NANCY WYNNE CHATS ABOUT THE JENKINTOWN BRANCH OF AID WORK

The Emergency Relief Work on the Reading Is Being Considerably Augmented by a Number of New Members—Miss Draper Recites This Afternoon

THE work of the Emergency Aid Relief Committee of Jenkintown, which is of course devoted to the war sufferers, has been greatly augmented in recent weeks, and many members of the younger set have joined the ranks of workers for the suffering soldiers in 14 different countries now. Just think of it; 14 countries at war! Could anything be more horrible? The meetings of the Jenkintown branch are conducted from the country place of Dr. Richard Harte, at Abington, under the direction of Mrs. Henry Middleton Fisher. Last month 4000 bandages, dressings and sponges were sent to a hospital in Belgium.

To raise funds to carry on this splendid work, it has been decided to give a carnival in Jenkintown the end of this month, under the direction of the Academy of Talent. A number of women have given their names as patroneases of the affair. They are Mrs. Frank A. Bachman, Mrs. Joseph S. Bunting, Mrs. George A. Bauer, Mrs. Robert P. Birdsong, Mrs. Benjamin T. Britt, Mrs. Lewis Bremer, Mrs. Sumner H. Cross, Mrs. Charles H. Cullen, Mrs. J. F. McDonnell, Mrs. J. Howard Ervien, Mrs. Frank Flavell, Mrs. Henry Middleton Fisher, Mrs. Robert Newlin Fell, Mrs. John S. Gayley, Mrs. George O. Haney, Mrs. Richard Harte, Mrs. Joseph Lukens Jones, Mrs. Howard A. Loeb, Miss Mary W. Lippincott, Mrs. William Nice, Jr., Mrs. John Conyngham Stevens, Mrs. Samuel L. Schively, Mrs. Thomas E. Shoemaker, Mrs. Herbert K. Taylor, Mrs. William B. Thomas and Mrs. L. R. Wood.

Some among the new members of the relief are Miss Nan Kent, Miss Marguerite Sill, Miss Ellen Herkness, Miss Isabel Stevenson, Miss Mary Viele, Miss Katherine Viele, Miss Dorothea Jennings, Miss Lillian Hunter, Miss Dorothy Campbell and Miss Mildred Fetterolf.

The opera last night was as usual a brilliant affair, for all the stay-at-homes and those who have returned from the South and West turned out in gala array for the joy of hearing Caruso in "Il Pagliacci." Hackneyed though the opera is, there are those who will go any length to hear the prologue and the famous "Ridi Pagliacci," and certainly it was hard last night to realize that Lent had really come upon us. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Hutchinson, Jr., entertained a charming boxful of young people, including Eugenia Cassatt, Lisa Norris, Mary Bohlen, Danny Hutchinson, Evans Tucker and Penn Smith, Jr. They all left for the Ritz for supper and dancing afterward.

There were beautiful gowns worn, though not many new ones graced the horizon, as the season is well nigh over.

This afternoon society will hasten with happy feet to the Little Theatre, where Miss Draper, who is the guest of Miss Florence Caldwell during her stay here, will appear in a series of monologues. And by the way, I think the posters announcing this fact are among the most attractive ones I have ever seen. She is certainly a delightful person and I hope we will soon be able to hear her again.

I hear the Willie Whelens had a bad time traveling in southern California; indeed they went through a most thrilling experience in the recent floods.

At one time on a motor trip, the water was three inches deep in the machine. They had to ford streams where the bridges had been swept away. Mrs. Whelen has been writing the most interesting letters to a number of her friends about it all. They expect to return home about April 1. I understand, and are at present in San Francisco. NANCY WYNNE.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH CLUBS TO GIVE PURIM PLAY THIS WEEK

Three Thousand Jewish Children to Be Given a Delightful Treat—To Be a Feature of the Annual Purim Festival—Other Affairs

THE Council of Jewish Clubs, the largest juvenile Jewish organization in this city, will present its annual Purim play and concert Sunday afternoon, March 19, at the Alhambra Theatre, 12th and Morris streets. Purim is celebrated every year on the 14th day of Adar by the Jews of the entire world. This year the holiday will begin on Saturday evening, March 18, and end at sunset on March 19. On Saturday evening the story of Esther is read in every synagogue. The feature of this festival, as in past years, will be the Purim affair given to the 3000 junior members by the Council of Jewish Clubs at the Alhambra Theatre. The play will be given by the members of the uptown affiliated clubs, and the musical numbers by the various members of the other clubs.

The Council of Jewish Clubs was organized in November, 1913, by Rabbi B. L. Levinthal, chief orthodox rabbi of this country. At the present time there are 33 clubs, each consisting of more than 25 Jewish children.

All the clubs send two delegates to a junior branch which holds separate meetings at the Young Women's Union, 428 Bainbridge street. The senior branch consists of the leaders and teachers. There are also six Sabbath schools, one Sunday school and one free school of music maintained by the council.

The officers of the organization are: president, Mr. Allen A. Levinthal; vice president, Mr. Louis A. Milkman; recording secretary, Miss Elizabeth Rosenmen; financial secretary, Miss Sadie Miller, and treasurer, Mr. Bernard J. Markowitz. Rabbi Levinthal is the chairman of the board of advisers; Mr. Louis E. Levinthal, solicitor and counselor. The honorary members consist of Miss Stella Rosenbaum, Miss Jane Goldberg, workers at Young Women's Union, and Miss Juliet Greenwald.

The Coterie Club will hold its annual dance this Friday evening at Horticultural Hall. The color scheme of the decorations will be blue and gold, the colors of the club. Elaborate details have been worked out by the committee. The orchestra will be screened by an embankment of palms and ferns giving way on either side of the stage to two large arches. Between the halves there will be specialty numbers by Mr. Edward Uphoff and Mr. Norman Cranage, and a soprano solo by Miss Muench. Unique novelties have been provided for the guests throughout the evening in conjunction with the dances.

The following members constitute the club: Mr. Clifford Koelle, Mr. Horace Koon, Mr. Edward Pike, Mr. F. Edwin Poulterer, Mr. Edward Haines, Mr. J. Horace Gerhab, Mr. Stanley B. MISS ESTELLA S. KATLIN

In order to raise funds with which to help carry on the good work of the Mount Sinai Hospital, the "Friends," an auxiliary of the hospital, are making final plans for a concert and dance, which they will give at the Parkway Auditorium, Parkway Building, Broad and Cherry streets, Sunday evening, March 19. The committee in charge of the affair has worked hard, and a great success is anticipated. Colored lights, flowers and palms will be used as a decoration for the hall. New songs and solo dances will be the principal features during the concert which will precede the dance. The committee has been very fortunate in securing the services of a few performers who are with the musical shows now in town. Dancing will commence at 11 o'clock. Two orchestras will play the dance music, one brass and one string. A souvenir will be presented to every one present.

The Mount Sinai Hospital, situated at 5th and Reed streets, is at present in great need of funds. It is more than overcrowded, and it is found necessary to enlarge the place in order to accommodate the urgent needs of the surrounding community. Being situated in a densely populated section of the city, hundreds of people are dependent upon this institution. The hospital caters to all, regardless of color or nationality. It is for this reason that the "Friends," an auxiliary composed of members living in the community, are making every effort that this be one of the most successful affairs this year. The committee in charge includes: Chairman, Miss Minnie Rosenthal; secretary, Miss Rose Liebster; chairman of advertising, Miss Estella S. Katlin; chairman of refreshments, Miss Sarah Gruber. Miss Gruber will be assisted by Miss Katherine Largeman, Miss Rose Shapiro, Miss Fannye Oxman and Miss Rose Balaity.

The tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goldblatt, of 3443 North Sydenham street, Tioga, was celebrated this week. The color scheme was green and yellow.
