WHEAT PRICES FELL MORE THAN 4 CENTS

Stop-Loss Orders Uncovered All the Way Down-Support Was Limited

chicago. Feb. 28.—Another smash was delivered at the wheat market today and prices suffered severe losses. It was brought about by the placing of an unfectable construction on the political situation which caused longs to throw their boldings over.

heldings over.

The drive followed a rally after heavy selling had weakened the market early in the session. This recovery was effected by good buying on a scale down, which absorbed the offerings. Later, however, the liquidation was renewed and prices broke into new low ground for the move-This drop was in the face of som crop complaints from western listill indignant today over his enforced vaccination yesterday. At first he refused to allow the doctors to vaccinate him, and a policeman was placed in front of his house and a strict quarantine established. At 5 o'clock he announced that they could vaccinate him, his wife and on, if they desired. He explained that 13 years ago he was vaccinated and he was ill for several weeks as a result.

VICTIM A NEGRESS.

The smallpox patient discovered in South Philadelphia was Mrs. Mary Mills, a 30-year-old negress, who was employed as a domestic at the boarding house of Mrs. George S. Baker, 35th street near Powelton avenue, according to Dr. A. Cairns, chief medical inspector of the Bureau of Heatin and Charities. The woman lived at 2222 Kimball street with her sister, "Pinkey" Mills, 21 years old; her daughter Roberts, 13 years old, and Thaddeus Betchau, a boarder. The last three deus Betchau, a boarder. The last three named have been taken to the hospital for bservation, and a similar precaution has seen taken with Martha Reed, mother of Walter Reed, who was stricken by the disease at $127 Ludlow street. Mrs. Reed is said to have been employed as a domes-tic at the home of a South 43d street physician

It is believed that Mrs. Mills brought the disease to this city from Virginia and that Reed contracted it in calling at her The latter first became ill on Feb. ruary 18, and since that time has min-gled freely in crowds, going to motion picture shows and traveling in crowded elevated trains and trolley cars. Mrs. Mills and other occupants of her home have also mingled freely with persons in the neighborhood.

Temporary quarantines were established by the police in several houses because the residents refused to be vaccinated. Five persons were thus interned in a house on Market street near 40th for several hours yesterday before they submitted to the operation and similar steps were found necessary at the home of Joseph Mousely, 1409 South Bouvier street, and in three houses in today's affected area. Two of these are between 22d and 23d streets on Carpenter and the third on 22d near Car enter street.

Dr. A. A. Cairns ordered the quaranting today as soon as the case was reported. Fifty-one physicians, carrying needles and other necessary instruments, were sent to the district.

They visited each house within the zone defined by Doctor Cairns, accompanied by 52 policemen. Commanded by Lieutenant Bennett and Sergeant Dever, the patrolmen exercised every precaution to prevent the escape of persons who wished to evade vaccination.

The quarantined district included Kimhall street, where the smallpox was dis-covered, and League street, another small highway. Two sisters living at 2239 Kimball street refused to be vaccinated. They were acting within their legal rights. but the physicians also exercised their prerogative by quarantining the residence A policeman is guarding the doorway and another is watching the alley entrance to prevent the exit of either of the women

The district in West Philadelphia sub jected to quarantine is bounded by Mar-ket, Chestnut, 40th and 42d streets and includes Ludlow street, where Reed

Joseph Shay, a sergeant in the Detec-tive Bureau, was one of the 400 forced from their beds and obliged to submit to vaccination. Shay lives at 2210 Carpenter When the ban was lifted, he was permitted to go to his post in City Hall. Shay is in charge of the "Complaint Division" of the Detective Bureau. COTTON PRICES IRREGULAR:

Liverpool Market Better Than Expected-Temperatures Lower

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.-Conditions were again mixed at the opening on the Cotton Exchange this morning and, although the early tone was steady with prices 1 point lower to 3 points higher, a reaction took place soon after the call. March opened at an advance of 7 points, but on the next salled dropped 8.

Liverpool was a good buyer, but the demand was supplied from virtually all quarters. Some spot interests purchased small amounts, while others were sellers. The feature of the market, however, was the supply coming from one source, be-lieved to be liquidation by prominent Wall street houses. The market subsequently stiffened up to about Saturday's closing figures. There seemed to be a little demand from trade sources as well as covering of shorts. But New Orleans was slow to follow the local rally, leading to apprehensions that the market there was still under some pressure from the interior, and local prices turned easier again, with May selling off to 11.25, July to 11.44 and October to 11.63, or about 8 to 7 points net lower. The main factor was the failure of New Orleans to develop a better tone and continued fear of scattering spot liquidation. The market subsequently stiffened up liquidation. The break carried March contracts to 11.25c., while the later deliveries made new low ground for the movement. It seemed, however, that very few stop orders were uncovered and prices steadied later. New Orleans buying orders here helped the rally which carried the active months about 5 to 5 points net higher in the afternoon. There were also some private reports of a better spot demand. Temperatures were lower in the cotton belt this morning and conditions were mixed, with cloudy weather predominat-

ARCANUM COUNCILS GREET SUPREME REGENT

National and State Leaders Attend Local Council and Discuss Many Fraternal Issues

The council chamber of Pennsylvania Council, No. 342, was well filled Friday evening with members and visitors, gathered to honor Supreme Regent Samuel N. Hoag, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Grand Regent of Pennsylvania L. R. Geisenberger. It is not often that a council is hon-ored by the attendance at the same session of both the State and national leaders, and the desire to meet these distinguished members of the fraternity was sufficient to attract representatives from practically all of the local councils. The feature of the evening was a stirring address by Su-preme Regent Hoag, reviewing the work and progress of the order of the Royal Arcanum and explaining its beneficent features and admirable fraternal principles.

At the conclusion of his address on behalf of the Supreme Council he presented Supreme Representative Alexander F. Nicholas and Past Regents Joseph Whitaker and Charles Trout with past regent's level in recognition of exceptional services rendered in the securing of a large number of petitioners for their council during the last year.

A 'smoker' on Tuesday evening marked the Washinston's Birthday meeting of Phila-leinhia Council, No. 283, held in the Parkway Building. Over 160 members and visitors attended and were the recipients of souvening in the form of pipes and tobacco pouches. Resent Culbert presided, with a full staff of officers. The newly elected warden, Harry Shaftstall, was duly installed by Deputy Grand Regent J. Dallas Smith. A suchra followed the regular business meeting. The first meeting in March well be a lecture night, the second meeting will be a staged for a 'Ladies' Night' and eocial evenings of varying character will follow each other for the balance of the swason.

Haverford Council, at its last meeting, held in Hittenhouse Hail, 53d street and Haverford avenue, after a brief business session opened its doors and admitted the ladles for an evening of social enjoyment. A varied entertainment with dancing and refreshments, constituted an enloyable program for the large gathering of members and their friends. Past Resent Enton in a brief address suggested the advisability of a ladles' auxiliary association and the formation of a ladles' bowling team. Both suggestions met with favor and 21 women at once signified their willingness to become identified with the proposed movements and to assist in advancing the council's social features.

An Irish Smoker was announced for the meeting of March 17, in Rittenhouse Hail. The ladles will have charge of the program, the nature of which will not be divulged until the night of the meeting.

The visitation of a delegation of members of Dupont Council, of this city, to Chester Council last week proved an exceedingly enjoyable and profitable fraternal happening. The visitors, who included several of the district deputies, were cordially received and hospitably entertained.

The entertainment, luncheon and season of social pleasures were interspersed with spirited addresses breathing a sense of good fellowship and fraternil endeavor.

Regent Harry F. Hake was particularly relicitous in his remarks and evoked considerable applause. Maurice Allann commented upon the general effort shown by all councils to secure the highest class of members, seeking audity rather than mere numerical strength, while District Deputy C. G. Frowert, in a characteristic speech, commanded interessed attention in presenting to those present the ovidences of the value of visitations of this character in strengthening and developing the organization.

The inclement weather of Thursday evening

The inclement weather of Thursday evening ild not dampen the ardor or materially lessen the attendance at the session of Guarantes Souncil, which was honored by a formal visit of the Ladles' Austilary Association. The president, Mrs. Roedel, in a pleasing address applie of the beneficial work of the association in adding to the social features of the association in adding to the social features of the arrivans councils, and thus indirectly stimularing their varied activities. District Deputy J. Dallas Smith and Supreme Representative Newton E. Roedel were interested visitors. A progressive cycline followed the formal exercises of the evening.

Local Reviews Admit Many Members and Seek to Aid Work of Uniform Rank

Quaker City Review, Park Avenue Hall, 1315 Columbia avenue, received one application and admitted one applicant under the first degree. A standing in-vestigating Committee was appointed as follows: West Philadelphia — Sisters Hunt, Cooke and Wright. Central—Sis-ters Crouch, Morrissey and McClinchey. The following ladies were appointed to re vise the bylaws of the Review: Mrs. Ruby Taylor, Mrs. Fanny B. Hambleton and Miss Minnie Godshall. Miss Godshall was appointed to act as treasurer for the Banquet Fund. Visitors present were Mrs. A. D. Kennedy, commander of Girard Re-ylew, and Mrs. S. B. Howard, district view, and Mrs. S. B. Howard. district deputy of New Jersey.

Four new members were admitted to the uniform rank as substitutes at the last meeting, and the resignation of Second Sergeant Lassh was accepted with regrets. Secretary lickler will have a "box social" at her home in the near future for the benefit of the rank for the Port Huron fund. A present of 35 was received from Mrs. Annie Haney, commander of Philadelphia Review, to start the fund, for which a vote of thanks was tendered.

The donation party for the uniform rank which Quarternmeter Mrs. Mactoris Harney held at her residence. 804 Windsor square, Tuesday evening was most enloyable and added over $2.7 to the Port Furon fund. A supper ended the pleasures of the evening.

Keystone Review, Rittentouse Hall, 53d street and Haverford avenue, received eight applications for membership at its last meeting, and conferred the first degree upon three candidates. Police Court Chronicles Men who are fond of rum care very little for anything sweet, it is said. A slight proof of this was shown in the experience of Nelson Ohsen. He groped his way into the bakery of Leon Newvitch, on East Ontario street, and ordered a plate of lemon merringue ice cream.

Consulting his menu, the baker learned that this was classified in the pie class.

"You mean pie," said the baker good naturedly.

" replied Ohsen. Which meant that he didn't mean ple at

The baker paused, somewhat bewildered.

"Ah," he said finally, "you want pineapple ice cream."

customer more emphatically than ever,
"Now I got it," exclaimed Newvitch;
"you want lemon meringue pie on top of ice cream." "What, pie on top of ice cream?" Ohsen managed to gurgle this out with difficulty. And he threw a glass on the floor to show his disgust. The sound of the crash

He picked up a heavy toe cream can, fully four feet high, and tossed it through the bulk window of the bakery. The baker yelled "Police" and a cop hastened to the scene. The policeman arhastened to the scene. The policeman arrived when Ohsen was wrestling with a showcase. He managed to save it and pulled the customer to the street.

Ohsen suddenly started to yell in fear.
He polyred to the sky.

The control to the sky.

"Look, it's a Zeppelin," he shouted, "and it's coming this way!"

The cop looked, but he kept tight hold on Ohsen's collar at the same time. The Zeppelin proved to be nothing more than a big advertising sign on 'he roof of a nearby building. arby building. When the prisoner faced Magistrate

The General Committee of Arrange ments for the annual session of the Grand Castle and the incidental demonstration, to be held in Reading in May, is hard at work perfecting details for this annual festal Eagle happening. This committee is composed of delegates from each of the 25 castles in Berks County and the five emples of Reading.

temples of Reading.

From present indications, the demonstration will be the largest ever held in the history of the order. There will be more music in line than ever before. The General Committee aloue has engaged four bands and from reports received by them from other castles and commanderies outside of the county, there will be a larger number of castles, commanderies and state grand castle.

One of the overits scheduled for the west is a military ball on the evening of May 9 for all members of the order and their ladies. Past Chief Lawis C. Weber is chairman of the General Committee, and Past Chief George S. Peiffer, secretary.

Reading Castle, No. 48, of Reading held a smoker and presentation of a new American flag Friday evening. An interesting and patriolic program was repleted and each member present received a handsome souverir of the occasion. Pennsylvania Commandery attended in full uniform and gave an exhibition of sword dill. Trominent members of the order made addresses and a large turnout of sir knights was in attendance.

At the last session of St. Paul's Castle, No. 27, held February 21, four candidates were admitted and initiated into the mysteries of the order. This castle is working hard to admit 40 members before the 1st of April.

The Beard of Officers of the Grand Castle sited Rethlehom Wednesday and transacted much business relating to the order. During he afternoon they met an unusually large quality of active workers at both Lebigh and Northampton Counties. In the evening they sitemed the 36th anniversary of Hellertown Lastle, No. 112, at Hellertown.

District Grand Chief Reah S. Dougherty, having in charge the castles of Delaware County, is arranging for a special session of the Grand Chaite to be held at the hall of Upland Chaite, No. 186, at an early date, and which will be attended by all the Grand and Supreme Castle officers and all the castles in the county. Brother Dougherty has made an exceptionally active worker as district grand chief, and as a result the castles in the county are in a spiendid condition.
