Grandniece of Horace Binney Entertains Number of Women at the Home of Mrs. Howard Lewis With Exquisite Dancing-Theatre Party for Miss Thayer

OST interesting was the morning | suest of Mrs. Starr's parents for several weeks. M affair which Mrs. Howard Lewis gave at her home, 1928 Spruce street, yesterday, and especially delightful was the dancing of various specialties was the dancing of various speciallies by Miss Constance Binney, a niece of Mrs. George A. Dunning, with whom she is stopping: and a grandniece of the late Horace Binney. Miss Binney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Binney, of New York; her mother was Miss Gertrude Miles. She danced with much grace and charm, and won great applause from an apprecialty audi-ence. Miss Binney tells me she has studied the classical toe dancing for several years. "I regard it as the fundamental and most important part in the art of dancing," she said. "When you have learned correct toe dancing, then it is possible to do any other kind: the esthetic is like child's play after the other has been learned." Miss Binney has studied under Veronine West, of the Pavlowa Ballet, and is now taking lessons from Cecchetti, of the present Ballet Russe, Miss Binney appears in various character dances dressed in appropriate costumes, and has in her repertoire an Hungarian, Spanish, Oriental, Greek and several Russian ballet dances. She tells me she has taken up the work as a profession, and intends to make a great thing of it. She now dances at the Vanderbilt, in New York, on two afternoons a week.

Molly Thayer will be given a theatre party and supper tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Hoxie Harrison Smith. Molly is the daughter of General and Mrs. Russell Thayer, of Chestnut Hill, and one of the very prettiest debutantes of the year. She has had a great many entertainments given in her honor, and is the proud possessor of no less than five brothers, who are all devoted to her. Just think of that for an asset with which to start going out. But then, indeed, she does not need any assets, she is so extremely, attractive. The debutante guests will be Eleanor Pepper, Margaretta Myers, Sarah Myers, Mariana Gowen, Mazie Graham, Sarah Neilson and Eleanor Cuyler, and there will be a number of the younger men.

An extremely interesting affair will be the banquet and reception which the Transatlantic Society will give tonight in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford in honor of the Marquis of Aberdeen and Temair, former Governor General of Canada and Viceroy of Ireland, and the Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair. A large number of prominent men and women are on the committee which has been appointed to greet the distinguished guests. Mr. Joseph R.
