

ILLUSTRATED Evening Ledger

WEDNESDAY
January 5, 1916

THE WORLD'S KALEIDOSCOPE OF EVER-CHANGING EVENTS AS RECORDED BY THE CAMERA

CHEFS OF THE RACQUET CLUB CONSTRUCT WAR TABLEAUX FROM TALLOW
Left to right are Pietro Magistrini and Chiel Ferdinand, respectively night and day chefs, who spent two weeks on this work of culinary art for a club banquet. The two bulls fighting are symbolic of Europe at war. On a plane below is a miniature reproduction of the Ford peace ship.

MAGISTRATE MICLEARY IS ALMOST BURIED BY FRIENDS' GIFTS
On the occasion of his entry upon his third term of service, the Magistrate found his office well-nigh swamped with presents from his admirers of the 31st, his home ward. The gifts included everything from flowers to a grandfather clock.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.

HENRY FORD STARTS HOMEWARD FROM NORWAY
The peacemaker whose project wound up so sadly appears on the right. With him is his faithful companion, Dean S. S. Marquis, of Detroit, who stuck to the motor maker through thick and thin.

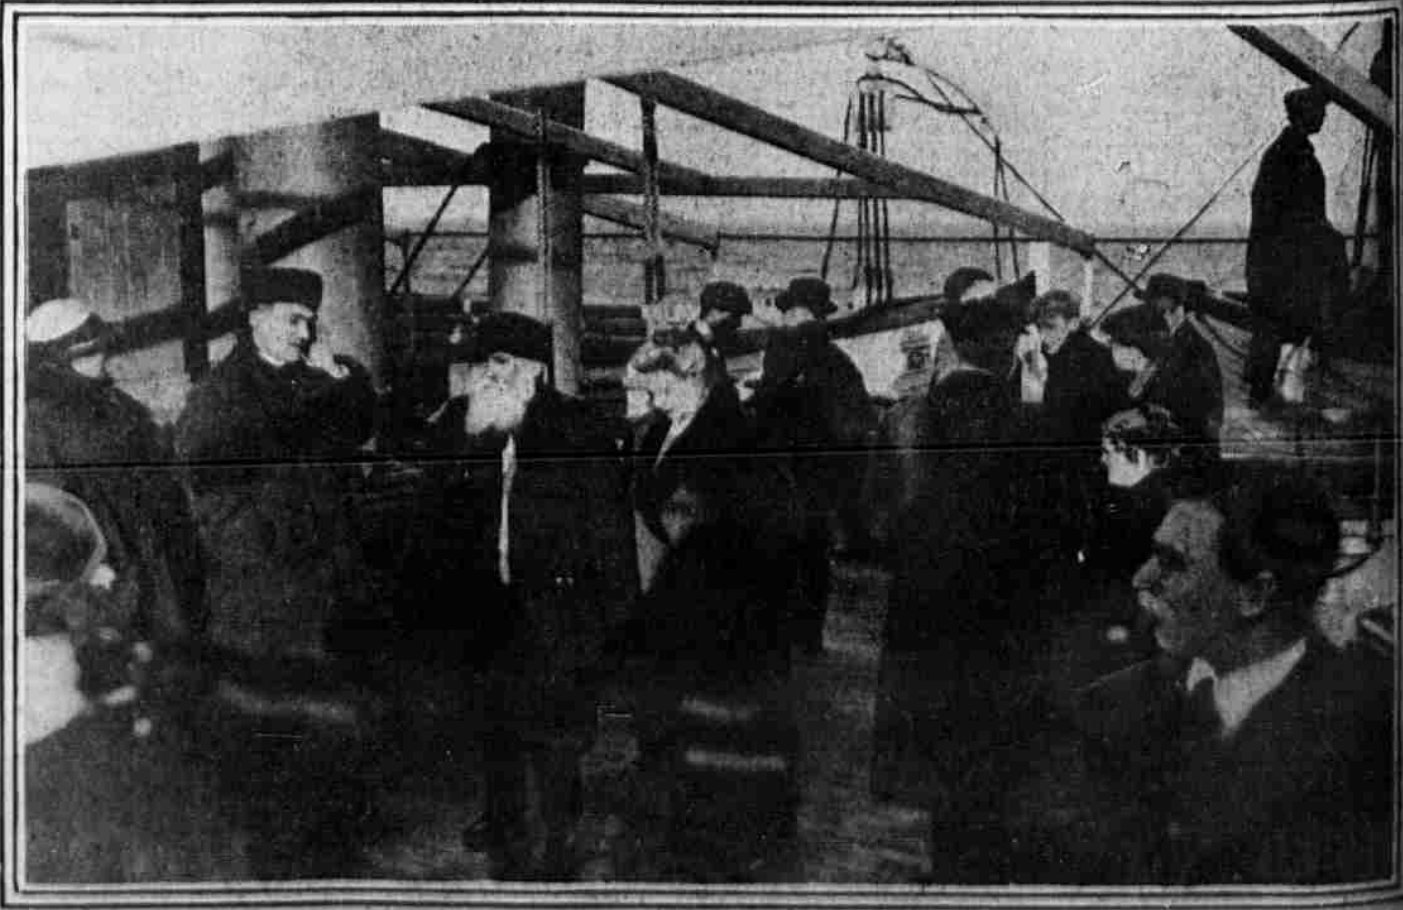

Photo by Harris & Ewing.

BELLE OF THE PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS
The prettiest woman attending the sessions in Washington is said to be Senorita Conchita Guirola, who comes from San Salvador.

Photo by Harper B. Smith.

ATLANTIC CITY'S FIRST SURF BATHER FOR THE YEAR 1916
Miss Agnes Clune Quinlan, who is a musician, of Sharon Hill, Pa., braved the icy breakers yesterday, despite the fact that the water registered 33 degrees. The attire of the two women presents a strong contrast.

Photos by Underwood & Underwood.

FIRST PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE MUCH-DISCUSSSED FORD PEACE PARTY ARRIVE FROM NORWAY.
The picture at the left reveals some of the pretty college girls who accompanied the expedition as delegates. Left to right they are Misses Elinor Ryan, of Ohio State College; Katrina Browster, of Vassar; Elizabeth Hall, of Barnard; Ora Fern Guesford, of Drake, and Nellie May Reeder, of Wellesley. On the right is a deck scene taken on board the Oscar II as she neared Christiania. Delegates are taking exercise and scanning the horizon. The old gentleman in the fur hat is the Rev. Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones.