

LINER RAISED WHITE FLAG AND FIRED UPON AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE

Details of Attack on Porto Said Issued by Vienna—U-Boat Saved Passengers at Risk to Itself

UNDER FIRE AT TIME

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—An official statement issued today with reference to the sinking of the Italian steamship Porto Said by an Austro-Hungarian submarine makes the charge that after the white flag had hoisted on the steamship the ship tried to ram the submarine.

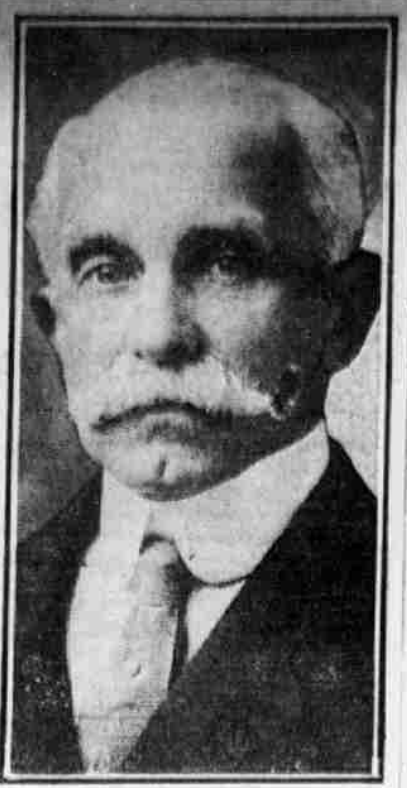

Several of the persons on board the liner were saved through the efforts of the submarine, which was hailed by a torpedo boat and yacht while engaged in rescue work.

The official statement follows: "The submarine ordered the steamship to stop. After attempting to raise the ship, the submarine fired a white flag and the steamship approached the submarine. The submarine then fired a torpedo which struck the liner. The submarine then stopped and began lowering boats. When this was noted the submarine ceased firing and approached.

"Some of the boats, having no need to persons struggling in the water, made for the coast. The submarine hailed the boat containing the Porto Said's captain, and the commander of the submarine threatened to shoot the captain of the merchant ship if he did not pick up the helpless ones in the water.

"On the steamship were found two persons, one of whom was wounded. They were taken on board the submarine and after their wounds were dressed they were placed in the boat containing the Porto Said's captain. It was not until then that the ship was torpedoed.

"All the time the submarine was giving aid to those on the merchant ship it was being shelled by an enemy torpedo boat and by an armed yacht."

HE'S AN ART MODEL
E. T. Stotesbury has the distinction of being the richest art students' model in the United States. For several weeks the banker, P. R. T. ruler and art collector has been posing for a class of young sculptors at the Graphic Sketch Club in this city.

STOTESBURY CAN EARN LIVING AS ART MODEL

Man of Millions Needn't Starve. Can Make 35 Cents an Hour

E. T. Stotesbury need never starve. A man of millions and infinite resources in other respects, were those millions to be wiped out tomorrow, he could still keep the wolf from the door. This by reason of a new and startling ability on his part but recently come to light.

For, whereas Mr. Stotesbury, in addition to being able to run railroads, banks, horse shows and charity balls with a rare facility, is an artist's model "par excellence."

This new one of the great financier's rare accomplishments has been revealed most unexpectedly. But the fact remains that Mr. Stotesbury for several weeks past has been posing for the advanced class in sculpture at the Graphic Sketch Club.

The Graphic Sketch Club is an organization founded 17 years ago to provide an artistic education for those who could not afford to pay for it. The advanced class consists of four students, all of whom are of foreign birth.

At the present time Mr. Stotesbury, it is understood, is furnishing his services as a model gratis. It is whispered that he plans to purchase the most successful of the creations of the four sculptors, or maybe all of them.

However, should a dark day come, posing would always insure for the banker a means of livelihood, since the young artists say, as a model, he is well above the average. As a model he would be entitled to the regular emolument.

That is to say, 35 cents an hour.

WOMEN TRY TO HALT U. S. DEFENSE PLANS

Peace Party Protests Before House Committee Against Preparedness

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Vigorous protest against the Administration's preparedness program was formally presented to Congress today by the Woman's Peace Party, holding its second convention here.

Miss Jane Addams, chairman, and a delegation of the party appeared before the House and Senate Foreign Affairs Committee. Their peace and anti-preparedness plan urged:

A Congressional Joint Committee to investigate within six months conditions of national defense, probability of hostile action by any foreign power, and plans to reduce international friction by legislation and diplomacy.

A peace conference of neutral nations to be called at once.

A third Hague peace conference.

Government ownership of munition plants.

A joint commission of Americans, Japanese and Chinese to study Oriental questions.

Almost all convention delegates attended the committee hearings. Other speakers besides Miss Addams were Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, of Boston, and Miss S. P. Breckinridge, dean of the Woman's College of Chicago University.

Prominent Philadelphian Invited to Head Pennsylvania Club

Oswald Chew has been asked to be Pennsylvania's representative on the Commission for Relief in Belgium. He is a member of one of the oldest families—a descendant of Benjamin Chew, who was a Tory during the Revolution—and a lawyer. He has not yet made up his mind whether or not he will accept. The invitation came from Albert Cross, secretary of the Pennsylvania committee of the commission.

Mr. Chew is the youngest son of Mrs. Samuel Chew. He is 35 years old and is married. His home is at Radnor. Mr. Chew was graduated from Harvard in 1901, and has traveled extensively in Europe.

DUELLI D'ARTIGLIERIA IN CORSO DALL'ADIGE SINO A MONFALCONE

I Circoli Politici e la Stampa Italiani Allarmati Per la Grave Situazione nel Montenegro

OCORRE L'INTERVENTO

ROMA, 11 Gennaio.

Il comunicato ufficiale pubblicato ieri sera dal Ministero della Guerra circa la situazione sul fronte italo-austriaco dice che ai sonni avvenuti duelli di artiglieria e che i cannoni di grosso calibro sono stati in azione in diversi punti. Ecco il testo del comunicato:

"Violente azioni di artiglieria hanno luogo dappertutto sul fronte italo-austriaco. Il nemico usa i cannoni di grosso calibro. Queste azioni di artiglieria si hanno in diversi punti del fronte, dalle posizioni a sud-ovest di Rovereto sino a Monfalcone."

"Sabato sera il nemico diresse un attacco contro le nostre posizioni del Monte Sief, nella zona di Col di Lana, ma l'attacco fu respinto dalle nostre truppe e gli austriaci furono costretti a ritirarsi."

ALLARMI PER MONTENEGRO.
L'offensiva che l'Austria sta spingendo ora nel Montenegro e che qualche settimana fa sembrava essere destinata a fallire prosegue ed i circoli ufficiali italiani ne sembrano allarmati. Le mire dell'Austria sono evasivamente anche a carico che non vogliono vederle. Essa tende ad assicurarsi il possesso del Monte Lovcen che domina Cattaro e a fare delle Bocche di Cattaro una formidabile base navale da cui poter minacciare seriamente, assai più facilmente di quel che non possa ora, tutto l'Adriatico meridionale.

Le forze che ora invadono il Montenegro si stendono dal fiume Tara sino al diavolo di Isok. I giornali sono allarmatissimi ed esortano il governo a non restare un minuto solo per venire in soccorso del Montenegro ed impedire all'Austria di raggiungere il suo obiettivo che avrebbe conseguenze gravissime anche per la situazione nell'Albania settentrionale e renderebbe possibile un attacco combinato delle forze austriache e bulgare contro la zona di Valona in Italia, oltre che minacciare il possesso di Durazzo.

Tutti i critici militari affermano che se non si corre e presto in aiuto delle forze montenegrine, il solo scampo di Durazzo, Isok e al vedra. L'esercito di re Nicola subire l'estesa sorte di quello della Serbia. Il generale Corra in un articolo pubblicato dalla Tribuna dice che la cattura del Monte Lovcen da parte degli austriaci darà all'Italia un nuovo spinoso problema quando si dovranno fare i conti finali. Egli dice quindi che si devono dare ai montenegrini i mezzi adatti per difendere quella posizione che ha un interesse vitale per l'Italia.

Il governo montenegrino francamente ammette che le sue forze non possono resistere molto a lungo alla pressione delle forze austriache, nonostante che in qualche punto i montenegrini siano rimasti vittoriosi. Le posizioni montenegrine del Monte Lovcen sono state furiosamente bombardate dalle batterie austriache ed invase e dai forti di Cattaro, ed i montenegrini non hanno artiglieria sufficiente per rispondere efficacemente a questo fuoco dei cannoni e dei forti austriaci. In direzione di Berana gli austriaci hanno battuto i montenegrini ed hanno occupato Turak. Evidentemente essi mirano a giungere a Durazzo.

PER IL NUOVO PRESTITO.
Dalle notizie che si hanno dalle provincie risulta che un buon terzo del prestito di guerra italiano è stato già sottoscritto e che le sottoscrizioni per il resto procedono soddisfacentemente, cosicché si attende che l'intero prestito di un miliardo di lire sarà presto coperto. Le nuove obbligazioni sono redimibili in 25 anni e rendono un interesse del 5 per cento libero da ogni tassa. La sottoscrizione resterà aperta dal 19 gennaio fino al 19 febbraio in Italia e fino a tutto marzo nella colonia ed all'estero.

Un comunicato del governo spiega che scopo del censimento del grano, ordinato per il 25 del corrente mese, è quello di stabilire la quantità di grano che bisogna importare, e nega assolutamente che il governo abbia intenzione o bisogno di stabilire le ragioni di pane per la popolazione civile come è stato fatto in Germania.

Da una statistica pubblicata dal governo e diramata ai rappresentanti dell'Italia all'estero risulta che durante i primi tre mesi del corrente anno fiscale le entrate del governo sono state di lire 1,368,000,000, cioè di 22,000,000 in più dello stesso periodo dell'anno scorso. Tutti i capitoli di entrata del resto sono in aumento, e ciò è tanto più notevole in quanto si pensa che l'Italia è in guerra, e mostra come le condizioni finanziarie dell'Italia siano più che buone.

RIGID STEPS TO GUARD DU PONT PLANTS TAKEN

Extreme Precautions in Force to Prevent Repetition of Explosions

Extreme precautions were taken at all the du Pont powder works in New Jersey and Delaware and the strictest discipline enforced today to prevent a repetition of the series of disasters of yesterday, when three explosions occurred within 16 hours, one of them causing the loss of three lives, at the Carney's Point plant.

The guards have been doubled, and although this is explained by the company as a routine matter, all reserve guards being called to their posts following an explosion, it is understood that the present armed force always on duty will be greatly increased in numbers.

The other two explosions were in the Hagley yard of the du Pont company on the Brandywine, at Wilmington. The first of these occurred shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when five pounds of powder in a barrel which was being glazed in the prismatic powder department exploded and Joseph Golt, who has charge of the mill, was bruised.

Thirty-five minutes later 500 pounds of powder exploded in a meal mill, where powder is ground. No one was injured. The officers of the company insist that all three explosions were accidental, but employees say that notices had been posted recently warning men to get out of the plants, as "something was to happen between January 1 and January 15." After an investigation it was said that "no reliable employee had said he had seen the notices."

The three men killed at Carney's Point were Richard Day Larney, 41 years old, of Philadelphia, father of four children; P. S. Wynns, 31 years old, of 602 Irving street, Philadelphia, and John Walsh, 28 years old, of Carney's Point. The property loss caused by the three explosions is about $100.

CHARITY WORK HERE OPENS EYES OF THE "BEST PEOPLE"

More Than 15,000 See Exhibits. Prominent Speakers Today

"Philadelphia's charitable institutions are being put on their feet," said an official today at the Educational Exhibit of the Society for Organizing Charity in the Widener Building. "The present exhibition is stirring the city to its depths. We already have had more than 15,000 people pass through the doors, and this number represents the best class of Philadelphia, the ones we were most anxious to reach."

"Already we have had considerable in the way of funds donated, and hundreds of volunteers have come forward to assist us in the great work we are trying to do in fighting the problems of the distressed in the city.

"One thing the show has done is that it has knocked on the head some of the skepticism which prevailed in this city as to the work of the Society for Organizing Charity. It was argued on every hand that more funds were spent by the society on the salaries of its workers than on charity, but I think one only has to look around the exhibit and find out for himself just how magnificent and noble is our work."

Today there was a talk on "Mosquitoes How They Should Be Swatted," by James H. McCrudden, which will be followed by a drama entitled, "Out of the Depths."

Dr. Wilmer Krusen, new Director of the Public Health, was the principal speaker at a conference on "The Family and Municipal Charities," Miss Ella F. Harris also spoke. This afternoon Dr. Director of Public Safety William H. Wilson and Dr. Charles H. Frazier spoke on "The Family and State Charities."

CHURCHMEN START CAMPAIGN

Presbyterians Raising City's Share of $10,000,000 Fund

A campaign to be conducted quietly in this city for the next three months, started today for the obtaining of Philadelphia's share toward the $10,000,000 fund for the support of aged Presbyterian ministers, their widows and orphans. The Rev. Wm. Hiram Foulkes and Rev. John H. Walton will present the cause in the parlors of the various churches.

Five hundred pastors, elders and prominent laymen met at dinner in the Hotel Hamilton last night and considered the plan for the campaign. Doctor Foulkes, who is general secretary of the Board of Ministerial Relief and S. tentation, has had great success in other cities, many thousands of dollars already having been contributed. Justice William P. Potter declared that a sound working plan had been obtained and predicted great success for the campaign here.

John Dane gave up, and sold his farm for $2200

And the man who bought it got his money back in two seasons. For 20 years John Dane failed to make a living on 64 acres. He tried corn, truck and other crops that he could have sold in a good market four miles away. But the farm did nothing except sprout seed. The new owner took it in the winter. Although there was no rain from May 10th to September 1st, he produced and fed $1800 worth of silage to beef cattle—the first good crop that farm had borne in 20 years. And that first summer he increased the fertility so much that the next season he got the whole purchase price back. And he's made a living plus ever since. How? He did it by practicing the kind of farming that is found every week in

KOENIG, CHIEF PLOTTER FOR GERMANS, MISSING

Wanted by New York Police on Charge Concerning Robbery of National City Bank

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Paul Koenig, head of the Hamburg-American secret service, is missing. United States District Attorney Marshall's office was so confident that he could be laid upon the German agent at 111 that the idea he could not be found in a pool-hoed yesterday. At the time it was reported that the police were anxious to apprehend Koenig, promptly announced that he could be found at a well-known Broadway hotel.

Acting Captain Tunney rushed two men to the hotel to arrest Koenig on a warrant issued by Magistrate Harris yesterday, which charges Koenig with being an employer of a convict or gratuity in his employ as a "boss." At the hotel it was learned that Koenig was entirely unknown.

Detective Barrett and others of Tunney's bomb squad had searched at the house in 8th street, where Koenig was supposed to live, only to find that he had moved; and had checked Koenig's offices, in the Hamburg-American Building, 45 Broadway, to find them deserted and closed.

Federal authorities, pointing to the fact that Koenig is on a $50,000 bail on two charges of carrying on in the United States military enterprises against Canada, asserted their confidence that he had not fled.

When it was found the Assistant District Attorney was in error as to his whereabouts, another Government investigator was quite positive he could get his fingers on Koenig at any moment. He said the German agent is in a sanitarium recuperating from a severe illness. When the police pressed him to tell where they could arrest Koenig, he declared it "wasn't proper" to re-arrange him, and refused to tell.

This gave rise to a report that, so anxious were the officials to find Koenig that they asked District Attorney Swann to have the tardy State warrant issued, in order that both city and federal detectives might have ample excuse to hunt for the accused man.

The warrant issued by Magistrate Harris yesterday grew out of Koenig's dealings with Frederick Schleinid, clerk in the National City Bank.

When Koenig was arrested on the charge of conspiracy to blow up the Welland Canal, the name of Schleinid and evidence of payments to latter were found in Koenig's papers. Herman Metzler, Koenig's private secretary, who became a Government witness, charged Koenig had made regular payments to the clerk for $2000 a month, his papers, revealing business of the Allies.

Store Robbed of $1538 in Clothing

THE WEATHER

Official Forecast
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—For eastern Pennsylvania: Partly cloudy and colder tonight; Wednesday cloudy, with possibly snow or sleet in north and west portions; moderate northwest to north winds.

The storm that was central over the Lake region yesterday has moved eastward to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, accompanied by general rains over its entire course. It has caused mild temperatures in the Atlantic States, but is being followed by a colder area that has spread over the upper Lake region and southward to the Ohio River. The disturbance that was reported from the plateau region yesterday has moved southeastward and has spread eastward over the lower Mississippi valley. It appears to be running under and ahead of the northwestern cold areas.
