PHILS TREATED WELL BY MAKERS OF 1916 SCHEDULE

Moran's Men to Open Season at Home With New York April 12

PLAY AT BOSTON JULY 4

In the making up of the season's sched ule for the National League pennant race of 1916, the champion Phillies were libof 1916, the champion Phillies were liberally treated in awarding the rich plums. The season will open on Wednesday, April 12, and the Phillies will open the race at home with the New York Giants as their opponents. The Phillies and the Glants are close rivals, and the fact that McGraw has built up his team with the signing of several former Federal League stars adds more than usual interest to the series. The Glants will be here for four straight games.

The Phillies will also entertain the Giants at home on Memorial Day, May 29, and they will have Brooklyn here on Labor Day, September 4. Pat Moran's men have 12 Saturdays and two holidays at home and 13 Saturdays and five Sunday dates abroad. On July 4 the Phillies will clash with the Boston Braves at Bester The other committed day are 1970. Boston. The other opening dates are Bos-ton at Brooklyn, Chicago at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

No changes can be made in this schedule that will conflict with the American League schedule, copy of which has been handed to the Schedule Committee by Ban Johnson, president of the American League. Double-headers must not be created on conflicting dates gave by American ated on conflicting dates save by American League consent, to be secured through President Johnson, except on the last trip if absolutely necessary.

BOY ROBS ROBBERS, COPS. CITY HALL AND SHORE JAIL

Philadelphian Leads Atlantic City Officials a Merry Chase

ATLANTIC CITY, Feb. 3. — John Dorando, 13 years old, of 1103 Annin street, Philadelphia, is the nerviest prisoner who has ever been taken into custody here, according to Detective Captain Whaten. His latest offense is robbing prisoners in the city jall.

Dorando, confined to the shore jail until he can appear at Mays Landing, became a favorite with the turnkeys. He was allowed the freedom of the corridors. At once things began to disappear and finally the complaints reached Captain Whalen. It was necessary to assign a detective to the case and he had himself locked up. The boy was trapped while robbing the sleuth. Now he's back in a cell again. a cell again.

Young Dorando had the shore police mystified for 10 days by his depredations. He selected avenue shops within a stone's throw of police headquarters, finally locting the City Hall barber shop, just back of the city jall, three times in five days. The chief patrons of this shop are cops.

MANY MOURN VICTIM OF SHORE HOTEL FIRE

Last Tribute Paid to Mrs. Garsed by Her Atlantic City Friends

ATLANTIC CITY, 101 S.—In St. Nicholas Church, where she had attended service for many years, relatives and friends this morning paid their last tribute to Mrs. Josephine Garsed, of Mount Airy, one of the six victims of the Over-brook fire horror.

Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Francis J. McShane, who spoke only in passing of the manner of her death, while he extolled the exceptional qualities of the dead woman. Mrs. Garsed had spent the greater part of her time here for some years, and many persons she had met in the hotel colony were among those who mourned. The body was sent to Philadelphia for interment. to Philadelphia for interment.

The funerals of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Mott, who also met death in the biaz-ing hotel, are being held in Philadelphia afternoon, with services in the Friends' Arch Street Meeting House, Coroner Bew expects to start tomorrow the slow-moving inquiry into the Overbrook disaster.

AGED BURLINGTON RESIDENT GROUND TO DEATH BY TRAIN

Nonagenarian Victim of Grade Crossing Accident

BURLINGTON, N. J., Feb. 9.—James Wilson, 97 years old, this city's oldest resident, was ground to death late yesterday afternoon by the "Nellie Bly" express from Atlantic City, on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The accident occurred at the west end of the station, and was viewed by several norrified spectators, who saw the old man's danger too late to save him.

The express was inte and was approach.

The express was late and was approaching the station at unusual speed when the aged pedestrian started across Broad atreet toward the station. He evidently misjudged the speed of the train, and was just stepping off the rails when the pllot struck him and threw him between the train and the station platform. His legs were severed, his head crushed and his body rolled under three coaches before the train was stopped,

CARS DERAILED ON READING

Fireman Seriously Injured and Traffic Interrupted

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 8.—A car of the fast freight train of the Philadel-phia and Reading Railway running be-tween Philadelphia and Newberry Junc-tion was devailed by a frog at the East Mahanoy Junction at 2:20 this morning. Heren cars of a southbound train also left the tracks, blocking them and inter-rupting traffic for four hours.

Fireman Frank Neifert, of Tamaqua, of the southbound train, jumped and he sustained a compound fracture of the right ieg, lacerations of the scalp and a fracture of his skull. He is in the Pountain Sprince Hospital.

The Reform Movement in Atlantic City

Reform! Uplift! Atlantic City is in the throes of the Stough revival campaign, and her residents are divided among themselves. There are those who believe that the clamping down of "the lid" has injured the Boardwalk City. Again, the followers of the revivalist see only good in the reform movement.

Tomorrow the Evening Ledger will publish the first of three articles on conditions in Atlantic City following the Stough campaign. It will deal with the opinions of those who do not see eye to eye with the reform party.

Friday's article will set forth the views of those who believe reform essentially good for the community.

And on Saturday there will be an account of Atlantic City's present prosperity—the greatest in its history—an outline of how recent reforms have benefited the resort and an indication of such other reforms as appear to be urgently required.
