Active trading in Fennsylvania Steel proferred came as a result of the bidding by beener and Schwab for the Pennsylvania and Reading holdings of this stock. While the president of the Cambria Steel Company and the head of the Bethiehem Steel Company and the head of the Bethiehem Steel Corporation presumably are not exaced in an open contest for control of Pennsylvania Steel, the Street understands that there is some competition between them for the shares held by the railroads. According to current reports Mr. Donner offered $40 and Mr. Schwab in pershare for the Fennsylvania Steel prefered stock, and each offered $40 per chare for the common. A difference in the two proposals is said to be that Mr. Denner offered cash in payment, while Mr. Schwab made a proposition of payment that would cover a term of years. In an official statement issued this morning and signed by Mesars. Donner, Stotesbury and Replogic, they say: "Referring to the notice issued by us on Monday." Mr. Donner offered $90 and Mr. Schwab Mr. Donner offered $100 and Mr. Schwab poper share for the Pennsylvania Steel petered stock, and each offered $40 per share for the common. A difference in the two proposals is said to be that Mr. Donner offered cash in payment, while Mr. Schwab made a proposition of payment that would cover a term of years. Some time ago Mr. Schwab offered $37 per share for the preferred stock on the same payment basis as his reported new offer, and it is understood to have been refused because the railroad interests wanted cash for their Pennsylvania Steel holdings. # FEDERAL RESERVE'S ANNUAL REPORT

Normal Volume of Business Is Now Being Transacted

The annual report of the Federal Resorve Board for the Philadelphia district, No. 3, was made public today by the chairman, R. L. Austin. During the year three new banks have been organized in the district.

"During the last year our member banks have been subject to the same discouraging influences that affected banking interests in all other parts of the country." says the report. For some time before the breaking out of the European war business in this district has been declining, and the effect of the war was to acelerate this movement, so that the bank commenced business at a time when the clume of business in the district was

"Industrial plants were being operated at less than 10 per cent of their capacity, the movement of freight by the railroads was smaller than it had been for years and the number of the unemployed was almost unprecedented. Confidence in the future on the part of business men was lacking. This general and widespread contraction in business caused a liquidation of loans, which, together with the funds released by the reduction in bank reserves, effected by the Federal reserve act, resulted in the greatest accumulation below normal. reserves, effected by the Federal reserve act, resulted in the greatest accumulation of idle money ever known in the banks of this district, so that on October 4, 1915, the member banks of the Philadelphia Clearing House Association alone had 355,401,000 of excess reserves.

"At this time, however, almost a normal volume of business is being transacted, the traiffic of the railroads is above normal, industrial plants are being operational.

acted, the traffic of the railroads is above normal, industrial plants are being operated at nearly full capacity and there is employment for all kinds of labor.
"During the period in which this bank has been in operation the average borrowing of national banks, through reducedunting or by direct loans from other banks, has been as follows:

approximately 2.35 per cent.

"At no time during the year has there been a necessity, so far as the needs of the business community were concerned, for this bank to make any loans. The amall borrowings of the member banks could easily have been effected with their correspondents in the reserve cities. This condition, however, is only tem-porary and due to extraordinary busines conditions. Upon the return of nor-mal conditions this bank will surely find its expected sphere of usefulness."

The sta ement of condition at the close of business December 31, 1915, shows resources of $21,094,883.63 and liabilities $33,915,357,87. Total current expenses sources of $21,034,883.55 and habitities $33,915,357.87. Total current expenses were $121,691.09; organization expenses, $31,700.74; costs of Federal Reserve notes, including expressage, insurance, etc., $55,772.04; equipment. $18,491.31; total expenditures, $227,655.18.
