VAIL ASKS FAIR PLAY IN DECIDING WAGE DISPUTES

Bell Phone Company Head Against Reference to Temporary Arbiters

CLAIMS OF THE PUBLIC

Theodore N. Vall, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in the annual report to the stockholders, made public this morning, makes a plea that the matter of "centrol and regulation" of public utilities, which takes in the wages paid to employee, discusses the control of the company of paid to employes, disputes between the workers and the companies, should be lodged with the same bedy for settlement that regulates the company in the matter of rates, etc., and not with a separate body, such as an arbitration board or other temporary bodies. "When bodies of control and regulation consider costs and sources of revenue," says Mr. Vail, "they consider wages not primarily as to their sufficiency or equity, but in an inclusive way with other expenses to assure themselves that costs are not excessive. If these bodies were author-ized to intervene in disputes where wages and working conditions were concerned, they would consider them concretely, both as to sufficiency and equity, and as a dominant factor in adjusting revenue.

"To gain the object or to enforce de-mands by combination and arbitrary action causing suspension, partially or wholly, of service, to the great incon-venience of the public, should not be pos-sible. Such action on the part of emplayes of a 'public utility' is as unjustiflable and unpardonable as would be an arbitrary suspension of service by the utility. It is an exercise of arbitrary power, a disregard of the interests of the public, which should not be allowed in

"In the present state of public opinion, which has almost if not quite the force of common law, there is no reasonable dispute that should not be settled by common agreement, and when that fails the side which is disappointed and believes that it has a good case should be willing to leave its case to a body having power.

In speaking further of the necessity of illness. Mrs. Bulmer is a stater of James continuity of service, Mr. Vail says that 'to preserve the right of the public to a continuous and dependable service, it should be under the same control and grandchildren and I great-grandchildren. regulation by the same bodies that the corporation itself is under." "This can only be properly done," says Mr. Vall, "by one and the same body, which must have jurisdiction over all factors involved—and therefore the only logical body to regulate and protect public service employes is that which regulates the 'public tutility' itself and has the responsibility to the public for this regulation."
