NANCY WYNNE IS INTERESTED IN SUPPER-DANCE AT THE RITZ

The James Francis Sullivans Will Give a Dance and Supper for Miss Sarah H. B. Penrose and Miss Elizabeth Downs Tonight After Opera

A be "La Boheme," with Caruso and Scottl, by the way, and so we are expecting a treat, the James Francis ullivans will entertain at a supper and dance at the Ritz-Carlton for Sarah Penrose and Bessie Downs. Both these girls seem to be having a very good time; they have each had large balls given for them at the Bellevue by their respective progenitors, and there have been innumerable theatre parties, Juncheons, dinners, dansants and all kinds of fests for them. There will be principally members of the deb set tonight, though quite a few of the younger married people will be there,

As the days go on the members of the Junior League are all becoming more and more interested in the entertainment which they will give on February 2, in the ballroom of the Belleyue-Stratford. I understand the scene of the play, which is, by the way, a pantomine, is laid in Florence, and the costumes are all to be of the 14th century. Brilliant peacock blue, old rose, emerald green, vivid orange and deep purple will be blended harmoniously in the gowns which will be worn by very up-to-date girls.

There will be two ballets running through the play, for there is a plot to It all. One is a gorgeous yellow ballet. which is to come in the first act, to divert the Florentine Ladies and Lords seated in a garden, and the second, a peasant ballet, will take place in the third act in a street scene. The unique feature in the performance is that all ing. those who are taking part are girls, and the men in the yellow ballet will be impersonated by Cornella Leidy, Gay Tilghman, Jean Thompson, Elizabeth Henry and Gertrude Henry, Then the Lords in the play will be Adeline Pepper, Lalite Willcox, Mary Mitchell, Susle Ingersoll and Elise Hopkins.

It appears the second act is a very spooky one, a silhouette scene, with lights behind a white curtain, and the actors will be in front of it. There are to be blood-curdling acts, which will take place in a dark forest. Doesn't it sound exciting? The name of the whole thing is "A Ballet of Orlando." Among the girls a ho will take part are Anna Lewis, Helen Tower, Virginia Roberts, Gertrude Tower, Sibyl Wright, Eugenia Cassatt, "liza Fox. Margaret Dunlap, Eugenia Law, Kate son, Margaretta Benson, Cecile Howell, Agnes Kennedy and Louisa D. Davis. Georgianna Brown, who is teaching the ballet, will do a "pas seul" as one of the features in the show, and those of us who have seen Georgianna know that we have a treat in store.
