"AS YOU THINK IN YOUR HEART," SO ARE YOU IN YOUR WORK

You Start With Habits in Thinking—You mold your own life with the efforts of your own mind. It is neither heredity nor environment that settles your fate. Every unfavorable condition may be overcome by your methods of thinking. You possess the power to create habits of right thinking, which habits will lead to the overcoming of every difficulty. You think courage and your fear is gone. When filled with optimism, you do not despair. If you are determined you are never indifferent. If you think along honest lines, you cannot be dishonest. Insist on perfec-tion, and you will not have imperfection. Success starts in right thinking. Failure comes when you think you cannot succeed. It is the positive qualities which succeed; it is the negatives which fail. "There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so."

dualities which succeed; it is the negatives which fail. "There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so." From Your Habits of Thinking You Go to Habits of Acting—The world judges you by what you do. Your acts are the telltales of your inner life. Your action habits are but the reflection of your thinking habits. You can mount up to success in action only after you have thought out the ways to get success. "As you think in your heart," so are you in your work.

Create Good Habits at Will-Good habits are the only kind worth Create Good Habits at Will-Good habits are the only kind worth while; they bring success. Bad habits bring failure. Substitute for wrong habits of thought the positive, right habits of thought. Desire the best and you will absorb it from everywhere. Correct your thinking first, and your action habits will correct themselves. Break Bad Habits at Will-You break bad habits not by trying to break them but by making and habits. The breaking of undesirable break them, but by making good habits. The breaking of undesirable habits of thinking, followed by action of like kind, is accomplished only by living in an improved atmosphere of thought. You can never elim-inate fear, for example, until you are filled with courage. You will be filled with courage when you think courage all the time. Thus is the habits of fear broken hiled with courage when you think courage all the time. Thus is the habit of fear broken. Our Destiny is Shaped by Our Habits—The whole outcome of life is but the sum total of our habits of thought, plus our habits of action. We grow into greater usefulness to ourselves and to others, or else make our failures, through habit-making. We have the power to choose, to be successes or to be failures.

When the movies start experimenting, peculiar results are in order. They have given us "Heeza Liar," the silhouette movies, "the Trickids" and the "Cannemated Noos." Now they give us yet another innovation. The Universal has signed Ridley F. Taylor and Wilkins W. Wheatley for an unlimited series of "manikin pictures."

The manikin films will be, in a way, after<sup>8</sup> the fashion of the animated car-toons. But the kids in the neighborhood were under production. The work of making the average and mated cartoon is tiring even to consider. Each of the characters has to be drawn by itself and to register an expression each of the features has to be drawn again and again in the various stages of its development. A cartoon with from 7000 development. A cartoon with from 7000 to 10,000 individual drawings is not unusual. The new system, however, will employ automata, each able to assume the de-sired positions and able to do not only what the living actor can do, but many things of which the animate player is incapable.
