

ILLUSTRATED Evening Ledger

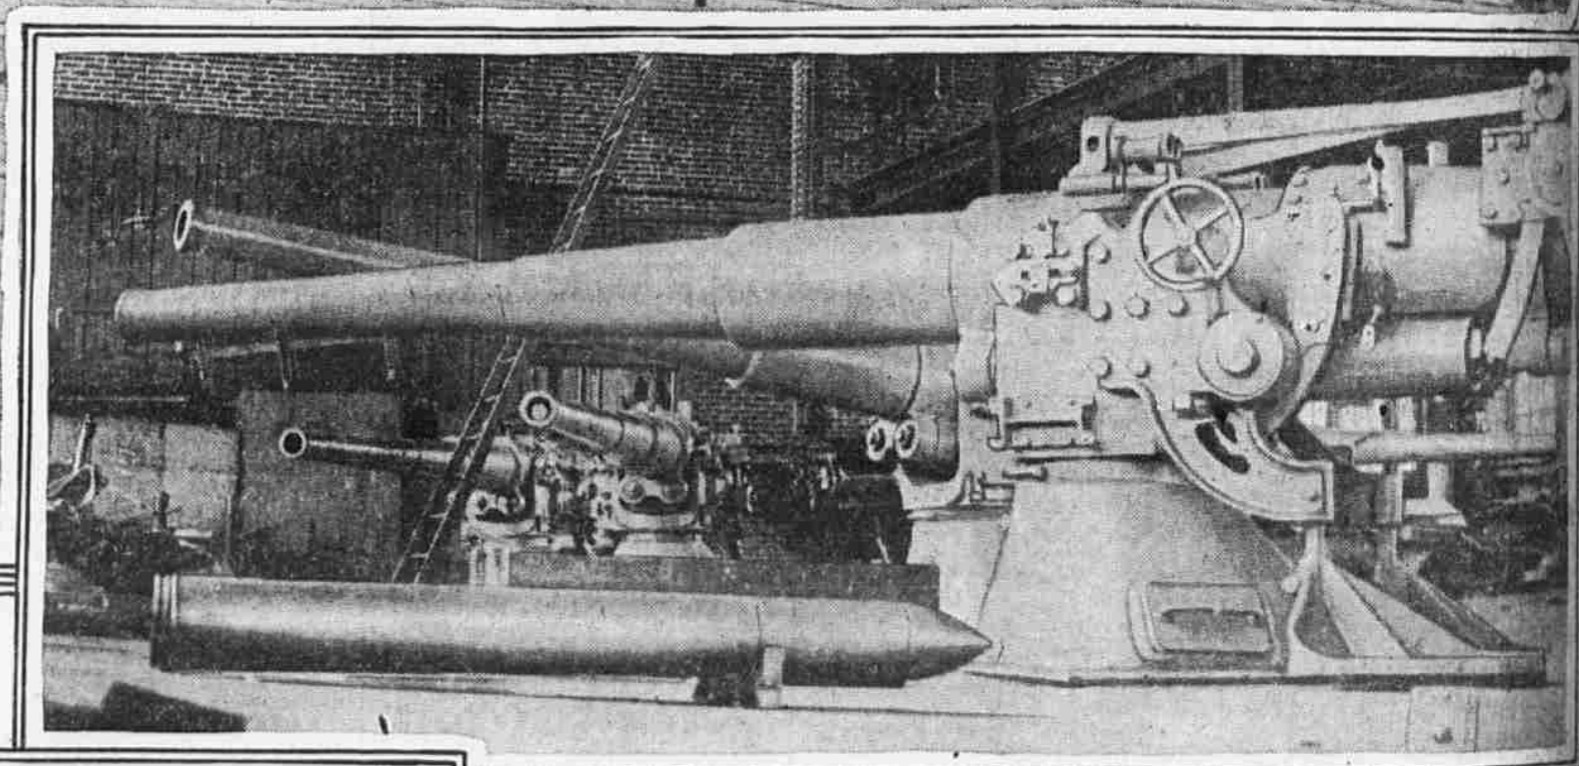

MONDAY
March 20, 1916

TIMELY SIDELIGHTS ON THE DAY'S OUTPUT OF NEWS FROM A THOUSAND SOURCES

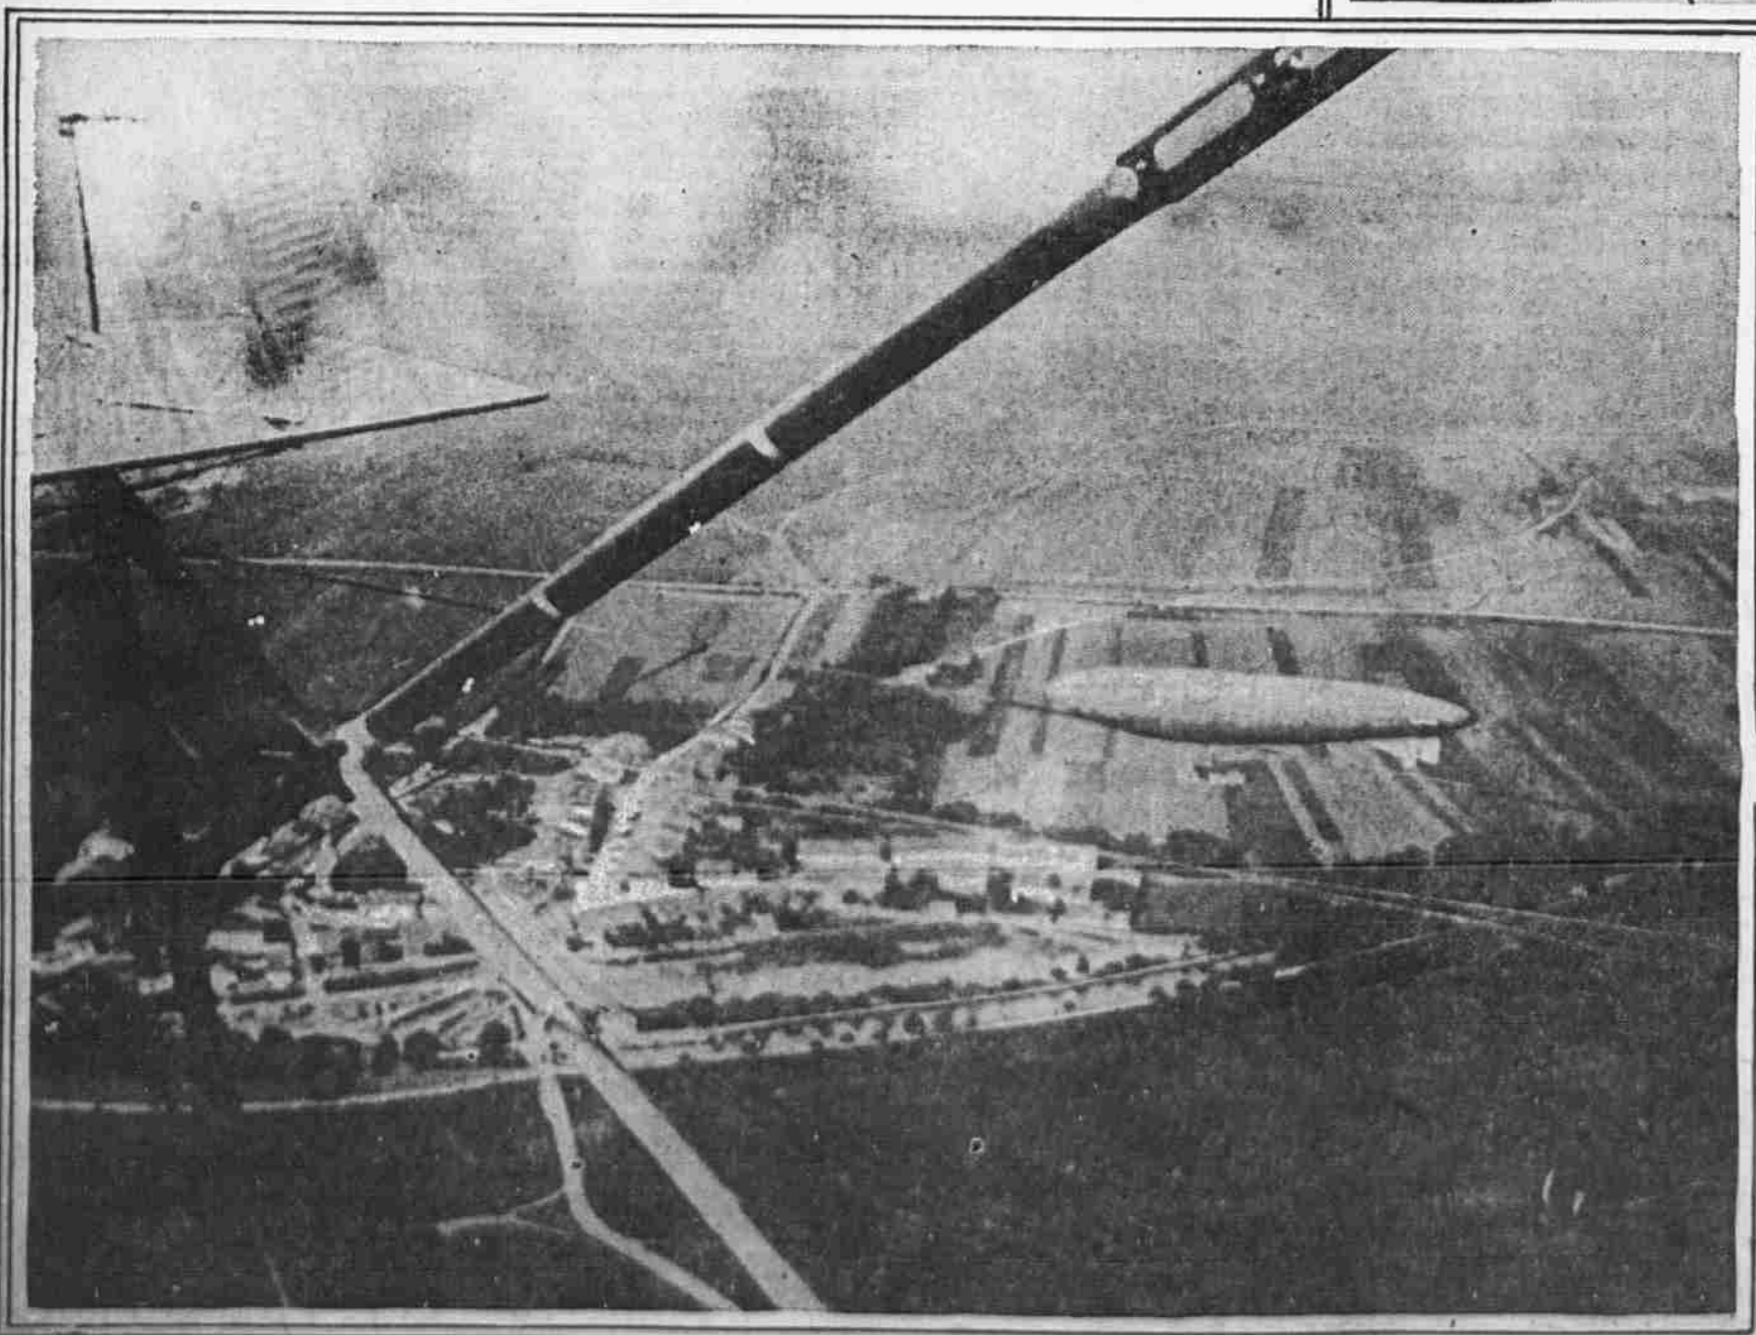

JUNIOR PENN CREW IN PRACTICE ROW ON ICY RIVER

Coach Wright is seen shouting directions through a megaphone. The thermometer recorded 10 degrees when this was taken, and ice formed on the blades of the oars almost as soon as the shell struck the water.

"PREPAREDNESS" MATERIAL AT THE NAVY YARD

A glimpse of the naval guns and shells which are being put into readiness in a League Island shop against possible contingencies.

FRENCH DIRIGIBLE AND AEROPLANE MAKE TRIP OVER GERMAN LINES

The balloon was photographed from its accompanying plane while passing over a town in northern France held by the enemy. The French are paying much attention to the development of dirigibles that are both fast and light.

THE LATEST: HATS PAINTED TO ORDER

Miss Charlotte Wolf, a San Francisco artist, has launched a new fashion in the shape of hats painted in any desired design or color.