Conference Will Consider Arms Course for High Schools of City Today

Prominent men of Philadelphia have signed a call to public-spirited citizens to attend a conference today relative to the Incorporation of a system of military training in local high schools and for the discussion of other educational matters of areat Importance to the youth of the city. The conference will be held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel at 3:30 o'clock in the Hundreds of influential men of this city have been invited and are expected to attend. The greatest stress will be laid at the conference on the advantages of military training in high schools. It is believed by the men backing the movement that there is no better way to inculcate in the minds of the youth of the land a spirit of patriotism and a recognition of the responsibilities of the individual than by a carefully considered course in military science in conjunction with rational physical and intellectual training. It is proposed to introduce a system of instruction in calisthenics, military formation and Hundreds of influential men of this city tion in calisthenics, military formation and drill and lectures on the duties of citizenship into high schools.

Some of the prominent men who will Some of the prominent men who will attend the conference today are Alba B. Johnson, ex-Attorney General John C. Bell, Richard M. Cadwalader, Dr. Joseph Leidy, John Gribbel, Judge J. Willis Martin, Joseph B. McCall, J. Levering Jones, Judge Charles L. Brown, George Wentworth Carr, T. ROBERT R. DEARDEN 71 TODAY

Observes Anniversary by Attending Strictly to Business

Robert B. Dearden is 71 years old to-say, but that will not make any difference in the way he spends the day. He will be at his publishing office in Walnut street at the usual time and then spend a quiet tvening at home. No special festivities have been planned to observe the anni-

Mr. Dearden is in excellent health and Mr. Dearden is in excellent health and maintains most of the activities that have distinguished his long life. He has been prominent in reform politics, serving several terms in the Legislature, and has taken an important share in the work of many civic organizations. His home is in toak Lane.

Women Win in Jersey Election

Miss Anna Clement, formerly principal the girls' intermediate department of the Friends' School, 15th and Race streets, and Mrs. Anadora C. Morrison are being congratulated today on the announced resuits of the annual election of the Na-tional Park, N. J., borough school board, in which they set a precedent by being elected, being the first women to defeat the Republican organization. William Shourds and Edward Allen also were chosen at the election, which was held Tuesday night.
