p are the Walter Foulkes. we were all terribly shocked yesterby to hear of poor pretty little Cathenice Castard's dreadful accident; and the worst part of it is that she is suftring so, in spite of all that can be done ter her comfort. I do not think enough an be mid for young Albert Kennedy's presence of mind and bravery in putting set the flames when he finally got to ber it must have taken some strength to tear down the hangings. What an inful experience for all the members s that gay little party who were preand an evening of fun at the hal Masque. I understand from the family that, though she is very badly burned, they do not anticipate any lasthe scars, and the doctor gives every hope of a recovery. The shock to the hart in such a fright is always a terthe thing, putting aside the suffering. ne we cannot help but be anxious about br, but we are glad we can safely hoe for the best.

The mammas of young Philadelphia re greatly concerned over the naughty havior of some of the chaperons at the various dances and subscription affairs, for it appears there are still nammas in the gay world who think haperons are necessary personages at these dances, and who allow their mong daughters to subscribe, underfunding they will be well chaperoned.

The trouble seems to be that the my young things insist on dancing most of the night, and the muchused and abused chaperon gets tired eason. eut. Whether it is due to concerted scion on the part of the said ladies er whether each one has just naturally thought some one else was going to stay is hard to say; be that as it may, a la George Monroe, the fact remains hat at numerous dances lately the daperons have departed before the and the gay young things have had to end of fun, and it has just mached the mammas' ears, and they are exceedingly shocked. It remains to be seen if the daughters will be al- sheil. bwed to subscribe to all the classes as
