NANCY WYNNE ANTICIPATES A WONDERFUL BALL TONIGHT

The Midwinter Ball Will Be Held Tonight at Horti-cultural Hall—Affair Is Given by Men Prominent in Social Circles—Many Dinners Precede

THE midwinter ball, which is one of the granddaughter. Miss Lucille Anna del Merlin Lusson, debutante daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis O. Lusson. A dinner and dance will follow the ten for the receiving party. cultural Hall. The ball will be given under the auspices of the following committee: Mr. Lynford Biddle, Mr. W. Lyman Biddle, Mr. Gouverneur Cadwalader, Mr. Wilson Catherwood, Mr. Henry Brinton Coxe, Mr. T. De Witt curler, Mr. R. Wister Harvey, Mr. Charles E. Ingersoll, Mr. Sidney W. Kelth, Dr. Robert G. Le Conte, Mr. Henry Pratt McKean, Mr. William R. Mercer, Jr., Mr. J. Kearsley Mitchell, 3d, Mr. A. J. Drexel Paul, Mr. Edgar geott, Mr. Alexander Van Rensselaer and Mr. Edward Lowber Welsh.

The patronesses who will receive are Mrs. Charles Edward Ingersoll, Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, Mrs. Robert Learning Montgomery, Mrs. J. Kenrsley Mitchell and Mrs. Edward Lowber

A number of dinners will be given before the ball. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Browning will give one at the Bellevue-Stratford, and the George Dallas Dixens will entertain at their home. Miss Hannah Fox will give a dinner for Miss Mary Wurts, and Dr. and Mrs. Wil-Hams Biddle Cadwalader will entertain for Miss Hannah Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farnum will be hosts at a dinper and the Charlemagne Towers will entertain for Major General and Mrs. George Barnett, of Washington. Mrs. Charles H. Howell will also give a din-

We are looking forward with pleasure to the musical comedy which a number of the younger girls will appear in tonight at the Bellevue-Stratford for the benefit of St. Francis' Home for Convalescents in Lansdowne. The words and plot and music have been written for the affair by William Mason Wright, Jr., of Musk and Wig fame, whose excellent work is already known.

A feature of the entertainment will be a specialty dunce by Miss Rosalie Hohan and William Mason Wright, Jr. Another will be a song and dance specialty, "Sooner or Later." in which Miss Gertrude Miller, Miss Elizabeth Walsh, Miss Beatrice Harrity, Miss Resalie Heban, Mr. Richard Walsh, Mr. Robert Care, Mr. Francis Walsh and Mr. Philip Wright will take part.

The chorus groups will have more than 125 young people alone. One group designated as models includes Miss Gertrude Bachler, Miss Virginia McGrath, Miss Grace Walton, Miss Agnes Harrity, Miss Eleanor Hoban, though; anyhow, the wild rebellion has for the time being been squelched, and perhaps we never will know all about it.

brought out a pocket edition comb from her vanity bag and ran it through her carefully waved locks at a supper party lately? The use of powder puff and lip stick in public is no longer a thing to gasp at, so constantly and frankly does my fair lady use them, but is it possible that a comb is also permissible and quite comme il faut! A 1916 model Lorelei, what?

While in New York this week I was impressed by the new obsession which has taken hold of all smart New Yorkers, that of the skating fad. We in this stald town have seen exhibited many ravishing skating costumes, and some few of us have bought them for use on the small ponds which dot the countryside around Philadelphia; but most of us, I fear, have been content to don our plaid or striped skirt and our last summer's sweater or sports coat and sally forth to enjoy the brisk skimming over the ice. But not so in New York! There, indeed, has the sport become a ceremonial without which no one's calendar is complete, and to facilitate matters a rink was placed on the Biltmore roof; so that one need not journey over to Tuxedo for real open-air sport. The rink is surrounded by a glass enclosed tenhouse, and here one may enjoy a real the dansant, or I suppose one should say the glacee. They even tell me that at the evening skating parties one is supposed to appear in evening dress! Dorothy Norris, who is something of a cosmopolite, is one of the few Philadelphia girls who go over to New York for these parties, although nearly all of the New York debutantes have become proficient dancers on the ice. The benefit matines which was given on Tuesday at the Century Theatre, on West 424 street, drew many matrons from this city. Mrs. Bob Strawbridge was one of the patronesses, and, of course, Mrs. Astor, although she has not lived here for many years, probably interested many of our own set in the tharity. I saw the Countess von Holn-Hein lunching at the Ritz-Carlton before the affair.

Mrs. Tony Biddle is spending a short time with her young daughter, Cordella Duke, who while on the avenue one day this week looked charmingly Youthful. Indeed, both mother and daughter, or should I say grandmother and mother, look entirely too young to have the responsibility of the little Duke heir on their hands. When I saw them their limousine was standing outtele Best's, where I suspect they had tesn to add to Angier, Jr.'s extensive NANCY WYNNE.

I wonder what made them change their minds? Just think, if they had not we would all have been treated to a great sensation! As it is now we will never know just why they decided to use their better judgment and wait till Papa gave his consent; for let me whisper it carefully, not two weeks ago a certain young deb and an ardent young suitor had positively decided to run off to Elkton and then resurn for Papa's blessing.
