The big British gun was booming at two-minute intervals. French guns, set on nearby hillsides, were sending occasional shots and once, while we talked, a Bulgarian shell broke on the road a quarter of a mile below us and we saw soldiers running from the cloud of earth. It was a battlefield, in every sense of the word, a battlefield which, within 24 hours was to be the scene of an allied retreat. Incidentally, I wonder what became of the little Frenchman.

"Civilian clothes seem extraordinary," he said. "Have some chocolate?"

He pulled an envelope from his pocket with a postage stamp and address on it.

"This is something I got in the mail from Paris today." I took a small piece of his precious chocolate. "Have you heard that we're going to move from here?" he said. "The rumor is going around our camp. They say we

I MONTENEGRINI VERSO PENNYPACKER SAYS CANADA MAY JOIN U.S. IL CONFINE ALBANESE

Ex-Governor Asserts Dominion Would Be Annexed if Germany Should Win War

An opinion that Canada would be annexed to the United States in the event that Germany should win the war has been expressed by former Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, and now a member of the Public Sorvice Commission, in an open letter issued in support of his frank pro-German sympathies. The annexation of Canada, the Governor believes, would be desirable.

The letter in part follows:

The letter in part follows: The letter in part follows:

"It is conceded, even by her (Germany's) foes, that her people are among the most efficient, energetic and cultivated of all those upon the earth. She has shown her capacity in the events of this war as she did before in literature, science and commerce. Is it not better, then, for mankind, that she should be preserved, that her methods which have proven to be useful be extended, and that her influence be expanded?

"In no crisis in the past have American affairs been conducted with so little good judgment. We have indicated a lack of ability to measure the trend of events and to appreciate our own interest which may be said to approach fatuity. "In this war, by maintaining a real neutrality and indicating a proper sympathy with a sturdy and capable people, strusgling for existence against seemingly overwhelming numbers of British. French. Serbians. Belgians. Italians. Russians, Algerians, Japanese and Hindoos. we might have made a friend among the nations. It would seem that the very meanness of giving support to such a combination would have been resented by American manhood.

"Instead, it may as well be recognized "In this war, by maintaining a real neu-

"Instead, it may as well be recognized that we have so managed as to retain the old rivalries of Great Britain, and to make another enemy of Germany. Professing to fear the German spirit, we have done all that it has been possible to do to bring her wrath upon our heads. We have been boistcrous in our condemnation of Germany. We have hidden out of sight and condoned the far more grievous offenses of Great Britain. In all our history, Germany never has crossed our path. We never have made a step forward that the British have not endeavored to thwart."
