Mrs. Sydney Emlen Hutchon will sing, and so will Elizabeth atta, who made such a wonderful debut at the Drexel Biddle concert, Then Mary Wurts and George Kneass vill appear in a Pavlowa Gavotte, and Dytendale Baird and Robert Carrere will do a special dance. Gilly Ervin vill sing a song about the debutantes, eight of whom will dance during the refrain, and Bob Drayton has promled to get the Orpheus quartet to sing. And, now, think of the cast! Helen Eills will be Adrienne, the actress. and Alberta Brinton, Madeline, a fower girl; Phil Castner, Gino, a peasant, and Joe Deering a baron, while

Monty Lycett a count. Dr. Daniel Hoyt will appear as the God of Chance, Dorothy Norris as Fortune, Leonard Lippman as a Croupler, and Trouble will be represented by George Steel.

Alfred Ward will be a marquis and

An interesting group in the chorus will be the Blues and the Rages, which will be made up entirely of debutantes, and the Roulette group has also been chosen from the deb set.

The fashion show, which is the new feature, will last exactly 20 minutes, and there will be 22 costumes shown by as many mannequins. The frocks have been made especially for the occasion by the various modistes, and all kinds will be shown. Among the exhibitors will be Altemus, Meeley, Rienzi, Harres, Sterling, Darlington, Hagedorn, Degerberg, Bonwit & Tel-Snellenburg, Strawbridge & Clothler, Miss Dougherty, Adler, Gimbels, the Gown Shop and Yovin, of New

Tickets are being sold for the affair at Ryan's, through the courtesy of Mr. Ryan, without any charge for services.

The opera last night was played to a very brilliant house, though I do think people are rather tired of "The Magic Plate." There is so much monkey business in it, though one or two arias are very fine, and it was certainly given by splendid artists and the scenic effacts were well carried out.

Quite a stir was caused in the audience on the arrival of the Hawailan delegates of the Pan-American Con-

Many welcomed Mrs. Stotesbury back again; she has not attended several operas recently and I quite missed her little receptions on the grand tier. Last night there were only two acts and as the first one was rather short only a few people felt inclined to leave the boxes and promenade. It is a pity they did not, however, for the joy of seeing one gown, which was a marvel. It was of black tulle and the fair owner and donned red slippers, but let me tell Su the red slippers had nothing on the rain, which was fashioned of red brocaded velvet edged with lightish brown feather trimming, and was attached to the shoulders and dragged on the floor after the wearer. It was some gown, and even the grand tier proved of no interest whatever to the spectators as ong as the lady in black and red, chinging to the arm of her suitor, walked up and down the promenade.

I often wonder if anything new aid be thought of for the numerous balls and parties given almost every minute, and it did not seem to me possible that anything outside of coffee, all kinds of breakfast foods, meats, sausage and buckwheat cakes could be served with breakfast. Howfer, at the Taylors' last week at the Rits. I hear every place was arranged with a glass of milk and two morning us, so all the small people could read about themselves in the news. By the way, I was at the Arcadia movies before the Taylor ball, and it was too funny to see about 10 of the fulinger girls and men rush in for the econd performance all dolled up for ha ball, the former with their lovely elvet wraps and feathery fans, and as
