PENN FOOTBALL COMMITTEE LIKELY TO CHOOSE BOB FOLWELL HEAD COACH TONIGHT

FOLWELL LIKELY TO BE SELECTION FOR HEAD COACH

Penn Football Committee Will Hold Secret Session This Evening

RED TAPE ATTACHED

The University of Pennsylvania Foot-ball Committee will meet this evening to select the Quakers' gridiron instructor for 1916. But the committee will be unable to anounce its decision for the reason that the University Athletic Committee has decreed that the new coach must first have its approval, even before the name have even before the name of the new coach is submitted to the Board of Directors of the Athletic Assosubmitted to the

The action of the University Athletic Committee is unprecedented. Heretofore it has been content to ratify coaches after they have been passed upon by the Board of Directors of the Athletic Association of the committees themselves. But of Directors of the Athletic Association and the committees themselves. But on account of the many disputes since the end of the football senson the faculty representatives have taken a band in the matter and are determined that the man picked by the Football Committee shall be agreeable to them or the name cannot be submitted to the board of directors.

Wharton Sinkler, chairman of the Foot-ball Committee, received instructions this bell Committee, received instructions this morning from Dr. Arthur Goodspeed, who is chairman of the University Athietic Committee, not to announce the result of his committee's action or even submit it to the board of directors of the A. A. before his committee had passed on the successful man. Since the Football Comsuccessful man. Since the Football Committee is anxious to have the matter settled in time to present the name of the coach to the board of directors at its monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon there will have to be a meeting between the Football Committee and the University Athletic Committee in advance of the hoard's meeting. Otherwise the selection would be considerably delayed. But as every one is anxious to get the matter settled without further delay, it is believed that the University Athletic Committee will do its part to expedite things.

Folwell May Be Named

Although the members of the Football Committee refuse absolutely to indicate who the successful coach will be, the belief is gaining ground among football men who are usually consulted on such matters that Bob Folwell will be the man. If Folwell gets the position it will be due to the action of the Football Committee in delaying its decision until after the holidays. It is known that several members of the committee wanted to name the coach before the holidays, and that if he Lad been named then Mike to name the coach before the holidays, and that if he Lad been named then Mike Bennett would almost certainly have been the man. The qualifications of Folwell Bennett would afficient the man. The qualifications of Folwell are believed to have been more and more impressed upon the committee over the holidays, and this, taken in conjunction with the fact that Bennett is still under contract to coach Haverford next fall, are thought to be responsible for the commence with of sentiment of the commence with of sentiment of the commence with of sentiment of the commence with the commence of the commence supposed shift of sentiment of the com-

DEATH OF GRIDIRON STARS IS NO BOOST FOR FOOTBALL

As Builder of Human System, Passing of Five Great Players Bears No Laurels for Game, Says Grantland Rice

To Which We Take an Oath

Through the germ-embroidered ages— You can seize this as a tip— "Better fifty years of smallpox Than a fortnight with the grip"; Better fifty years in helifre, Where a million devils gloat— Better fifty years of trench life Than an ulcerated throat.

Great football players are scarce where good ones gather in the pack. Of the great ones in the last few years, Nell Snow, Tom Shevilli, Gordon Brown, Jim Hogan and Stillman have passed on. Which is no great boost for football as a builder of the human system.

Doctor Watson may be able to make something from this queer twist, but it rests well out beyond our brief reach. We wonder just how much Messrs. Welsh and Lewis, as fighting Englishmen, will and Lewis, as fighting Englishmen, will be able to get on their titles back upon British soil when the Red Carnival ends, in the shadow of 5,000,000 graves?

If the practice of masking the athletes is transferred from wrestling to baseball, how many masks will it require to disguise Hans Wagner?

Or how many masks would Ty Cobb require when his batting and banverages began to be printed?

SCHOOL ATHLETES AWAIT OPENING LEAGUE CONTESTS

C. H. S. Meets Southern at Quaker City A. C.-West Phila. Plays Northeast

SCHOLASTIC COMMENT

With the strongest teams in the history of basketball at Central High. Southern. West Philadelphia and Northeast High, the schoolboys in this section await the opening of the High School League season tomorrow with considerable interest, for two hard-fought contests are promised, with the odds of victory about even and the contenders for cage honors of about equal strength. When the athletes returned to schoot today they lost little time after class hours getting into basketball togs and engaging in the practices ordered by the coaches. Central High's squad made up coaches. Central High's squad made up for lost time, starting work immediately under the tutelage of Jim Usilton, former Crimson and Gold star. Central plays Southern tomorrow at the Quaker City Athletic Club, 28th and Dauphin streets. In addition to the other league game between West Philadelphia High School and Northeast High in the West Phillies. gymnasium, there are two scholastic con-tests on the roster, making up the fol-lowing schedule of cage attractions for the schoolboys:

HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE GAMES. Central vs. Southern, at 26th and Dauphin streets. West Philadelphia vs. Northeast, at

17th and Walnut streets. OTHER CONTESTS. Philadelphia Trades School vs. Darby

High School (first and second teams) at Darby High. Temple Preparatory vs. Vineland High School, at Vineland.

There is little to choose between Cen-tral and Southen this year. Both teams tral and Southen this year. Both teams are going at championship speed. Last year Southern succeeded in winning all three league games with Central High, and the North Broad street boys are eager for revenge. Neither Coach Ingber, of Southern, nor Coach Usilton, of Central, are positive how the men will line up tomorrow, but here is the probable

NATIONAL 'COMISH' OFFICERS WILL BE ELECTED TODAY

"Peace Committee" Meeting Also to Be Determined in Cincinnati

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—John Heydler, secretary of the National League, has announced a meeting of the National Commission at Cincinnati for today, when officers for the commission will be elected and other business transacted. The commission also will determine the time and place of meeting for the so-called "peace committee," which is arranging the details of settlement of the recent war between organized baseball and the Federal League.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS

Tommy Buck will appear in his second bout in Kausaa City when he opposes Henny Chaves, Mexican resistencish, in a 40-round bout to-night. A victory for Buck may put him in line for a match with George Chaney. A Kanmas City promoter is trying to arrange a Buck-Chaney bout for January 24.

Johnny Ertie has passed up his proposed match with Eddie O'Keefe. After definite plans had been arranged, including the weight, 118 pounds ringside, the St. Paul bantam has refused to meet O'Keefe under any conditions. And O'Keefe passed up two dates—Christmas and New Year's—hoping to be in the best of shape against Ertie.

Oh, for a crack at that fellow Leonard; exclaimed Hobby Reynolds this morning, made him look like a novice in a lo-round bou in New York last year. Can I do it again Well, I know I still can lick him.

New Orleans will be the scene of Kid Williams next bent. He is scheduled to meet Pete Herman in a 20-round set-to February 7. Williams and his sparring partner, Frank Howard, left Ballimors for New Orleans to-day.

Soccer Team Joins

Colors to a Man

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The famous Blackburn Rovers' Soccer Club, which won the championship of the English league in 1913 and 1914 with a forward line which cost $50,000, has set an example among the football clubs in England by joining the colors to a man.

Several members enlisted some time ago, while the remainder, in-cluding the veteran Bob Crompton, Bradshaw, Latheron and Suttle, took the step under Lord Derby's scheme. scheme.

As a result of the first half of the English soccer season, which ended last Monday, the league clubs of the Northern and Midland sec-tion have handed over to the charity fund $10,000, being a percentage deducted from the gate receipts received each Saturday.

Welcome to Our City

Here's good news for every motor car owner in and around Philadelphia.

"Little Ampere," who represents Willard, the highest standard of storage battery service, has arrived in our midst in the person of Mr. Evans, head of the new Willard Service Station on Brandywine Street.

Don't confuse this service with ordinary battery repair shops -it goes a great deal farther than repairs. Suggestions, advice, inspection—all these are battery safeguards, and they're free.

Mr. Evans isn't a novice at the game. For several years he has been chief chemist of the Willard Storage Battery Company of Cleveland. He breathes, talks, eats, sleeps and thinks storage batteries. If he says a thing is so, you may bet a new hat he's

That's the kind of service you need. All our mechanics are experts at recharging, repairing or renewing batteries.

Come in and learn something about your starting and lighting system. Ask for a card entitling you to free battery inspection each month. If you already have a card from the former Willard Station, it's good here.
