. None had any warning in time to jump and every passenger was carried Requisitioning tugs and rowboats, rescuers circled the mass of debris showing above the river's surface and pulled out the bodies of the dead and injured. NOTE REVEALS BREAK WITH AUSTRIA NEAR reiterate the demand for disavowal and will make it emphatically clear that the United States cannot discuss the princi-The reply to Austria, it was stated authoritatively today, will not be any longer than the original Ancona note. All of THUE the demands will be renewed and this Government will insist in language that SILUE will not permit of any quibbling that the issue is one of principle and not of fact ZWIEDINEK SEES LANSING. Baron Zwiedinck, the Austrian Charge, called at the State Department for a con-