NANCY WYNNE IS MUCH INTERESTED IN THE COMING SUFFRAGE DINNER

Miss Constance Binney, of New York, Will Appear in Specialty Dances at Affair to Be Given in Honor of Mrs. George Piersol

DHILADELPHIANS will have another , Runk at Haverford Court, Haverford, reopportunity of seeing the graceful charming little Miss Constance maney, of New York, in a variety of sic dances at the dinner which the offragists of this city will give at the Walton on Tuesday to Mrs. George A. parsol, the retiring president of the woman's Suffrage party. Miss Binney, s you know, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Binney, of New York, a sleee of Mrs. George A. Dunning, of this city, and, therefore, a cousin of pretty Mrs. Billie Drayton. She is a grandniece of the late Horace Binney. Her mother was Miss Gertrude Miles, and, of course, we all know of the Miles and Tiers relationships here, so little Constance has certainty a decided famsy backing in her undertakings, and nen, too, she has beauty, charm and moe; so what more can one ask? And the does dance beautifully. It is with regret that we see Mrs. persol retiring from the field as a seder in the suffrage ranks. She has been a most efficient president and exemitye, and has had the great admiranon of her coworkers in the years she

The wee bird who told me fairly moked with delight over the tale, One of our very attractive girls, who has been at Virginia Hot Springs with her sister and other members of her family, is celebrated for "living up in the air," so to speak.

She was going to a dance last week, and decided to go down to dinner greened for the occasion. Now, the sister of said charming lady is said to sport certain garments of silk and lace at alchttime which are not on view outside of the privacy of her own room; the attentive maid, however, had made all ready for her mistress' comfort that night, and the said silk garments were ald on the bed ready to don-but she had not calculated on the other absentminded mistress, and was certainly not prepared for the apparition of said roung lady in the dining room withnot her cloak over her arm, oh! nobut sister's lace-trimmed pajamas dangling gracefully down.

Lent is having Its effect on society, though this old world goes on just the same. The only large affair in sight so fir is the entertainment for the St. Nicholas Day Nursery in the middle of the Lenten season; then there are, of murse, smaller things, but the funny thing about people is that, though they entertain and dance and prance in this season, they seem to want to do it behird closed doors, which seems a slightb inconsistent state of affairs, does it

New York women are ever leaders in doing interesting things, and this time their idea will certainly cost them more back of counters for a whole week in Gimbels' store. The idea is to benefit the convalencents, who are discharged land way.
