NANCY WYNNE TALKS ABOUT DEBUTANTE DANCE TONIGHT

Mr. S. Davis Page Will Give a Dance Tonight at the Ritz-Carlton for His Two Granddaughters, Debutantes of This and Last Season

ONE of the prettiest affairs of the year will be the dance which Mr. S. Davis Page will give for Edith Page and Isabel Page, his two granddaughters, tonight at the Ritz-Carlton. Isabel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Byrd Page, and made her debut last year at a tea given by her grandfather and aunt, Mrs. James Large, who is one of the most charming matrons of this city. Edith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wurts Page, and made her debut this year. Both girls are specially charming, with a slightly old-fashioned air, which they seem to have inherited from their aunt.

The Pages are of the old Virginia family of that name, and are related to almost every one in that State, for year after year Mr. Page and his daughter have introduced a young niece or cousin into society, and each one has been more attractive, it seems. There will be several dinners before tonight's affair. Mr. and Mrs. James Fahnestock will give a dinner for Elizabeth Adams, and Mrs. Brodhead will entertain for Frances, when the guests will be Sarah Penrose, Olivia Gazzam, Corinne Freeman, Josephine Foster, Molly Cerboni, Denise Mercur, Mildred Willard, Carolyn and Mildred Sheppard, Howard Graham, Jr., Jack Thayer, Russell Thayer, Jr., Fred Brewster, 3d, Harrison Caner, Jr., Tristram Colket, Jr., George Brooke, 3d, Charles Davis and Andy Van Pelt. This dinner will take place at the Bellevue-Stratford.

The Felix du Ponts, Lydia Chichester and Philip Laird will come up from Wilmington for the ball. Miss Chichester and Mr. Laird have just recently announced their engagement.

What funny coincidences take place now and again. I was at a performance at Keith's this week, and they have a funny stunt on, in which one of the men takes a seat in the audience and talks to another on the stage. Well, the fun was going on fast and furious, and the small talk and repartee was waxing gayer and gayer, when he in the audience announced. "Well, I see they're coming in on you." There was a ripple of laughter, and, of course, we all expected that some other members of the cast were about to appear, but on turning to look espied no persons less than the John K. Mitchell, 3ds, and the George McFaddens, who had happened to enter at that moment, and were taking their seats in the audience.

It is a pity to cry down one's own countrymen, but every day I am more and more impressed with the rudeness of the American public. While that distinguished old gentleman, M. Cheddo Miyatovich, was addressing his audience yesterday, after a speech made by Mrs. Pankhurst, I counted no less than 75 women who arose from the audience and left the place. It is barely possible that some of them were obliged to leave to catch trains, but surely not so many. It was a little difficult to hear M. Miyatovich, and his English was, of course, labored, but he was very interesting; and in any case that was not the question. People seem to do just as they feel in these days, without regard to politeness or other persons' feelings.

NANCY WYNNE.
