CRE NANCY WYNNE SEES BUSY WEEK FOR MEMBERS OF SOCIETY

Masque of 1916 Tomorrow Night, Also Large Annual Military Ball, Will Keep Us Dancing Gaily on Till Lent Begins

A THE time approaches for the ces- Saturday for Lord and Lady Aberdeen. Covers were laid for 14 guests. A sation of larke electroning grayer released weeks are becoming grayer and payer, so that we will be quite and gayer, so that we will be quite and gayer, so that we will be quite and stress of the most prolonged and strenuous of the most prolonged and strenuous of the most prolonged and strenuous of winters. There have been so many dinters and so many entertainments and so many entertainments for them all and so many charity party.

Miss Grace Buttles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Battles, of Newtown Sauare, whose will take place on Wednesiasy at the Church of the Holy Trimity, has been spending a week at Lakewood, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Battles will give a large dimerrow evening in honor of the wedding party. relenten weeks are becoming mayor pings and the usual number of big bearings and not be carried away Miss Carolyn Sheppard.

The last debutante to be introduced as Lucile Lusson, whose grandmother and parents gave a dansant on Saturary afternoon at the Bellevue-Stration Lucile is very charming, of a dededy French type: In fact, the particular of the family is entirely preach I understand, and her mother as girlish and young as Lucile herby pleasure. gas girlish and young as Lucile hergas girlish and exceedingly pretty. There was exhibition dancing at the Supper Club by professionals, who have just come from San Francisco. They had danced in Frankfurt and Dresden also before the war started and made it necessary for them to come to Amerka. They danced wonderfully well.

The Meirses had a large supper party of 39 guests, and Mr. and Mrs. James Potter also entertained, as did the Evans Roberts and Mrs. Ned Crozer. Sam Chew had a number of guests, so did the John Sinnotts, Charlie Potters, Rittenhouse Millers, Sam Huhns, Wilhim Coleman Freemans and Ridgway Reilly st.

Every day I am more surprised to hear some of the things the wee bird tells me, and, strange to say, I can't get used to the fact that people who are to all appearance well-bred can be sa rude and inconsiderate as they are, Only last week I attended a concert at which there were very many people, some of them among the smartest in town; and to my utter amazement I heard a woman, who made no effort to whisper her remarks, but talked so loud It was impossible not to overhear her, discussing the people in the boxes and adjacent seats and sparing no one in her sharp sallies.

. The concert was for a charity and I cannot tell you how the object was ridiculed nor the amount of ignorance on the matter displayed by this lady (so called), and as for the unkind, critkal remarks! It seems such a little thing to remember one should be a lady, but I am afraid "ladles" are rather back numbers these days.
