Financing Must Be Done in Roundabout Manner, Says Reserve Board

CAN'T BUY BONDS DIRECT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.-The Federal serve Board today virtually threw open Referve Board today virtually threw open the vaults of the 12 Federal reserve banks of the United States to the financiers of the European war, giving permission for the use of the funds of these semi-governmental banking institutions in pur-chasing munificans of war for belligerent nations. The permission is given in the second annual report of the Federal Re-serve Board, made to the Speaker of the House of Representatives at noon today. House of Representatives at noon today. In view of the terms of the Federal reserve act, however, the board warns the banks that foreign financing must be performed in a round-about manner, the Federal reserve banks making no direct purchases of obligations of foreign Governments.

Governments. While not authorizing the Federal re-serve banks to buy directly the bonds of foreign governments, this appears to give them authority to lend money on bills, them authority to lend money on bills, hotes, drafts and similar commercial paper growing out of war-order transac-tions and other foreign financing. Labor interests in this country alleged to be pro-German last summer communicated to the board the threat that if the banks were permitted to engage in this sort of funancing stems not directly in the nothfinancing, steps not directly in the pathway of recognized legal procedure would be taken to preserve the neutrality of the

RECOMMENDS NEW LEGISLATION. The board's report contains a number of striking recommendations for legisla-tion, among them being amendments to balance and the second second

The issue of Federal reserve notes to Federal reserve banks, either against the deposit of an equal amount, face value, of notes, drafts, bills of exchange and bankers' acceptances or of gold, or of both, provided that gold deposited be con-sidered as part of the reserve required maintained by the bank drawing the votes: notes.

National banks and Federal reserve banks to extend the acceptance business, now based on exportations and importa-tions of goods, to domestic dealings, National banks to establish branches in their cities or countles. Federal reserve banks to make advances member banks against reliable col-Interal. National banks to lend on farmlands within 100 miles of their locations.

WOULD LEND ON REAL ESTATE. National banks to lend on real estate National banks to lend on real estate other than farmlands, provided the real central is improved and unemcumbered, that the loan therefor not to exceed one year nor for more than 50 per cent. of the value of the property, and that such loans shall not exceed 25 per cent. of the capital and surplus of the lending bank, mor one-third of its time deposits. one-third of its time deposits.

The board's report says that the great amount of confidence which the very existence of the Federal reserve system has inspired has been of inestimable value to the country, keeping money rates low and causing the free and easy movement of trade and commerce to endure in the face of extraordinary industrial and financial upheavals brought about by the European war. "Depression in business life has given away to extreme activity." says the board's report.

The establishment of local agencies rather than full-fledged branch Federal Reserve Banks, such as that at New Or-leans, is recommended by the board. It would not be wise at this time to establish many branches, as the expense could not easily be borne, it is said.

The board reports that Federal reserve notes increased $188,000,000 in circula-tion in 1915. The Federal reserve banks, it is stated, earned but $639,881 during It is stated, earned but $659,581 during 1915, but, the board says, their func-tion is not to make money, but merely to carry themselves along and hold themselves in readiness to influence the discount rate market when emergency arises demanding such action to forestall financial manic financial panie.

Man, Held Here, Breaks Loose From New Hampshire Sheriff PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 14.-Wil-liam J. Daley, just released from the Eastern (Fa.) Fenitentiary and for whom County Solicitor Hatch and Sheriff Spin-ney, of Rockinham County, recently went to Philadelphia, made a desperate and successful attempt to escape upon the arrival of the trio at the local depot last

TWISTS SHACKLE AND FLEES.

Daley, who was handcuffed to Sheriff. Spinney and who had been a remarkably well-behaved prisoner during the trip, made a sudden wrench immediately upon alighting from the train, succeeding in tearing the handcuffs from the sheriff's band and escaping. This is the second escape from the lo-cal authorities within a week.
